Ticker Tape Snowstorm For Cooper

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of New Yorkers cheered astronaut Gordon Cooper today along Broadway in a tumultuous ticker tape parade—the city's salute to national heroes.

Tape, confetti and torn paper swirled from skyscrappers in the city's tribute to smiling Air Force major who last week orbited the earth 22 times.

The crowd along Lower Broadway alone was estimated unofficially at two million.

The cheering sometimes seemed to verge on the point of hysteria.

Crowds jammed the sidewalks on the "Canyon of Heroes" and workers leaned from office windows, shouting their acclaim.

A crowd swarmed around Cooper's open car at the very start of the parade from Bowling Green to city hall.

Even before the 20-car motorcade reached Bowling Green, the official starting point, the crowds along the streets were in a turmoil. Police had difficulty clearing the way.

IN REAR OF CAR

The slim spaceman sat in the rear of the car, smiling and waving as the police struggled with the throngs.

Dozens of persons broke through the police lines, shouting, "Hello, Coop," "Wonderful job, "Coop," and "Go, go, Gordon."

"This is wonderful, exciting he was heard to remark. "This is great stuff."

Brilliant, sunny weather favored the celebration.

Homemade signs appeared all along the way, with messages such as "Coop is tops" and "Super Cooper."

The ticker tape parade, lasting about a half-hour, ended officially at city hall where Mayor Robert F. Wagner was to present the city's medal of honor to Cooper.

WITH JOHNSON

Then the parade was to continue on up Manhattan to the Waldorf-Astoria for the luncheon.

The accolade had begun when the spaceman's airplane landed at LaGuardia Airport from Washington.

The astronaut was accompanied by his family and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A red carpet had been rolled out for them.

A loud roar from spectators greeted the smiling Cooper as he stepped from the plane.

Mrs. Hattie Cooper, the astronaut's mother, also was in the party.

The 36-year-old major from Shawnee, Okla., told hs welcomers at the airport:

"Small-town boys know you are indeed a success when you're invited to a parade in New York City. It is a great honor and I thank you all very much.

"Now, I want to introduce my wife, Trudy, on my left, and my mother, Mrs. Hattie Cooper, on my right."

He also introduced his daughters, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13.

Cooper came here fresh from the cheers of thousands of persons in Washington, the praise of President John F. Kennedy and thunderous applause from a joint session of Congress.

Supervisors Reshape Transit Bill To Provide For Needs Of County

Marin County's Board of Supervisors yesterday put some meat on a skeleton bill introduced recently by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) to establish a Marin County Transit District.

Bagley introduced a bill copied quickly from one used for the City of Stockton, but which didn't pertain closely to the needs of Marin County, merely to have something in the hopper in time for action.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire handed the supervisors seven pages of proposed changes, in effect writing a brand new bill.

He said Bagley assured him the measure would be handled as a piece of local legislation with no major roadblocks.

The proposed district, which could not be formed unless the voters approved, would be authorized to buy out existing transit systems, build a new transit system, or subsidize existing private companies.

The supervisors agreed with McGuire on all basic items.

The district could levy a five-cent tax per $100 assessed valuation. Bonds amounting to 20 per cent of the district valuation could be floated, and could be approved by a 60 per cent vote of the people.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked why the usual two-thirds vote requirement wasn't inserted for bond approval. McGuire answered that the trend in the state is toward making bond issues easier to pass.

Fusselman said such a provision might be ammunition to persons arguing against formation of the district itself, when an election is held.

The proposed law also makes the supervisors the directors of the district.

Before formation of the district, the board would be able to exclude any areas of the county which would not be served, but the boundary line could not split a city. Provisions requiring city approval for use of streets or condemnation of property within the cities were junked.

McGuire said the major controversy likely to develop would be on labor provisions, in case of a chance the district took over another service, for instance. The county's merit system ordinance is set as a guide for all employee dealings.

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo spoke up from the audience to object that the proposed five-cent tax rate would be too low. The tax would produce about $150,000 a year if the entire county were in the district.

Mentioning the chances the

MORE RATS THIS YEAR BECAUSE OF HEAVY RAIN

If rats are foraying into your yard, free rat poison is available at the agricultural commissioner's office at the Marin County Civic Center or at your local fire station, Richard T. Straw, agricultural commissioner, said today.

"We run a yearly rat extermination program around the county's waterways, but we aren't allowed to work on private property," said Straw. "We need the cooperation of residents living along creeks, where the rats are found, if our program is to be successful.

"We've had more rats this year because of the late rains. We can't begin the extermination program during the heavy rains because the poison is washed away. This spring we've only been working intermittently for the past month."

Straw said the poison, which has instructions for safe use, works well if it is poured into a shallow dish, which is then placed against a fence. "You then lay a board diagonally over the poison and rest it against the fence. This protects the poison from the bigger pets and gives the rats a sheltered place to eat, which they prefer."

Straw also advised residents not to allow debris to collect where it would attract rats.

Ambulances 'Ineffective' In Sausalito

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce officials told the city council last night that ambulance service being offered Sausalito citizens is "dangerously ineffective" and asked councilmen for a "properly manned ambulance."

In a letter signed by A. Leonard Bjorlund Jr., acting for the chamber president, the directors quoted Dr. Philip G. Huffman saying:

1. The city needs a properly manned ambulance; (2) This need will become more acute when Marin Ambulance moves north of its present Larkspur location, and (3) The city ambulance can be properly and effectively manned by policeman and/or fireman properly trained in first aid, a training which Huffman has offered and will continue to offer firemen and police.

The council already followed Huffman's advice, Mayor Paul Micou told the audience, when it was decided to not run the ambulance except when two firemen were available to man it. Huffman recommended, said Micou, that it would be better to send for an outside ambulance with two men than to take a chance with having just

Aid To Needy Children Bills Gain

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation aimed at improving the administration of the state's Aid to Needy Children program cleared the Assembly unanimously today.

The bills, by Sen. James Cobey, (D-Merced), were a result of the report of California's Welfare Study Commission.

They would:

1. Specifically define the duties of the county welfare departments and district attorneys offices in ANC child support cases. The welfare department would be required to persuade absent fathers to support their children.

2. Improve communications between the courts, the county welfare departments and the district attorney's offices.

3. Require fines in ANC cases to be used for support of the children.

Assembly Votes End To 'Frill Courses'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today voted 63-3 for legislation designed to end what the author called "frill courses" in the public schools.

The measure by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) would eliminate the state requirement for such courses as morals, manners and citizenship, public safety and accident and fire prevention.

Three Cents Trimmed From County Rate

Marin County Auditor Michael Mitchell today lopped three cents off his estimate of the county tax rate for the next fiscal year today after taking a second look at the preliminary budget submitted to the board of supervisors.

Mitchell had previously predicted a tax rate of $2.48 per $100 assessed valuation for the proposed budget of $16,234,535. Present tax rate is $2.07.

"Because of a tightening in the expenditure of unappropriated reserve funds, which began last April," Mitchell said today, "I find we will have about $96,000 more than expected in carry-over funds.

"This will mean that the tax rate will probably be $2.45 instead of the $2.48 which I estimated earlier."

County Administrator Alan Bruce still maintained, however, that it is "too early to make an estimate of the tax rate. There are too many unknowns at this time."

The predicted tax rate does not include a probably library district tax of 14 and one-half cents for a county library budget of $314,440.

In the 211-page preliminary budget which Mitchell and Bruce submitted yesterday to the board, an increase of about two million dollars is proposed over the current budget of $14,217,000.

There will be more county employees next year, according to the proposed budget. At present the total is 772, and the new budget calls for 815. In 1961-62 there were 737 county employees.

Mitchell expects the total assessed valuation for Marin

Hub Schools Ask Bonds, State Loan

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night resolved to ask voter approval next fall for bonds and a state loan to finance classroom construction and an increase in the tax rate to beef up the operating budget.

The amount of bonds and state loan were not set. Neither was the tax increase.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said bonds and loan would cover construction of a new school on the recently acquired Sunny Hills property and additional classrooms at Hidden Valley School.

Construction would probably start on Sunny Hills late in 1964 or early in 1965, he said.

Present general purpose tax is $1.80 per $100 of assessed valuation. The board made no decision on the increase needed here, but Parodi said it would probably be about 40 to 45 cents.

The district this year also levied 49 cents in "over-ride" taxes and 35 cents for bond redemption, for a total rate of $2.54.

The board's decision to call the election came after Parodi reported 14 to 15 additional classrooms will be needed within five years.

Fairfax Schools Set $175,000 Bond Issue

Fairfax School District trustees last night set $175,000 as the amount of a bond issue to be sought in a June 11 election.

The issue would help finance a $420,000 building program.

The remainder, explained Supt. Homer Sisk, could be paid from state loan authorization received from the voters in 1956. More than $400,000 of this remains unused.

The district proposes to build seven more classrooms and acquire additional land including a site for junior high school.

Passage of the bond issue will not raise the current 45 cent tax rate for bonds and loans, Sisk said. The general purpose tax in the district is $2.05. Over-ride taxes this year totaled an additional 16 cents.

Russia Tells What It'll Pay Toward U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union served notice today that beginning this year it will refuse to make payments for certain parts of the regular U.N. budget.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the General Assembly's 111-nation budgetary committee that his country would decline to help pay for:

1. Any interest or principle on the U.N. emergency bond issue.

2. Expenses of the U.N. commission for the unification and rehabilitation of Korea or the U.N. memorial cemetery in Korea.

3. The U.N. truce supervision organization for Palestine.

4. The U.N. field service, which provides personnel for various peacekeeping missions.

Fedorenko also said the Soviet Union will no longer pay its share of the budget devoted to the regular U.N. technical assistance program, but will make voluntary contributions for technical assistance financed outside the budget.

'Boy Logger' Is Still Under Probation Wing

The probation department will continue to work with Vern Bristol, 16, of Mill Valley, whom residents of Blithedale Canyon where he lives have termed a "public nuisance."

Walter H. Busher, chief county probation officer, told this to a dozen residents of the canyon area last night.

Busher, invited to speak at the home of Robert Warnick, said the "boy logger" is under supervision of the juvenile court for an allegation which pre-dates the public nuisance charge.

He is under instruction, as with all citizens, Busher said, not to violate any law.

The youth, son of Mrs. Clara Bristol, was charged May 1 by 47 residents with disturbing the peace by running a chain saw on Sunday, violating the zoning ordinance, collecting junk and damming up the creek.

Mrs. Bristol, the boy's mother, has replied to these charges saying that her son is not guilty of the charges and neighbors have "put a chip on his shoulder."

Supervisor Redistricts Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly, without a word of debate, today unanimously passed a bill requiring that county supervisorial districts be reapportioned every 10 years in line with shifting populations.

The vote sent the bill by Assemblyman Alfred E. Almquist (D-San Jose) to the Senate.

POPE CANCELS AUDIENCE, SEEMS TO HAVE RELAPSE

Later Appears On His Balcony For Blessings

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII, looking wan and tired, and apparently suffering a relapse from a persistent internal disorder, canceled a scheduled general audience on his doctor's orders at the last minute today.

Two of Italy's leading physicians spent the night in the Vatican as a precaution. Despite cancellation of the general audience, the aging pope made a brief appearance on a balcony above St. Peter's Square, and then retired to begin a period of complete rest.

Vatican sources said the two doctors spent the night in the Vatican because of the pope's condition.

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

A Vatican announcement later said the general audience was canceled "as a precaution" which followed "the suggestion of his doctor," Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, the pope's principal physician.

Italian newspapers said the pope's condition has been "visibly deteriorating" in the past few days. They said he suffered a relapse of the internal disorder, which the Vatican has described as anemia and gastric trouble.

There has been no official comment one way or the other on press reports that the pope actually has cancer. The pontiff has had a series of "ups" and "downs" in his illness, and today appeared to be one of his "down" periods.

CROWD APPLAUDS

The pontiff later appeared on the balcony of his apartment and gave his blessing to 25,000 cheering, applauding persons gathered below in St. Peter's Square.

There was no announcement whether the pope had suffered a setback from the anemia and gastric trouble that kept him in bed last November.

But Dr. Gasbarrini, who lives in Bologna, made no immediate plans to leave for Rome, indicating that the situation was not critical.

The 81-year-old pontiff, who spent about five minutes at the window overlooking the huge square, made no mention of his illness.

Udall Is Worried Quakes Might Hit Bodega Head Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has declared his grave concern that damage from a future earthquake could make the Bodega Head nuclear-powered reactor a hazard to health and safety.

Udall made public yesterday a letter to Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, urging "very thorough investigation of the seismic hazards of the Bodega Head site."

Udall contended such an investigation should be carried out "before any construction permit can safely be granted."

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of San Francisco has applied for a license to construct and operate a 325,000-megawatt nuclear-power reactor at Bodega Head. The site lies about 1,000 yards from the San Andreas fault zone.

Commenting on Udall's letter, President Norman R. Sutherland of PG&E said in a statement:

"At the start of the project, PG&E retained several nationelly recognized authorities on geology and seismology to report on the foundation and safety of the site.

"These experts informed the company that the site is suitable and safe.

"All of this evidence will be presented to the Atomic Energy Commission when it holds its public hearing in Santa Rosa. When all of the evidence has been submitted and considered we are confident that our position will be completely confirmed."

Udall offered the AEC the services of the Geological Survey for investigating the seismic risk.

Udall supplied Seaborg with comments by the directors of the Geological Survey and Bureau of Mines, the research geologist of the National Park Service, the assistant secretary for fish and wildlife, and a special report by the director of the radiobiological laboratory of the Buerau of Commercial Fisheries.

The secretary listed "our three main areas of concern" as:

"(1) Probable adverse effects on coastal fisheries in event of accident, (2) possibilities of adverse effects on public use of the new Point Reyes National Seashore, and (3) seismic hazards that would be involved in locating a major nuclear reactor in close proximity to the San Andreas earthquake fault."

"With regard to points (1) and (2)—barring major seismic event — with continuous and vigilant monitoring, adverse effects can probably be held well below the radiological limits that have been officially established to safeguard public health and safety. But with regard to point (3), I feel there is reason for grave concern."

He pointed to a section of the company's "preliminary hazards report," prepared by a consulting geologist. This said, in part, "at least one and perhaps two or more major earthquakes can be expected near the site within the next century. These may be as strong or even somewhat stronger than the California earthquake of April 18, 1906."

The secretary also recounted that the commissioner's advisory committee on reactor safeguards has prepared a report which "takes note of the location as an active seismic area, observes that the reactor building and the turbine building are to be anchored in different geological formations which may introduce stress effects during and subsequent to violent earth shocks, and suggests the need for design of earthquake-induced reactor shutdown apparatus along with isolation of the primary system."

"If this matter involved no more than construction of a conventional thermal electric plant, the seismic hazards might be tolerable," Udall wrote.

"But the proposed nuclear-power installation planned with ultimate expansion to 1,000-megawatts capacity in mind would multiply these hazards many fold. The hazards I am most concerned about are to public health and safety, but one cannot completely overlook the government's further legal obligation to pay 'indemnification' up to 500 million dollars per nuclear instant for any casualty damage in excess of 60 million dollars and for any property damage in excess of 60 million dollars that might occur in the event of nuclear power plant accident from whatever cause."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Stockholders Livid Over Liz Pay

NEW YORK (UPI)—An announcement that actress Elizabeth Taylor can expect to make nearly 10 million dollars from the film "Cleopatra" turned the normally staid annual stockholders' meeting of the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. into a catcalling, whistling session yesterday.

Taylor

The announcement, made by company president Darryl F. Zanuck, also was greeted by a demand from stockholder Evelyn Davis for the person responsible for the actress' "ridiculously large contract."

"It was her going price," Zanuck explained.

Stockholder Gloria Parker got into a pushing, screaming argument with Miss Davis when Miss Parker suggested that the film star be made a member of the board of directors because "this girl has done a lot for our corporation . . ."

State To Sell Water Bonds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—State treasurer Bert Betts has been authorized to sell the first 150 million dollars of the 1.75-billion-dollar bond issue for the California Water Project, authorized by the voters in 1960.

Betts said he might sell 100 million dollars worth in June, depending on market conditions.

The permission was given yesterday by the Water Resources Development Finance Committee.

Church Acts Against Race Bias

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The United Presbyterian Church, in a series of sweeping constitutional proposals, has moved to end social and economic discrimination against Negroes by local churches.

By an overwhelming voice vote, the assembly last night sent down to presbyteries a series of proposed constitutional changes that would require local churches to admit persons to membership and fellowship without regard to "origin, color or worldly condition."

African Unity Meeting Starts

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, (UPI) — Leaders of 31 African nations from the Mediterranean to Madagascar gathered today for a summit meeting to lay plans for African unity.

Selassie

President Kwane Nkrumah of Ghana told a foreign ministers' meeting prior to the summit that Africa must "unite now or perish."

The 29 heads of state or government attending also include United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, and the host, Ethopian Emperor Haile Selassie. Two other nations, Morocco and Libya, are represented by lower-ranking delegations. Also attending is President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Bourguiba

Colonialism and demands for a stronger voice in the United Nations are among the topics for discussion and action. But African unity will have precedence in the four-day meeting.

Professors Ask Ban Be Lifted

BERKELEY (AP)—Professors at the University of California in Berkeley sent a note of "modest reprimand" to the Board of Regents yesterday asking that a ban against Communist speakers on campus be lifted.

The board's long-standing policy against permitting Reds to speak on the California campus has been under attack for some time by the Berkeley chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors.

The Representative Assembly of the Faculty Academic Senate passed a formal resolution at a Monday meeting, calling for the lifting of the speaking ban.

Dairy Agrees To Sell Property

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Foremost Dairies, Inc. says it will sell 14.4 million dollars of its Eastern properties to Motec Industries, Inc., of New York and Martin Century Farms, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The sales, subject to approval of the Federal Trade Commission, are an important step in compliance with a recent divestiture agreement reached by Foremost with the FTC.

Under it, Foremost agreed to divest itself of about one-quarter of its yearly sales, or about 100 million dollars.

The properties being sold accounted for 40 million dollars of Foremost's sales volume in 1962.

Bebe Daniels Improves

Sex Education Called Mandatory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sex education in high school and instruction in contraceptive technique are mandatory because of the breakdown of parental control over teen-agers, says the president of the Planned Parenthood Federation.

Dr. Alan Guttmacher, a New York physician, told a news conference yesterday, "It is unrealistic to allow the youngsters to be burdened with an unwanted child.

"We must face facts," he added. "If we give youngsters the keys to the car and allow them to go out on their own, we must expect that some of them will go the limit."

North Korea Holding Yank Pilots

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) — Communist North Korea today refused to release two American helicopter pilots or even to disclose whether they still were alive after a forced landing on Communist territory Friday.

Russians Launch 17th Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched the 17th in a series of unmanned space satellites in a program believed preparing for a new space attempt by a man or woman.

Hail Piled 18 Inches Deep

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A Texas-sized hail storm left hailstones piled 18 inches deep in South Texas today. Crops were flattened and cars were dented by the golf-ball size stones and at least two roads were closed.

At least two persons were dead after a tornadic wind and rain storm lashed North Carolina yesterday.

An 18-inch layer of hail was reported seven miles north of Bovina, Tex., where wheat, cotton, and corn crops were damaged heavily.

Two Khrushchev Aides Ailing

MOSCOW (UPI) — Two of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputies, Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov, today were reported ill. Mikoyan's illness was disclosed last night. Informed sources said he came down with influenza April 27. Kozlov has been out of action since mid-April.

Defeat For JFK As Wheat Growers Reject Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat growers have voted strongly against stricter controls on their crops, capping the biggest campaign ever waged in the American farmlands with a stinging defeat for the Kennedy administration and its farm policies.

The administration had thrown its prestige and strength behind its program in a battle against farm groups demanding less rather than more government in agriculture.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had predicted that defeat of the plan would result in "chaotic" wheat market conditions.

The extent of the defeat in yesterday's referendum was measured by the fact that the administration proposal failed to muster a simple majority of the votes. Approval by at least 66.7 per cent of those voting was required for adoption.

Complete returns gave 547,151 for the plan and 596,943 against. The vote in favor was 47.8 per cent of the total—far short of that required.

A record outpouring of votes—particularly in the non-commercial wheat areas east of the Mississippi—overwhelmed the favorable votes cast in a small portion of the commercial wheat states of the Great Plains and Pacific Northwest.

In only one region — the southeast—did the administration plan get a heavy majority.

The plan would have required farmers to reduce 1964 crop plantings 10 per cent from this year.

Racial Dispute Progress Made, But Unrest Still High In South

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Racial unrest showed no sign of subsiding here today as more than 900 Negro students were released from jail to the custody of North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College.

But some progress was reported in racial disputes elsewhere in the state.

A court order issued at the suggestion of Gov. Terry Sanford virtually cleared three temporary jails set up in Greensboro to house more than 1,200 persons, held on various charges resulting from racial demonstrations.

More than 1,500 persons have been arrested during the last week.

The college students were placed in custody of Dr. L. C. Dowdy, acting president of the state-supported college. They were ordered to appear in court for trials beginning tomorrow.

Negro demonstrations were resumed in Raleigh, N.C., last night.

At Durham, newly installed Mayor Wense Graberek said that protest leaders had agreed to a truce while efforts are made to satisfy their major grievances. About 1,600 persons had been arrested in Durham in three days.

At Birmingham, Ala., Gov. George C. Wallace, thrusting state sovereignty into the path of federal authority, has set out to block court-ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama.

The youthful Alabama governor laid his constitutional authority on the line yesterday after the university board of trustees had agreed to admit two Negroes and U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms refused to delay the June 10 enrollment.

"I embody the sovereignty of this state," declared Wallace, a veteran of battles with the federal government, "and I will be present to bar the entrance of any Negro who seeks to enroll at the university."

On other fronts:

The simmering Birmingham racial situation remained quiet as 3,000 federal troops stood by at military bases and more than 1,300 state, county and city law enforcement officers kept watch over a 28-block area where rioting broke out May 12.

A hearing was scheduled during the day in federal court on a request for reinstatement of more than 1,000 Negro pupils suspended or expelled from Birmingham schools for taking part in anti-segregation demonstrations.

Death Sentence Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The first degree murder conviction and death sentence of William Lee Harrison, Berkeley waiter, was upheld yesterday by the State Supreme Court.

Harrison, 50, knifed to death Mrs. Doris Ann Martin, 24, Dec. 11, 1961.

Seniors Will Get Center For Awhile

The senior citizens can be happy, at least until November.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday formally agreed to rent the former California State Automobile Assn. building in San Rafael for temporary use as a recreation center.

The action took developer Harry Heifitz off the hook. He had agreed to pay the rent out of his own pocket if the county wouldn't pick up the tab.

But County Counsel G. Warren McGuire made it clear that others besides senior citizens would be allowed to use the building. He said it would be illegal to single out the senior citizens for service unless the county were operating a large number of recreational facilities.

The board also went on record that there would not be an intensive countrywide program for senior citizens in the near future. Rather, the supervisors said, the county would be willing to help local communities with their own programs.

Parks and Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson suggested that the board check with the City of San Rafael on a more permanent site for a community center. He suggested city and county might join in operation of a center in the American Legion hall.

A. J. Nieri of the Bank of Marin said today there are no plans to tear down the building, acquired by the bank from the Elks Lodge, before November.

The board referred to the Marin County Planning Council a request that the present ban on red lights on advertising signs in the county be dropped.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said that the intent originally was to reserve the color red for all danger signals. He said major objections to the ordinance have come from Standard Oil Co. He noted that cities in Marin have no such restriction, so the effect is generally lost.

He called for a uniform sign ordinance for the county and the cities.

The board agreed to start negotiations for acquiring property on Richardson's Bay to make way for proposed dredging work. The Flood Control Advisory Commission had recommended using property trades, rather than purchases, where possible, and the board concurred.

A state highway priority request list similar to that approved last year was adopted. It calls for quick action by the state on improving Highway 101 between the San Quentin Wye and the Terra Linda Interchange, especially the North San Pedro Road and Irwin Street interchanges.

Also requested soon were improvement of Tiburon Boulevard between Bel Aire and Belvedere and extension Highway 1 freeway from Highway 8 at Ignacio to north of Atherton Avenue.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors: Also

1. Waived a permit requirement for a circus in the National Guard Armory.

2. Held for study a proposal by Sir Francis Drake High School student James Johnston that selected students work part-time for individual supervisors and department heads to help them learn about local government.

3. Asked for more information on possible utility company restrictions to use of power poles for private closed circuit television lines.

4. Tentatively agreed to install tape recorded descriptions of the Civic Center, for tourists to listen to especially near the data processing machines.

5. Requested cost estimates from other counties on charging for use of meeting rooms in public buildings. Administrator Alan Bruce said the county might gain $1,000 a year by charging for rooms.

6. Approved a joint exercise of powers agreement with the state for fire protection service to Angel Island, on condition that the state provide barge transportation for fire trucks.

7. Reaffirmed an existing policy that the Marin County Fire Department not do repair work on trucks owned by other fire departments or districts.

8. Approved agreements with the state so that federal aid secondary road funds may be used for improvement of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

9. Continued until May 28 a presentation by San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis on a Bay Area planning study to be done by the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Senate Probe Is Seen Over Killed Drug Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty says a U.S. Senate subcommittee will investigate his charges that political influence killed a bill to regulate sale of the drug, Percodan.

The mayor said at a news conference yesterday that he spoke with Sen. Thomas M. Dodd (D-Conn.) by phone Monday and the latter agreed the drug situation here was serious enough to warrant a probe.

Last week Yorty charged that Eugene Wyman, Democratic state chairman, exerted political pressure to defeat the Percodan control bill in the legislature.

Wyman is legal counsel for Endo Laboratories, maker of the pain-killing drug.

The chairman denied Yorty's allegations, saying the mayor was resorting to "character assassination" because he could not control Mrs. Wyman's vote in the city council. Wyman is the husband of Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman.

Wyman accused Yorty yesterday of "usurping the duties of the attorney general and attempting to run the state government."

"I'm confident," Wyman added, "that Endo Laboratories, the legislature and anyone else whom Mayor Yorty wishes investigated, would welcome it. The results will be identical with other inquisitions arranged by him."

Yorty said he told Dodd: "When you start playing politics with dangerous drugs, this is stepping over the line."

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said that "the Percodan control bill was defeated because of lobbying activities. It will not be revived by Mayor Yorty injecting politics into law enforcement."

Mosk charged that Yorty's announcement of the Senate investigation was "premature . . . once again injecting an unwarranted attack on Mr. Wyman into a public health and law enforcement problem."

Mosk added: "Senator Dodd advises us he is disturbed at being involved in local politics but the hearings will be held shortly under public health and law enforcement auspices."

SAUSALITO

a driver for the Sausalito vehicle.

Further, the mayor said, oral examinations will be held next week to hire four more firemen. It is hoped there will be adquate manpower soon to put the ambulance in full service. Micou asked City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to review the problem with Huffman and continued the matter to June 4.

Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) told council the city has never appropriated money for bandages for the ambulance and that they are supplied by Huffman.

"It will be five months before you have a fireman," she said. She suggested that all police officers attend the first aid class given by Huffman.

Brown said Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry has worked with Marin Ambulance Service and that, if the ambulance driver does not know how to find an address, he is to pick up a policeman or fireman as escort in Sausalito.

Councilman Michael Harris reported that in the case of a fatal accident May 8, the ambulance driver got lost in the hills.

district might subsidize present services. Mrs. Azevedo said Greyhound Bus Lines have claimed loss of $300,000 a year on Marin County service.

"If the people wanted to, they could amend the bill or raise the rates for service," answered Fusselman.

County Administrator Alan Bruce added that other agencies, such as the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, might pick up part of the tab on a subsidy program.

Major Fire Prevented At Juvenile Hall

Quick action by a counselor at the Marin County Juvenile Hall today prevented a major fire in the building where 20 boys were sleeping.

Miguel Narro was one of three counselors on duty on the graveyard shift when he noticed smoke at about 3:40 a.m. Discovering a blaze in the laundry room, he called out an alarm and then entered the smoke filled room with a fire extinguisher.

A drier had caught fire, and one wall was also burning. Feeling his way through the smoke, Narro pulled the 220-volt circuit and put out flames inside the machine. Meanwhile, other counselors awoke the 20 boys in the senior boys' section and moved them to safety.

Narro was treated for smoke inhalation at Marin General Hospital.

Officials of the Marin County Fire Department set damage at $350, mostly to the drier. They said the blaze started when something placed with clothes in the machine kindled at the drier temperature.

The 20 boys were taken by the other two counselors, Mrs. Sheri Wollitz and John Guarisckl, to the junior boys' section. Beds were found for 10 of them. The rest finished the night sleeping on mattresses in the television room, according to David Fogel, superintendent at the hall.

BUDGET

to be $323,334,000 next fiscal year.

"This takes into account the increased appraisals in North Marin," he said. "Some part of the county has been reappraised for the past several years, and this is now a factor that can be pretty well estimated."

But in his preliminary budget message, Bruce states flatly that "no tax rate estimates are included since accurate computations cannot be made as yet."

He adds that "improved management over the past six years" has resulted in the "reduction of the annual average tax levy increase from 24 per cent to between 3 and 4 per cent."

"There is still room for improvement," Bruce stated, "yet it is quite possible that the major impact of improved practices has been felt, that most of the water has been squeezed out, and that the ship is now pretty tight."

Language Program Suggested

A committee of parents and teachers, after three months of study, recommended a six-step foreign language program to trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Vaughn Hill, a parent, said the program should:

1. Start this fall with 35-minutes a day in sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

2. Be broadened in the fall of 1964 to 20 minutes a day to third, fourth and fifth graders.

3. Provide for extension of the school day to compensate for additional time.

4. Give in-service training, paid for by the district, to prepare third, fourth and fifth grade teachers.

5. Be reviewed after one year to see if a second language should be taught.

6. Start with either French or Spanish.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said the cost would be $20,000 a year for the three special teachers needed to get the program started in the fall.

"We can't go that high," he said.

The board, however, was pleased with the report and will study it for discussion at a later time, Parodi said.

Petaluma Water Pact Is Approved

An addition to the water agreement between the City of Petaluma and the North Marin County Water District was approved last night by the directors of the North Marin District.

The addition clarifies the billing procedure for water used by the North Marin District which goes through the Russian River aqueduct at Petaluma.

Business Quarter In Safety Column

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — With the second quarter near the halfway mark businessmen already are counting the first half of the year as safely in the plus column.

Most of the indicators they watch point to continued gains in coming weeks. Some businessmen even hope that the usual summer slowdown will be milder this year.

But vacations are spreading, both in length and in more industries. And even the nice backlog of unfilled orders probably won't stave off a mild dip in industrial output in July or August when entire plants close down.

One of the more reassuring signs that the economy is gaining strength is that the pick-up in new industrial orders early this year was less for inventory than assumed at the time. Most of the orders were filled for immediate consumption and stocks rose only moderately.

In the present quarter inventory building may be having a larger role in the economy. This is especially true where manufacturers seek to hedge against the possibility of a steel work stoppage in late summer. Steel union leaders are meeting next week to decide their policy on negotiating with the companies.

Hopes are still high that a settlement will be reached without a strike. But many steel consumers are ordering ahead anyway, to beat either a supply shortage if there's a work stoppage, or further steel price increases if wage costs go up again.

Even industries that were still squeezed in the early months of the year are now predicting that the second quarter will see good profit gains. Most steel companies have made such predictions. And some railroads that were still operating in the red in the first three months of the year are now saying that increased freight business guarantees black-ink bookkeeping this quarter.

One indicator of things to come that has pleased businessmen is new hard goods orders. This went up sharply in the early months. Machine tool makers say the increase is continuing. Another indicator is the backlog of unfilled orders. This too has risen, if more slowly than the new orders themselves.

Large defense orders and shipments and other steadily rising government expenditures also guarantee busy months ahead for many companies.

Residential construction appears to be on the upgrade. Consumer spending in general has continued high, with auto sales a particularly bright spot.

A number of corporations have reported they intend to increase their spending soon for equipment and plant expansion, although actual construction hasn't picked up much as yet.

But all the favorable indicators add up just now to better business, higher employment totals, a fatter total of personal incomes, larger profits—and, of course, increased tax collections by the U.S. Treasury.

Drug's Side Effect Escaped Medical Attention For Years

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new medical mystery is why a dramatic "side effect" of a drug escaped the attention of physicians up to now although the drug has been in use for years.

The apparent answer is the "side effect" is so pleasant patients—especially female patients—do not report it to their doctors lest it be taken away and the doctors themselves do not look at patients as wholes but only at their ailing parts.

This "side effect" is to turn brunette hair into blonde hair, and not washed-out blonde but a lovely light golden. There's no doubt whatever it takes place, said the Welsh doctor who has the honor of being the first to report it.

Dr. John D. Spillane of the Cardiff (Wales) Royal Infirmary confessed he first noticed it by accident. He had had this woman in her late 30s taking the drug for some months when it occurred to him she "looked different" somehow.

He was unsure just how she looked different until he questioned her at some length. She was coy and finally made him realize she was a blonde now whereas before she had been a brunette.

Thereafter he kept a sharp eye on three other dark-haired women and two dark-haired men who were taking the drug under his supervision. In all of them the change took place and "it was much appreciated by the women patients who seemed inclined to keep it a secret," he said.

He found the color change from dark to light depended upon a heavy daily dose taken over a period of three months. When the drug was withdrawn, the hair resumed growing out from the scalp with its former dark color.

"There were no general ill effects," Spillane reported to the British Medical Journal.

However, there wasn't the slightest suggestion a way had been found of making this a world of blonde-haired women. The drug is used as a relaxant of skeletal muscles, as a sedative and when mixed with other drugs as a pain killer.

In high doses it can produce both unpleasant and dangerous side effects; it is a prescription drug which must be administered under a physician's close supervision. Its generic name is mephenesin.

Spillane said obviously it somehow repressed the production of the basic dark body pigment, melanin, permitting the light pigments to take over.

How it does it is unknown but Spillane is setting up experiments to find out.

Manslaughter Case May Go To Jurors

William A. Acree, 20, of Mill Valley, accused of manslaughter in the traffic death of a Kentfield youth New Year's Eve, testified this morning in his own defense.

He told a jury of eight men and four women he was driving about 65 miles per hour southbound near Marin City and was slowing down to enter the turnoff toward Sausalito and Marin City. He said he spotted two pedestrians on the traveled portion of the highway and slammed on the brakes.

"I don't remember anything after that," Acree told the jury. His next recollection was that his car was off the highway among ice plants.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, announced that the case may go to the jury tomorrow.

The car driven by Acree struck and killed Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield, and seriously injured William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur.

Dead Man's Credit Card Means Jail

Use of a dead man's credit card yesterday landed Alfred James Taylor, 36, of Tucson, Ariz., in the Marin County jail on a grand theft charge, with bail set at $3,150.

Last Aug. 29, Mrs. Mildred Schwartzberg of 721 Bradley Avenue, Novato, complained to Novato police that someone was forging the signature of her deceased husband, Lt. Col. Harry Schwartzberg, on gasoline purchases made with a credit card.

Smith and Sjoblom Standard Station in Novato honored $58 in purchases from the credit cards, said Police Chief Roy McLaren. He said total purchases made with it in California, Oregon and Washington exceeded $500.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, called into the case by Novato police, arrested Taylor in Tucson. Sgt. Robert DiGrazia of Novato police went to Tucson and returned him to Marin County.

Mrs. Schwartzberg said she has no idea of how Taylor obtained her late husband's credit card, Chief McLaren reported.

Retiring Art Teacher Says Education Is Always First

Ending 25 Years With Schools In San Rafael

By LOREN MacARTHUR

"You're a teacher first and then an artist in art education," said Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, who for 22 years has supervised the art program in San Rafael elementary schools.

Mrs. Lynch will retire next month after 25 years with the San Rafael schools. She moved from supervision of the elementary school art program in 1960 to Terra Linda High School to open the art program there.

"I wanted to see what effect the elementary school art program has had on the students now in high school," she said.

"When I studied art at the University of California (at Berkeley), it was a more formalized subject. Then teaching went 'way over to the other side, the 'draw a beautiful day' school.

"Naturally the students did not know where to begin.

"Now art teaching is in a middle ground. Students learn skills and techniques they can then use to express their creativity."

ORIENT BOUND—Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, with the San Rafael schools for 25 years, puts a few personal belongings from her classroom into her purse in preparation for her retirement. Mrs. Lyncch, who was for 22 years art supervisor for the elementary schools, plans a trip to the Orient. (Independent-Journal photo)

Discussing the old saw, "an artist is made, not born," Mrs. Lynch said: "Little children do not draw what they see; they draw what they feel. Art is a language for them. Then for a period they pull away and become critical.

"After that, around junior high age, you can see their native talent; and to be truly creative, there has to be a talent."

Mrs. Lynch believes recent emphasis on academic training for college preparation "hasn't de-emphasized art, but it has taken students from the art program. I don't think the arts should be neglected, or the child ends up one-sided."

Mrs. Lynch was born in St. Helena. Her grandfather was a pioneer in that area in 1873, and the family still has a ranch there. Her husband, the late John J. Lynch, died in 1928. "I think this has emphasized for me that girls should be prepared to earn a living even if they think they will never have to," she said.

Mrs. Lynch has two daughters. One, Mary Anne Lynch, teaches fifth grade in a San Francisco parochial school. A second, Mrs. Antoinette Simmons, lives with her husband in Salinas.

"A true artist is a very rare thing," concluded Mrs. Lynch. "I advise my students to get teaching credentials."

Mrs. Lynch's retirement plans include doing some painting and a trip to the Orient this fall with Mrs. Lewis Kerlin of Kent Woodlands.

Sausalito Eyes Fort Cronkhite

The City of Sausalito is willing to take over surplus Fort Cronkhite acreage for a park if the state or county does not do so.

The city council last night directed City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to ask the federal General Services Administration whether the state and county have made known their intentions regarding the 31.9 acres declared surplus by the Army.

"If not," said Mayor Paul Micou, "write a letter saying we're interested in it. We might effect a comprehensive plan if no one else does."

Councilman Michael Harris said he would not like to see the land become a subdivision.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors on May 14 called acquisition a job for the state, and was told by Kelvin J. Nelson, county parks and recreation director, that the state supervisor of advance planning has expressed intention to file for acquisition. The state has first choice, Marin County second, and Sausalito third.

Brown told councilmen the acreage, about three and one-half miles west of Highway 101 and the Golden Gate Bridge and fronting the Pacific is part of property the state has already announced intentions of buying. Notice of intention to procure the property must be given the general services administration by 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Yee Tock (Willie) Chee was granted a use permit to convert apartments at 561-565 Bridgeway to a retail fruit and grocery store and a variance from offstreet parking, with the understanding Chee will enter into an agreement for 12 parking spaces during daytime hours at Ondine Restaurant.

The council voted to review Ardilla Land Co.'s request for a use permit to build 180 apartments on Rodeo Hill and set a public hearing for June 4. It also continued a hearing on a variance request to June 4, the variance being from more than one building on a lot.

Councilmen said they were willing to consider a recreation commission request for use of the city's Bee Street hall as a teen-age center and asked Brown for a building condition report. City Engineer John L. Hunter reported the building in "bad repair," a fire hazard and in need of new stairs.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Reappointed James E. Muldoon to the recreation commission.

2. Endorsed Senate Bill 1123 and Assembly Bill 2245, both designed to regulate billboards along freeways.

3. Was advised the city will save $7,000 in fiscal 1963-64 in rate reduction of state employees retirement system.

4. Discussed Assembly Bill 2622, which would prohibit filling any portion of San Francisco Bay until 91 days after adjournment of the 1967 regular assembly session, and agreed to write the Assn. of Bay Area Governments saying the four-year moratorium is "too harsh," and that Sausalito, which has its pier and bulkheacs lines established, does not want state controls for filling within the lines.

5. Granted Heath Land Co. permission to divide a 361,757-square foot lot into two parcels in Marinship.

6. Granted Livermore Disposal Service Inc. a use permit for office space and truck storage in Marinship.

7. Approved a traffic turn-out area between 217 and 234 Woodward Avenue.

8. Heard from Hunter an estimate that an official city map would cost $21,350, of which he recommends $7,000 be budgeted now. Council said the finance committee will discuss this.

9. Continued indefinitely discussion on whether to rescind a council resolution establishing purchase of Shelter Cove lots or to hold a referendum vote on the purchase. Micou said the city has until April to consider putting the question on the general election ballot.

10. Asked Brown to investigate painting stop signs on pavement at dangerous intersections. Harris suggested Glen Drive and Johnson Street, and Spencer and Prospect avenues as two likely intersections.

Police Fire A Shot, Capture Suspected Auto Tamperers

One shot was fired as Corte Madera police captured two seamen on suspicion of auto tampering in front of the Madera Village Motel last night.

The shot was fired into the ground as one fled to the end of Chickasaw Court in the Madera Gardens subdivision.

Booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of conspiracy, car tampering, and illegal possession of beer were Jerrel Allen Loudon and Michael Anthony Gifford, both 20. Gifford was charged also with evading arrest.

Loudon said he lived at the Madera Village at 45 Tamal Vista Boulevard. Gifford gave his address as the troopship Montrose, on which both serve, berthed at Pier 36, San Francisco.

About 11 p.m. residents of the motel reported two youths "doing something" to a car parked in front. Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett and patrolman Charles E. Newman drove to the motel and approached the youths from opposite sides of the building.

Hockett said the two ran from the car into a field south of the motel. The officers pursued. Hockett "nearly stepped on" Loudon, lying down with a 12-inch crescent wrench in his hand. Near him were wheel and tire removed from a car owned by Michael Myron Paris of 45 Tamal Vista.

As Gifford ran from the field, Hockett cried, "Halt! You're under arrest!" and fired one shot.

Gifford was caught in front of 30 Chickasaw Court by Newman while Hockett held Loudon.

The seamen were held in $1,050 bail apiece for appearance late today in Marin Municipal Court.

FLOODS BRING HUGE ICE CUBES

Lights, Camera, Action At Capitol

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California lawmakers disclosed tentative plans today to spend as much as $150,000 to make a movie—a color production telling the inside story of what goes on in the legislature.

It's mostly for the youngsters, few of whom understand the complicated activities under the Capitol dome.

In back of the project are Assemblymen Charles J. Conrad, (R-Sherman Oaks), a professional actor, and John T. Knox (D-Richmond), a lawyer.

Knox said they'll ask the joint Rules Committee this week for $2,000 to hire a writer to prepare a complete preliminary treatment of the film.

The rest of the production cost—roughly estimated at between $50,000 and $150,000 — will be financed from donations by private sources, Knox said.

"We anticipate it will be in color and professionally done," he said.

Actors will portray legislators in closeups, although the real lawmakers will be shown at a distance.

"The primary purpose is for the school children visiting program," Knox said.

"During the session, so many kids go in the galleries for five to 10 minutes and just get a fragmentary look at the Senate and Assembly. They can't realize what's going on."

Knox envisions showing the children the film before they begin the Capitol tour. It could also be exhibited in distant schools whose students can't travel to Sacramento.

Groups of adults—who are often as puzzled as the children when confronted with legislative activities—could also see the film.

The idea was first suggested by a legislative committee on school visits to the Capitol, headed by Knox and Sen. Virgil O'Sullivan, (D-Williams).

They said the film might contain scenes covering the importance of the bills, introduced, committees and how state agencies work with the lawmakers.

It could even tell what the lobbyists do.

Knox said he hopes work on the film will begin when the legislature convenes next year for its budget session.

Brown Optimistic About Major Civil Rights Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A go-slow approach by a Senate committee wrapped a cloak of uncertainty around the 1963 legislature's major civil rights bill today.

The governor's office expressed optimism that the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, 8-3 Democratic, would approve the fair housing law advocated by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chairman Luther E. Gibson (D-Vallejo) indicated, however, that if any measure gets out, it won't be in the form the administration proposal passed the Assembly 47-24.

The bill would make it unlawful to deny private housing-rental, lease or sale to anyone because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. It would apply only to dwellings with not more than four units and occupied by the owner.

Gibson, who has said he's against the bill in principle, told a reporter he planned to take it under advisement for a week after today's scheduled hearing.

"This will give us time to get a good look at it and find out if there is any possible meeting of minds," he said.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford, (D-Berkeley) who introduced the legislation, acknowledged there may be a need for some amendments. But, referring to the Senate committee, he said, "I don't know what they want."

Rumford at one point threatened not to call the bill up for hearing if the Congress on Racial Equality persisted in announced plans to stage an all-night prayer meeting in Capitol Park.

Rumford, a Negro, protested that the outdoor vigil was not the proper approach.

"We haven't resorted to pressure tactics to get the bill through," he said. "We have to think these things out by reason."

He said if CORE carried out its demonstration, it would encourage other groups to attempt to work outside the regular legislative process.

After a meeting with Rumford, CORE leaders agreed to hold off any demonstration until the committee tells its plans.

Rumford said he's confident the Senate committee would send some type of legislation to the Senate for a vote but that he had no way of knowing whether it would be acceptable to the governor and himself.

Governor Brown told a Negro rally several days ago that "in terms of human values, no part of my 1963 legislative program is more important" than the Rumford bill.

"The plain, simple object of this legislation is to remove the ugly blight of ghettos from the face of our cities," he said.

"We believe that California can and must set an example for the rest of the nation."

State's $6,500 'Wayward Bus' Still Missing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's "wayward bus" was still missing today.

The bus, an 11-ton, 23 passenger vehicle, designed to carry state firefighting crews, was one of 11 ordered by the state from a firm in Mitchell, Ind. They left for the west on March 29.

Only 10 arrived in Sacramento, 10 days later.

E. J. Peterson, principal buyer for the purchasing division of the State Finance Department, said the missing bus was driven by Lionel Todd of Haltonville, Ind., who was given $300 in expenses for the trip.

He said the bus company will replace the $6,500 vehicle "and it won't cost the taxpayers a cent."

Mayor Backs Rights March

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mayor George Christopher has thrown the support of the city behind a parade along Market Street Sunday to demonstrate sympathy for the Negroes of Birmingham, Ala.

The mayor's backing became clear yesterday when he signed a proclamation designating Sunday as "Human Rights Day." Negro leaders witnessed the signing of the proclamation.

The mayor told the assembled Negro leaders that "you have our policemen marching with you to protect your rights . . . rather than obstructing you."

Man Is Arrested In Wife Beating

San Rafael police last night arrested Lowell Harry Smith, 38, of 601 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, on suspicion of assault, battery, disturbing the peace and felony wife beating.

Officers were called by neighbors to the home of Ruth Ellen Smith, 36, of Apt. 2, 914 Mission Avenue, at 10:41 p.m. They found Mrs. Smith with a cut near her left eye, a bruised right eye and a bruised right ear. She told officers that Smith, her estranged husband, broke the glass panel in the front door to enter her apartment and beat her.

Smith, held in county jail in lieu of $1,500 bail, was to appear in court today.

Donald Robinson was installed as president of the Novato Teachers Assn. at the final meeting of the year recently at West Novato School.

Mill Valley is host city.

Conservation Measure Passes Test

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Brown administration proposal which proponents hope will lead to conservation work for thousands of jobless boys between 16 and 21 has passed its initial test.

The Assembly Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works Committee approved the measure by Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) Monday.

Robert Hill, state youth employment supervisor, said the hope is that cities and counties will follow up the state pilot program—to cost $300,000 — with projects of their own.

He predicted as many as 70,000 to 80,000 out of work boys could be employed in the state-county-city programs.

The state forester would head the pilot program to put the youths to work on fire prevention and forest and watershed maintenance and improvement.

Drunken Driver Pays $166 Fine

Virgil Claud St. Cloud, 54, of 1752-A Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, paid $166 fine yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced St. Cloud for driving while intoxicated in San Rafael last March 3. St. Cloud will be on probation for six months.

Attempt To Change Anti-Obscenity Law Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature has closed the book on 1963 attempts to revise California's anti-obscenity law to make for easier prosecution.

The last proposed change in the 1961 law was turned down yesterday by the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee, which earlier had rejected similar bills.

Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes (R-San Diego) said after his measure was defeated that "we shall continue this fight because of the rightness of the cause. This state's anti-obscenity law has received an almost total vote of no confidence by California's district attorneys and city attorneys who say that it is totally inadequate to meet the problem."

Miss Virginia Ross of Redwood City, representing the California Library Assn., disagreed with Barnes' contention that the law makes enforcement almost impossible.

She pointed to a Los Angeles jury's decision that "Tropic of Cancer" is obscene —a decision not on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. The court presumably will rule on the California law's constitutionality.

James J. Clancy, assistant city attorney of Burbank, said juries can have trouble with the current law's definition that obscene matter "is utterly without redeeming social importance."

Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) countered that district attorneys don't really want to prosecute pornography cases, and try to avoid public criticism by claiming the law isn't strong enough.

The committee declined Barnes' invitation to look through a box of girly magazines and sexy books. Chairman Gordon H. Winton, Jr. (D-Merced) commented, "We have gone through three or four hearings on this."

Barnes proposed to:

1. Eliminate from the law the phrase that obscene matter "is utterly without redeeming social importance."

2. Redefine "knowingly" as "having knowledge of the contents" instead of "knowledge that the matter is obscene."

3. Make possession of six or more copies of obscene matter evidence of intent to distribute it.

4. Require a special decision on whether matter is obscene, separate from the verdict on those charged with selling or distributing it.

5. Set up injunctions against material courts say is obscene, and punish violators by up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Six-Story Hub Building Plan Was Rejected

Plans for a six-story building on San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo were rejected by San Anselmo planning commissioners Monday night. The building would have been the highest in town.

It was incorrectly reported on page seven of last night's Independent-Journal that the application of H. H. Huyssoon to build the six-story building at 630 and 634 San Anselmo Avenue was approved.

The commission denied three variances requested by Huyssoon, including one for height to exceed the present limit of 40 feet, a second to put apartments in the commercially zoned area, and a third for six stories instead of the present three-story limit.

One variance requested by Huyssoon was granted. The commission waived on-site parking requirements for the building provided Huyssoon deposits money with the city to be put toward a future central parking area.

Car Wires Cut

Rob Circul of 87 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police at 3:35 p.m. yesterday that someone had broken into his 1962 Corvair Monza while it was parked at Safeway Stores parking lot at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto, cutting all electrical wires.

Board To Meet On Grand Jury Report

Marin County supervisors yesterday agreed to meet next Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Civic Center to study the 1962 Grand Jury report, submitted to the board March 18.

The board will meet at 9 a.m. that day to interview applicants for the job of county building inspector.

Marinite Aids In Relentless Chase Of Bank Robber

A. J. Finocchio of Greenbrae chased a bank robber down Irving Street in San Francisco yesterday, kept on chasing after the robber's gun went off, and finally helped police catch him in an auto repair shop.

John L. Dietz, a 31-year-old gas station attendant, walked into the Bank of America Sunset branch, managed by Finocchio, at 701 Irving Street, and gave teller Bertha Bennett, 22, of San Francisco, a note. It said: "Put $3,000 on the counter or dead you will be."

The teller gave him the $3,000 plus a bonus of $1,307, then called to Finocchio, who lives at 131 Alturas Way, Greenbrae, as the robber hurried off with his loot. Finocchio and assistant bank manager Frank Costanzo gave chase.

Dietz's get-away car, which he said he had stolen earlier from the Kezar Stadium parking lot wouldn't start. He jumped out and ran. A shot sounded as Dietz's tightly held revolver went off, but the chasers kept going.

Dietz ran into an auto repair shop at 1311 Seventh Avenue as Finocchio followed, shouting: "Bank robber. Bank robber." The garage owner slammed shut the door. But then police arrived and found Dietz hiding behind an auto in the rear of the shop, his loot wrapped in a mechanic's red wiping rag and stuffed into his pockets.

"I'm due in court Friday for non-payment of alimony," Dietz said, "and decided to go for broke because I'll be in jail anyway. Dietz was held for the Federal Bureau of Investigation by San Francisco Police.

A.F., Marin Will Discuss Airport Plan

Several members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and a committee of the county's airport advisory commission will be flown by the Air Force to Colorado Springs for a discussion of a proposed county airport.

County consultants Leigh Fisher Associates, Inc. has recommended that the county build a 5,000-foot landing strip next to Hamilton Air Force Base. The consultants' report said the strip could be controlled by the Air Force base tower.

The supervisors were invited to discuss the matter with Gen. Robert E. Lee, chief of the Air Defense Command at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado.

Lee is expected to be asked what complications might arise from a private base next to a military airfield and if air activity at Hamilton is expected to decrease.

Auto Skids Off Road; Driver Hurt

A Woodacre driver was injured when his sports car skidded 210 feet and bounced off San Geronimo Valley Road yesterday.

William Patrick Maloney, 21, of 197 Central Avenue was driving east about 10:45 a.m. told the California Highway Patrol he swerved to avoid a car approaching in his lane. His auto "fishtailed," skidded into the ditch, and hit a concrete wall.

Maloney said he would seek treatment at Veterans Hospital in San Francisco for head cuts and right arm injuries.

Reed School Students Plan Courtroom Drama

"The Night of January 16" by Ayn Rand, a courtroom drama with an unusual ending, will be presented by Reed School seventh and eighth grade drama students on Friday, at 8 p.m. at the school.

An unusual feature of the play is the recruiting of 12 jurors from the audience who listen to the testimony and vote on a verdict at the end. Two endings are practiced by the cast and then one presented which corresponds to the jury verdict.

The play is based on the supposed suicide of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king and financial juggler.

In the cast are Walter Johnson, Chris Scott, Rick Conner, Mary Myers, Pam Eubanks, Charles Keppel, Quentin Thomas, Leslie Whitelaw, Jon Spicer, Tanya Golz, Margie Smetana, Bonny Cook, Carmen Schleimer, Janice Donaldson, Jane Kingston, Gurdon Leete, and Judy Wedereit.

Newell McMullen is directing the play, which is co-sponsored by the school district and the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club.

Dillon Says Economy Bright, But Cut In Taxes Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's short run economic outlook is bright, "but not perhaps so gloriously rosy as some would paint it," secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today.

"Our present economic upturn is heartening," he said. But he emphasized that the president's proposal for a substantial tax reduction this year "is our best hope of accelerating the forward pace of our economy."

Federal revenues might top estimates by as much as one billion dollars in fiscal 1964, Dillon said in remarks prepared for the sixth annual University of Connecticut Loeb Awards luncheon at which awards are given for excellence in business and financial writing.

"But," he added, "even such a result would not lead to any appreciable improvement in our employment situation. For that, we must look to tax reduction.

Somalis See Marin's Big Trees

By THERON A. NEWELL

Marin County's famed redwoods in Muir woods are the largest trees ever seen by six foresters of the Somali Republic who are visiting the United States on a three-month study tour.

They probably are the largest trees these men will see. Although called foresters, their work is more in semi-arid land management.

The six men stopped briefly at the home of Mrs. Calvin Ronhausen of 768 Clausing Avenue, Novato, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ronhausen is the daughter of Donald E. Clark of Denver, who is technical leader for the group on their tour of the United States. So it was a brief family reunion for Clark in Marin County.

Ahmed Haji Ali, who grew up in British Somaliland, now part of the Somali Republic in northeast Africa, was spokesman for the group.

"Junipers, Acacia, Eucalyptus and tamarack trees are the same in California as in Somali," he said.

However, uses of the trees in California and Somali are very different.

"In Somali the acacia trees are used for corrals and pens for livestock. They are eaten by the livestock," Ahmed said.

He went on to explain that the main economy of the country was in grazing stock. The population lives off the cattle, sheep, goats, horses donkeys and camels that graze on the land.

"The trees do not grow very large. The lower leaves are eaten by the cattle and sheep. The camels are able to eat the top branches," said Ali.

Somali exports hides and animals to the Arabian countries. "None of the processing is done in Somali," Ali said.

The group suddenly held a conference in Somalian language.

"The others want me to tell you that we also export citrus fruit and bananas to Italy and France," Ali added.

He said that the country grows excellent tropical fruits along the Juba and Shabela rivers.

Rainfall in Somali varies from five inches a year on the coastal areas to 25 inches a year on the high plateau of the interior, he said.

"We want to learn your methods of water conservation and irrigation," he reported.

"And take advantage of your mistakes," added Aboke Ali, another member of the group who could speak some English.

The six men were brought to the United States on March 29 by the state department in the international development program, Clark said. They spent the first few weeks in Washington, D.C., and have visited Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona for study of the use of semi-arid and arid regions.

After their brief Marin visit, they left immediately for Lakeport and Willows to study range management in northern California.

They will return to the Somali Republic on June 29.

Novatan's Face Cut In Wreck

Evelyn Lucille Lawrey, 47, of 605 Sunset Parkway, Novato, suffered two cuts on her face at approximately 3 a.m. today when she drove her car off the east end of Canal Street.

The car stopped halfway in the water. Mrs. Lawrey went to a friend who lived nearby. She changed clothes and the friend then took her to Marin General Hospital where she received 30 stitches to close the cuts.

San Rafael police did not hear of the accident until called to the hospital to get the report at 4:22 a.m.

Motor Vehicle Probe Launched

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Highway Transportation Administrator Robert P. Bradford launched an investigation today of purchasing practices in the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown assigned Bradford the task yesterday after noting press reports that office equipment had been purchased for the department without competitive bidding.

"I want to be certain that no action by the state employees in any way jeopardizes the bidding system which guarantees quality equipment at the lowest cost to the taxpayer," Brown said.

Marin Audubon Society Elects

Mrs. Ivor J. Davis of San Rafael last night was elected president of the Marin Audubon Society at a meeting at the home of Dr. L. M. Griffin Jr. in Kentfield.

Mrs. Davis succeeds William S. Picher, and will serve a one-year term.

Also elected were Mrs. Arthur Bridge of Belvedere, first vice president and Otis H. Smith, Larkspur, second vice commander. Re-elected were Mrs. Anita Parker of Corte Madera as secretary and Gordon W. Strawbridge of Tiburon as treasurer.

Three Are In Line For Post Of New San Anselmo Fire Chief

A new San Anselmo fire chief will be chosen from among three men who passed highest in written and oral examinations.

The city council last night approved the list of three candidates: Asst. Fire Chief Francis Sousa, Capt. William Rawlins, and Capt. Richard McLaran. The councilmen adjourned last night's meeting until 8 o'clock tonight to interview the three men.

The new chief will succeed Fire Chief Nello Marcucci, who retires on June 28.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Agreed with the Sleepy Hollow Fire District commissioners that Sleepy Hollow would pay about $32,000 for fire protection for the coming fiscal year, or 18 per cent of the total fire department budget. This is about the same as the amount paid by Sleepy Hollow this year.

2. Adopted the new 1962 electrical code, bringing electrical regulations up to date.

Last night's meeting wound up in less than one hour.

Two Bills To Improve Marin Courts Win Initial Approval

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Two bills designed to improve operations of Marin County courts have won initial approval in Assembly committee.

Bagley bill AB 2415, which would increase the salaries and numbers of Marin municipal court clerks and deputy clerks, passed the judiciary committee and went before the full Assembly on the consent calendar, practically guaranteeing its passage.

A second bill, AB 567, which would give Marin a fourth Superior Court, also passed that committee and was referred to the Ways and Means Committee. It faces a doubtful future, however, for the state Judicial Council has indicated the county will not need a fourth court before 1965.

Retarded Measure Approved In Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill requiring school districts to set up education programs for severely mentally retarded children was approved today by the Senate Education Committee.

The measure, by Assemblyman Clair Burgener (R-San Diego), would apply to all school districts with more than 8,000 average daily attendance, and would take effect in July 1964.

Dobbs Says No Mill Valley Changes For 6 Months

No major change in zoning around Mill Valley can be expected for at least six months, County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Peter Behr had asked for a report on the planning department's workload, suggesting more men might be needed to speed work. He, in turn, has been pressured by Mill Valley officials for speedy action in the area.

Mill Valley Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks has complained the county allows smaller lots outside the city than are called for in the city's general plan.

Dobbs said he could well use one more man in his department to handle enforcement and routine agenda matters, thus freeing his higher level planners for major planning projects. He listed several projects set for the near future.

Behr then complained that Dobbs should have mentioned some other projects, such as updating the county's master plans for specific areas.

"I'm disturbed," Behr told Dobbs. "This is the most important single phase of planning in a fast-growing county. If a year goes by, a lot of irrevocable changes would be made."

Almost all the master plans need review, Dobbs agreed, noting that the county streets and highways plan was adopted in 1952 and never updated.

"The zoning ordinance was adopted in 1938, and it needs changes," he said. "It's a continuing problem."

In his list of projects, Dobbs gave first priority to a study of the Richardson's Bay area, in connection with pending Army Corps of Engineer's flood control and dredging work.

Next, he said, would come the Kentfield Master Plan and hearings on San Geronimo Valley zoning.

Art work and preparation for publication of the West Marin Master Plan is underway also, he said, as is work on the Novato Master Plan, paid for by the City of Novato.

Then will come a zoning study for the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

Also in the works are some major revisions of the county planning ordinance, especially changes in the planned development districts, which will free the staff from administrative work on them.

Finally, he said, the planners are studying three major highway location and route alignments.

A study of the Northridge area, just outside Mill Valley, is a comparatively minor project due soon, he said, but even if there were no complications and hearings ran smoothly, there would be no major rezoning for at least six months.

He said changes in Northridge zoning and a restudy of the Tamalpais Valley Master Plan should satisfy most of the objections of Mill Valley officials.

Unification Meeting

Bonded indebtedness of school districts proposed for unification in the Tamalpais Union High School District will be considered by the augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization today at 8 p.m. in the Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo.

Due VFW Medal

Thomas G. Rogers of 16 Los Cerros Drive, Greenbrae, will receive the Veterans of Foreign Wars medal at the graduation review of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the University of California at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Edwards field on the campus.

Swedish Exchange Student Says Learning Is Fun

By ALTON S. BOCK

Most high school students in America don't seem to realize that learning can be fun, a 17-year-old-blonde, athletic Swedish girl at Terra Linda High School observes.

This is one of the many differences between attitudes here and in Sweden, according to Ingrid Mona Wicknertz, a Stockholm girl who is attending spring semester classes at Terra Linda under the American Field Service student exchange program.

"Too many students here are fun-searching,' she said, whereas in Sweden, study is fun. But I like the way things are done at Terra Linda High. I think their system is very good, and I'm really enjoying it."

Terra Linda High School is the second school in California Miss Wicknertz has attended since she came to the United States last August. Until mid-March she attended Woodland High School in Yolo County, but was transferred to Terra Linda when the Woodland family with whom she was staying moved from the area.

She is now living with Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Oliver at 56 Circle Road in Los Ranchitos. Oliver is a trustee of the Marin Junior College District. His family includes Mrs. Oliver; Janet, 15, a sophomore at Terra Linda; Laurie, 14; Beth, 11, and Robbie, 10.

Although she is a senior at Terra Linda, Miss Wicknertz will have two years of school to complete when she returns to the "gymnasium" in Stockholm next September.

"I won't get any credit for the year I've spent at schools here," she said. "But I've learned a lot anyway."

She speaks English without difficulty and has already studied four other languages: German, French, Norwegian, and Danish.

"After speaking English for so long, I find I really have a hard time speaking Swedish," she laughed.

As in many European secondary schools, Miss Wicknertz admitted part of the difference in systems is due to the fact that a high school education is not required in her country. Only work in Sweden is more like students of proven ability continue their academic education.

"But we do start learning English, German and French in the fifth, seventh and eighth grades," she said.

Not surprisingly, she is fond of skiing, and sports is one of her major interests. "I hope to be admitted to a physical education college in Stockholm when I finish high school," she said, "and I would like to teach physical education eventually."

Skiing on water is as much a thrill for Miss Wicknertz as skiing on snow. Two of her favorite experiences in California were trips to Lake Tahoe for water skiing and to Squaw Valley for the snow.

But not all experiences in America have been pleasant for Miss Wicknertz.

"I was really shocked to see how rude a woman was to a Negro man once on the bus from Sacramento to Woodland," she said. "In Sweden I read of such things but didn't realize how it could be until I saw something terrible like that."

Although she likes Marin County and San Francisco, she deplored the "slums in San Francisco. In Stockholm," she said, "everyhing is clean and orderly."

Socialism in Sweden is something many Americans do not understand, she said. "It is nothing like Communism. We have free medical and dental services and free lunches in all our schools."

Many Americans tell her "You have to pay for those things somehow though," but she answers, "You pay high taxes here, too, and maybe you just don't get enough for your money."

She also thinks it is "awful" that Negroes "have to pay taxes, and yet they don't seem to have any rights."

In July, Miss Wicknertz will return to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tage Wicknertz, and a brother, Bo, 11. She also has an older sister, Ann, who is married.

"Mona has taught us at least one thing while she has been with us," commented Mrs. Oliver. "She has shown us how to make wonderful Swedish meat balls."

"But my mother says I am a terrible cook," Miss Wicknertz protested.

Sausalito Against Beefing Brown Act

The Sausalito City Council last night decided it does not feel it necessary to send out formal notices when a committee of less than a quorum meets.

The council voted 3-1 to oppose an amendment to the Ralph M. Brown Act which would spell out a requirement for such notices.

"This is too restricted upon the formal work of the council," said Mayor Paul Micou.

Strong support of the amendment came from Councilman Michael Harris. He said "the Brown Act requires committees of less than a quorum must obey the law in the same fashion as the entire body . . . It is my opinion that public business is considered by small groups as well as by large ones.

"We know that even the press does not attend our subcommittee hearings very frequently. The public hardly ever does. I see no reason why they cannot do so."

Harris was dissenter in the 3-1 vote. Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson was absent.

The council had been asked by the League of California Cities to state its position on several bills pending in the legislature.

Richard Carpenter, executive director and general counsel of the League of California Cities, commented in his communication regarding the Brown Act amendment: "We believe that such a provision which would require all the notices and formalities of regular meetings of the council would seriously hamper the conduct of municipal business."

Councilman Jan Paul Dyk said that if the amendment were enacted "I would play host to whoever comes."

"We do not meet in people's houses," said Harris. "We meet in council chambers and sometimes in the field. . . Anyone is free to go tramping over the countryside with us. . . . If business is done in Sausalito, we know it's done publicly."

Harris, a San Francisco newspaper reporter and strong supporter of public meetings being open, said "I happen to have a copy of the Brown Act with me" and read two portions:

"It is the intent that their (governmental body) action be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly," he read. "People insist on remaining informed so they may retain control over instruments they have created."

Following the vote, Harris said "despite the vote I assume we will continue to hold committee meetings open to the public." Micou responded, "We have always had that policy when we have a formal committee meeting of announcing the time and anyone can attend."

The council unanimously opposed Assembly Bill 3027, which would require city councils in cities of less than 300,000 to employ a certified court reporter on receipt of a request and deposit of an unstated amount 24 hours before a meeting.

Councilmen voted unanimously to support Senate Constitutional Amendment 18, which would impose a one per cent tax on intra-state gross receipts of telephone companies to replace revenue lost when the Supreme Court held last year that telephone firms cannot be required to pay franchise fees to engage in business.

Tam Unification On Agenda Tonight

Setting of a date for a public hearing on proposed unification of Tamalpais High School District will be the first item at a meeting of the Augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization tonight at 8 o'clock at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

The committee will also continue its discussion of potential bonded indebtedness for the proposed district.

San Jose, Costa Rica's 3,870-foot elevation and average 75-degree temperature give it a constant springlike climate.

Only 11 Novato Citizens Show Up With Suggestion For City Budget

Only 11 citizens turned out for last night's hearing on the Novato city budget, and most of them requested additions to the city's spending.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget's proposed budget called for $561,445 expenditures against $538,225 estimated revenue.

Mrs. Lloyd Hill of 728 Eucalyptus Avenue and Mrs. Arthur Olson of 8 Villa Place, president and past president of the North Marin County Parent-Teacher Council, asked for a traffic officer to patrol around schools and work with crossing guards.

Baget told them that one of three additional officers proposed in the budget was designated as a traffic officer. He said $35,000 was budgeted for a county-city project to widen the Warner Creek Bridge on South Novato Boulevard, and that the Grant Avenue footbridge was also in the budget. Both these projects will aid school foot traffic, he said.

Dr. Donald Lannan, representing the junior chamber of commerce, asked for larger quarters for the Novato branch of the Marin County Library.

Former Mayor Wayne Womack, president of the chamber of commerce, asked the council to increase its appropriation to the chamber from $4,550 to $7,000.

More street lights on South Novato Boulevard between Stone Drive and Highway 101, scene of many accidents, were asked by Mrs. Ellis Conklin of 401 Stone Drive.

Mayor M. E. Silva told her that the county owns that side of the street, and he felt the county should help pay for the lights.

At that moment, Marin County Supervisor William Gnoss entered the hall. Asked by Silva if the county would help with the lights, he replied, "If we can, we will."

Mrs. John Machado of 1424 Dawes Street asked that the city council put money in the budget for land acquisition for parks.

E. D. King of 590 Sunset Parkway, president of the Monte Marie Community Services District, asked that the budget for that district be reduced from $1,840 to $1,630. "This will reduce the tax rate for the district from 45 to 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation," he said.

"We will take all of these suggestions under consideration as we go over the budget," Mayor Silva said.

The council set 8 p.m. tomorrow for the first study session on the budget. There will also be a second public hearing later.

Case Of Malaria Reported In Marin

A malaria case, rare in Marin County, was reported yesterday by the Marin County Health Department in its weekly report of communicable diseasees.

The case in Novato is one of the "very few" in many years, Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli of the department said. "I don't recall the last one."

She emphasized that the patient did not contact malaria in Marin County, but outside the United States.

"We don't have malaria-infested mosquitoes here," Dr. Tonelli said. "There's no public health hazard."

Servicemen Freed In Robbery Charge

Two servicemen, suspected of robbing a Point Reyes Station man of $50, pleaded guilty to drunkenness yesterday in Marin Municipal Court and were released from jail after spending a night in the cell.

They are A/3c James W. Allison, 20, of Travis Air Force Base, and Navy PO/2 Charles D. Swords, 21, stationed aboard the Paul Revere in San Francisco.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said there was not enough evidence to charge the two servicemen with anything more serious than being drunk.

Leonard W. M. Bowman, 42, of Point Reyes Station told Sausalito police he met the two servicemen in San Francisco Monday night and drove them to Sausalito. Bowman charged that the two took his money and drove off with his car, leaving him on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito.

Bowman walked down the hill and found his car with keys intact near Spencer Avenue.

All three had been drinking heavily, and their accounts of what happened varied, the district attorney said. He and Sausalito police agreed that evidence was insufficient to support charges of robbery or car theft.

North Marin Schools Held Undermanned

The North Marin school districts under reorganization study are "really undermanned," Edward Anderson of the research firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton told the Novato Unified School District board last night.

This undermanning "administrative and overall" resulted from rapid growth and "the struggle to make ends meet," he said.

The districts under study are Novato Unified, San Jose, Dixie and San Rafael Elementary, and San Rafael High.

"Planning should be undertaken to build up the services," Anderson said. "This does not indicate that the job has been done poorly. In fact, it has been outstanding in view of the conditions."

Anderson said there is a "similarity of development" in the area under study. "I've never seen four school districts that had as many similarities as these."

This similarity, he said, is likely to increase rather than decrease.

The Groningen natural gas field in Holland possesses probably twice the reserve of Europe's two biggest fbields, Lacq in southern France and Italy's Po Valley field.

Move To Recall Broemmel Is Held Gaining

A move to recall County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel is gaining, according to P. J. Rowland of Greenbrae, president of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

At a directors' meeting in the county courthouse last night, Rowland told those attending (estimated at from eight to 15) that he has received about 200 phone calls and letters encouraging the move. He said about 2,000 persons will have to show interest, "but that is a start."

Talk of a recall movement has come from Rowland and another member, John R. Kiker of Novato. The talk was prompted by reappraisals of the North Marin area under Broemmel's cycle reappraisal program.

Next regular meeting of the taxpayers association will be June 18.

Double Sessions Set At Hub City School

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District learned last night that there will be six double sessions for the first part of the next school year at Wade Thomas School.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said double sessions will be held in the first, second and third grades. This will be necessary until four additional classrooms at the school are completed in January, 1964.

Perodi said it will also be necessary to use a classroom at Sleepy Hollow School, now rented to the county superintendent for a mentally retarded class. The room will be used for fifth graders from the Yolansdale School area, who will be transported by bus to Sleepy Hollow.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

1. Granted teacher tenure (fourth year contracts) to Mrs. Dorothy Israel, second grade at Brookside School; Mrs. Carmen Roberts, kindergarten at Isabel Cook School; Dale Porter, instrumental and voice music instructor for the district; Miss Melba Evans, second grade at Wade Thomas School; Jean Hancock, first grade at Wade Thomas School, and Sue Howe, fourth grade at Sleepy Hollow.

2. Accepted resignations of two upper grade teachers at Isabel Cook School: Nyal Worsham, who will teach in the Fairfax district, and John Sydor, who will study in Rome.

3. Adjourned until June 11, a week earlier than the normal meeting day, to open bids on the addition to Wade Thomas School.

The Netherlands' Groningen natural gas field holds at least 14 trillion cubic feet of natural gas—enough to supply the nations entire power needs for five years.

TWO PRINCIPALS HIRED BY TRUSTEES IN NOVATO

Novato Unified School District trustees hired new principals last night for Novato High School and Hill Junior High School.

Garold F. Ellyson, 45, principal of South Fork High School in Humboldt County, was named high school principal to succeed Robert McKeay, who has resigned to take another assignment.

Ellyson, a graduate of Wayne State College in Nebraska and University of Colorado, also has previous experience as principal of Fairview High School in Boulder, Colo.

Under a new administrative salary schedule adopted by the school board last night, he will start at a salary of $13,086.

William Leigh Metteer, 32, vice principal of Parkmead Intermediate School in Walnut Creek, was named principal of Hill Junior High School, succeeding Robert Patterson, who also resigned.

A graduate of Chico State and San Francisco State, Metter has had 10 years experience in intermediate school work. He will start at a salary of $11,777.

The Novato School District board also:

1. Approved a new salary schedule for administrative and service personnel tied to the teacher salary schedule. A high school principal will get 50 per cent more than the teacher schedule, a junior high principal, 35 per cent; elementary principal, 25 per cent; high school vice principal, 20 per cent; junior high vice principal 15 per cent; librarian, 10 per cent; speech therapist, 10 per cent; and director of guidance, 25 per cent. The schedule does not include the district superintendent, curriculum director, or business manager

2. Rejected two bids for remodeling the high school because they exceeded funds allocated for the project. Fostmeier Construction Co. presented a base bid of $17,000 with an alternate of $4,000 and Lloyd Hunter had a base bid of $19,997 with an alternate of $6,141. The state allocation for the remodeling is $12,769.

3. Hired the following teachers for the 1963-64 school year: Virginia Maloney, junior high school homemaking; Shirley Campanello, fourth grade at the Lu Sutton School; Gail Porter, high school English; Valerie Vaio, first grade at Rancho School and Joan French, fifth grade at West Novato School.

4. Accepted the resignation of Linda Snider, fourth grade teacher at the Lu Sutton School, who is moving.

5. Approved having a student teacher training program at the district schools starting this fall.

6. Postponed discussion of a teacher's handbook until the June 4 meeting.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Don't Overlook Opportunities In Profession Of Real Estate

One of the most thriving business activities in Marin County is real estate. Predicted growth of the county should provide continuing opportunities for many years to come. Both men and women have found it interesting and profitable work. Young persons might do well ot consider it as a profession.

Real estate people who entered the field 15 to 20 years ago had to pick up most of their knowledge through experience. Requirements for a newcomer are now more complex—and even the oldtimers find it beneficial to go back to school and be brought up to date.

Courses leading to an Associate in Arts degree are being offered at the College of Marin in cooperation with the California State Division of Real Estate, California Real Estate Assn. and the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Evening adult classes are also held, with completion of 24 required units enabling students to acquire a Real Estate Certificate. Material covered is designed to aid those preparing for the salesman's license examination as well as give instruction in techniques, real estate law and appraising.

Arrangements for counseling can be made by calling the College of Marin.

On the Real Estate Advisory Committee are board executive manager Daniel F. Deedy and Marin realtors Raymond Eckert, Hugh G. Marchant, Edward Morphy, Robert R. Morrison, F. J. Picchi, Joe H. Stewart and Edward P. Ward.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that mounting interest is being shown by Marin residents in investments in the stocks of Marin County corporations. Jess J. France Jr., San Rafael resident partner in York and Co., announces that his firm is now giving increased attention to such purchases for investors.

Cerf

MILTON M. CERF of San Rafael has been named San Francisco agency manager for Bankers Life Co. For several years he has been district manager in Corte Madera for Equitable Life Insurance Co.

MOTORCRAFT. Harvey Firestone Jr., having reached 65, has stepped out as chief executive of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and passed over his duties to younger brother Raymond, 55 . . . Buick had its best sales month in April since March, 1956 and 22.8 per cent over April of last year . . . Chrysler-Plymouth's April sales were 19 per cent better than a year ago . . . Studebaker will close its present model run next month, plans to have newly-styled models in dealers' hands by Sept. 24.

'Potemkin' To Be Shown At Festival

"Potemkin," considered by some critics "the greatest motion picture ever made" will receive one of its rare showings May 30 as the concluding event of the third annual Festival of Performing Arts.

The film will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, site of this year's festival.

Produced in Russia in 1925 by Sergei Einstein, this silent film (with musical sound track added later) relates incidents in the abortive 1905 uprising in Odessa.

Accompanying "Potemkin" will be the modern French 30-minute film, "The Red Balloon." Filmed in color, this nostalgic story of a little boy and his red balloon which takes on a life of its own has won many prizes and awards.

Tickets will be available at the door prior to the performance. Refreshments will also be available.

Experts Reveal Clearer Picture Of Plant Energy

BERKELEY (UPI) — Scientists have revealed a clearer picture of the initial light-energized step in the photo-synthetic process by which green plants concert sunlight into chemical energy.

The findings focus attention on the properties of an iron-rich protein substance called ferredoxin.

Farm Employment Is In Decline

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Employment on California farms during mid-May has totaled 310,100, a jump of nearly 43,000 over April, but a drop of about 32,000 from the same period a year ago, the state department of employment reported.

Prolonged spring rains delayed pre-harvest activities in orchards and row crops, with about 17,000 of the year-to-year decline attributed to cotton, tomatoes, melons, sugar beets and strawberries.

Of the total farm employment on May 11, 91,800 was farmers and unpaid family, a drop of 4,400 from last May; 96,100 hired regular, down 500; 95,600 temporary domestic, down 13,500, and 26,600 contract foreign workers, a drop of 13,500 from last May.

Mrs. Greiner Again Seeking Divorce

The on-again, off-again divorce of socially prominent Chatty Collier Greiner of Sleepy Hollow is on again.

She filed suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against William LaSha Greiner, a civil engineer, charging he was extremely cruel and caused her grievous mental suffering.

This is her second divorce action against him in about a month. She filed for divorce last month, then quietly withdrew the complaint. This morning's suit indicates they were separated again on May 9.

They met while both were students at Stanford University. They were married in a surprise Nevada elopement on April 5, 1960.

Paid circulation makes a strong free press

A newspaper, like a tree, can be only as strong as its roots.

And its "roots" are the paid subscriptions, spreading far and wide throughout the community.

With them, a newspaper becomes an organic, living thing. Responsible to the community, wanted by its readers, it can be flexible in the changing winds of opinion, and firm on principle. For its roots go deep. It "belongs."

It can take a stand (though you may not always agree with it) because it has something to stand on—the intimate knowledge of the community and its needs.

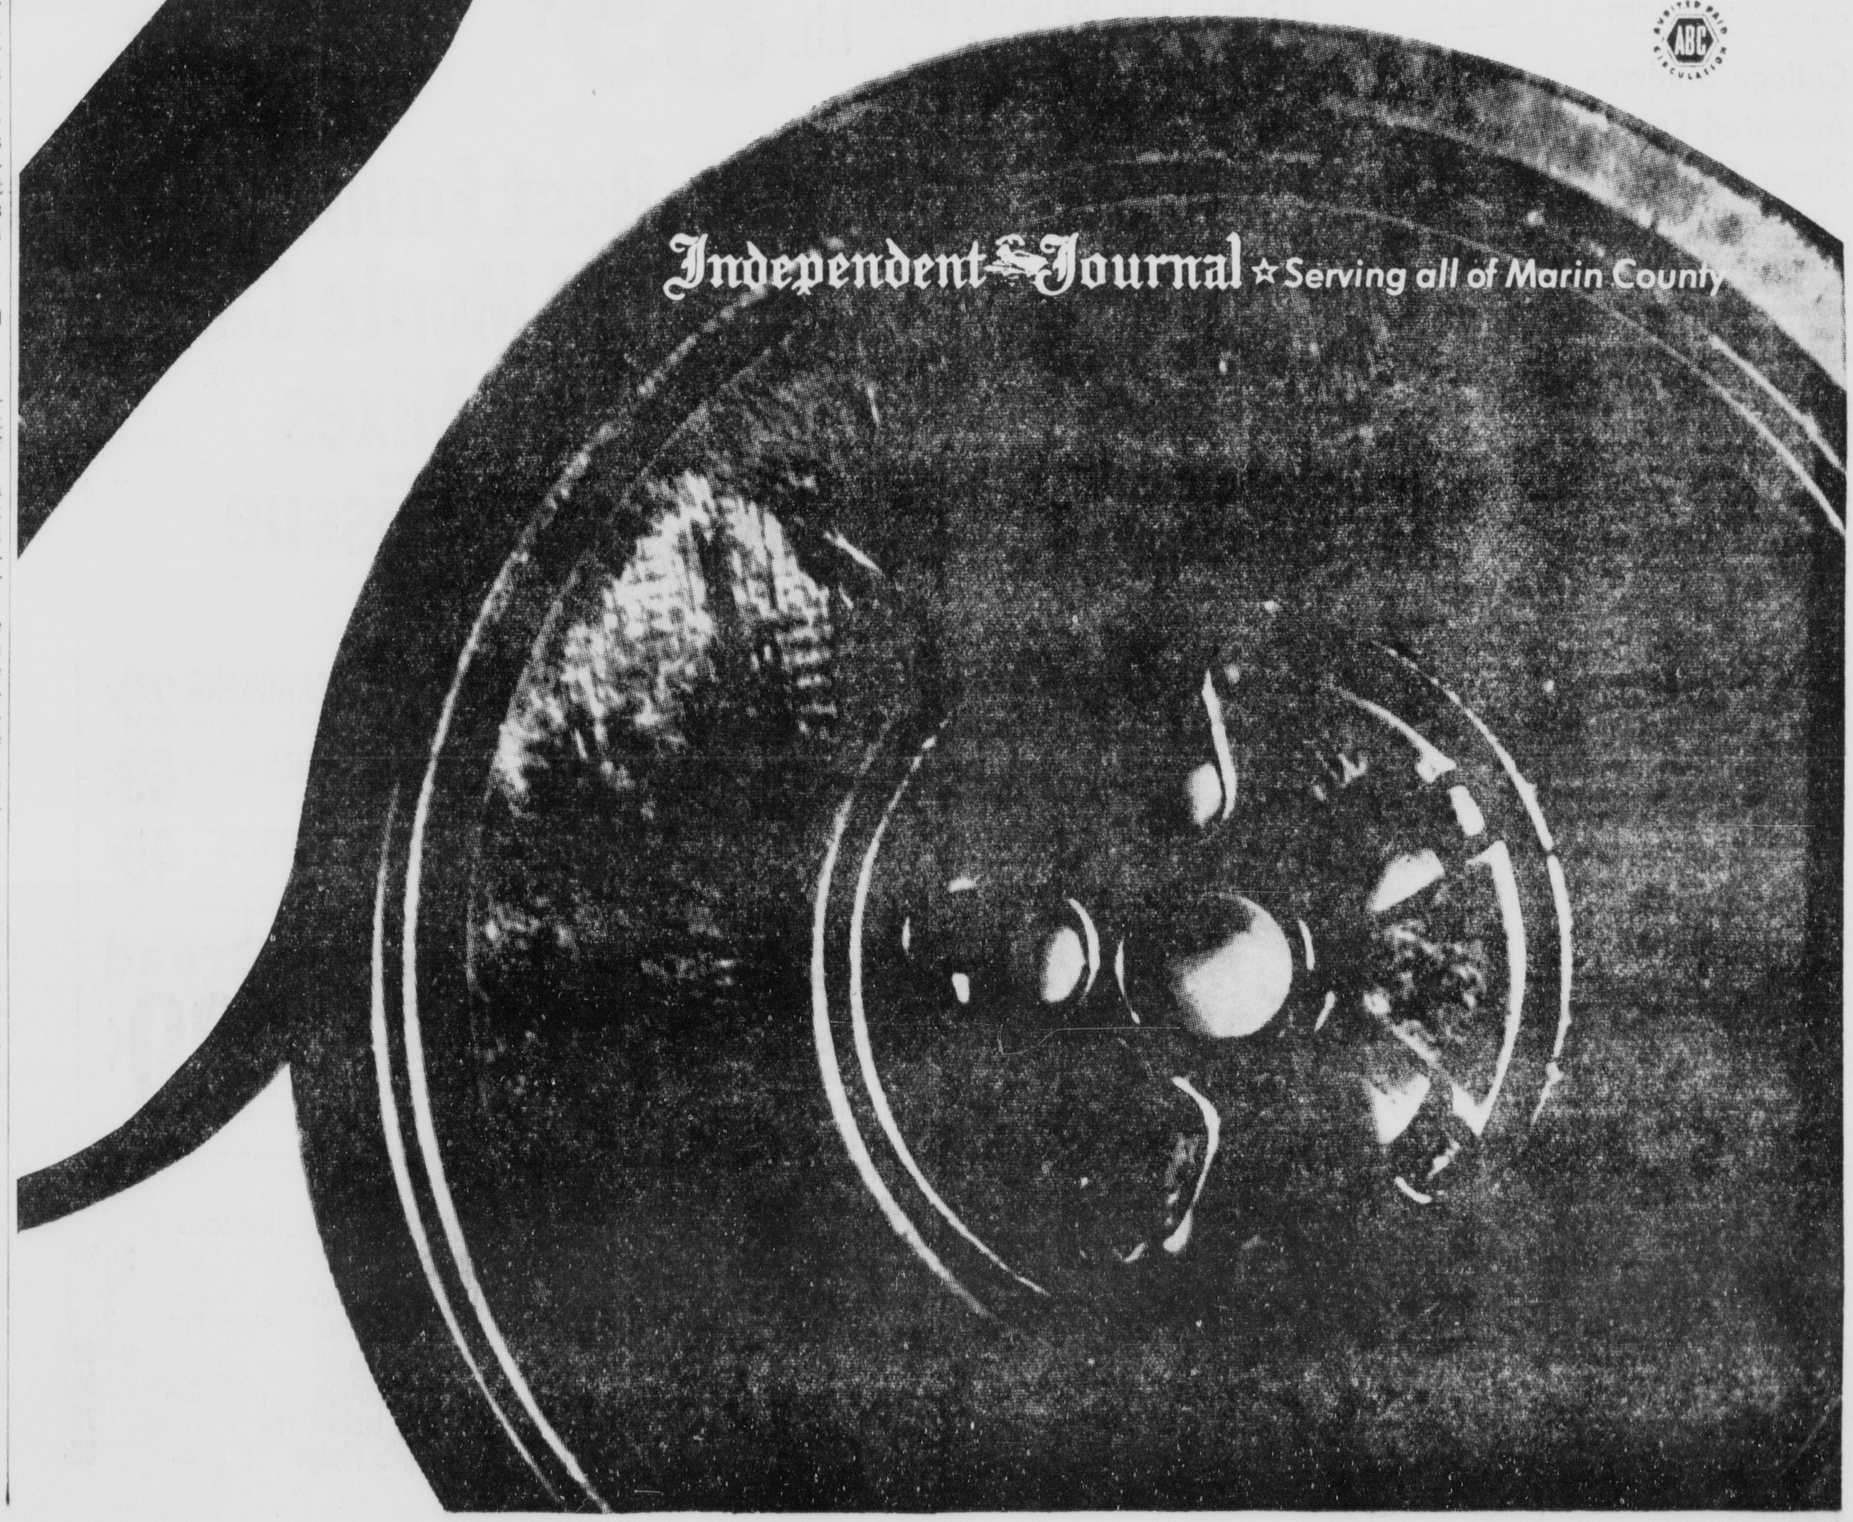
Without paid subscriptions, a newspaper is rootless. In fact, it becomes a throw-away... a tumbleweed publication that comes, unasked for, to your doorstep.

Here at the Independent-Journal, we know that your readership is not given lightly. It must be earned. And a newspaper worth reading must be worth paying for—or pay the price of not being read.

A strong, free press, then, is no give-away. It doesn't exist in a vacuum. It doesn't grow from without, but from within the community.

Today, our official paid circulation is the highest in our history. Which means that 2 out of 3 families in Marin County believe in the oldest economic law of all—that you get what you pay for.

Independent-Journal circulation is audited and verified by the nationally-respected Audit Bureau of Circulations. On record for all to see.



LYRIC SOPRANO—Redwood High freshman, Barbara Solo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Solo, 12 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, was named winner of a San Francisco State College scholarship in music. She will attend a six-week summer work session at the college beginning June 24.

Respiratory Disease Workshop Is Slated In Marin On Tuesday

"A Community looks at Respiratory Disease" will be the topic of keynote speaker Dr. Herbert Bauer, Yolo County health officer, at a nurses' workshop on respiratory diseases Tuesday at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

He will be introduced by Mrs. Laura Jean Looper, director of vocational nursing education at College of Marin and program chairman of the all-day event sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The second of three guest speakers will be Dr. James Kieran, assistant clinical professor at University of California and president of the Alameda County Tuberculosis Assn. His topic: "Pulmonary Physiology."

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 with a talk on "Drugs and Treatment" by Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, clinical professor of medicine at U.C. Concluding the program will be a panel discussion of "Aspects of Nursing Care" moderated by Margaret Hoff, director of Marin County Health Department nursing services, and presented by Dorothy Thomas, Margaret Taylor, Doris Bahme, and Eleanor Culp.

Exhibits and demonstrations of pulmonary equipment will be shown throughout the day.

Reservations are available until through the tuberculosis association, 1010 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

North Dakota ranked first in production of rye in 1962 and has the largest acreage of any state planted for harvest in 1963.

Summer Day Camp Set For Handicapped

For the sixth consecutive year, Marin Aid to Retarded Children will operate a day camp for mentally handicapped school-agers. Sessions will be 9 a.m to 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, July 1 through Aug. 9.

Locale will again be Hamilton Air Force Base, with daily swimming instruction a highlight.

Mrs. June Osborne, special education teacher with the Marin County schools, will be camp director, assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Duke. Co-chairmen for MARC will be Mrs. Morey Quilici, Novato, and Robert Karch, Mill Valley.

College Of Marin Students Voting For Fall Officers

Two days of voting for eight of next fall semester's College of Marin student government officers began today instead of two days ago as erroneously reported in Monday Independent-Journal.

The elections were rescheduled on May 14, said election chairman Jeremy S. Smith.

Voting was scheduled from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. today and tomorrow on the brick steps of Harlan Hall.

There are contests for only two positions: public relations commissioner and rally commissioner.

A shuffle was announced yesterday in the race for two positions. Daniel A. Collins Jr., formerly running unopposed for rally commissioner, was eliminated because he failed to make a "C" average last semester, said counselor John F. Gillin. In substitution Michael Thiercof, formerly in a three-way race for public relations commissioner, entered the race for the rally assembly post.

The student executive council nominated Ronald Foster of Marin City to run against Thiercof. Foster had disclosed interest in the rally post but had not obtained the needed 140 signatures on a petition.

Marilyn Heller, previously running for assistant cheer leader, now is running unopposed for head yell leader, replacing William Bagge, also disqualified by below "C" average grades. However, Bagge is still on the ticket as one of two assistant leader candidates, as the assistant posts do not require the same average.

Those running for the other posts are the same as reported Monday. A president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and song leader will be elected.

Rotary Clubs Hear Talk On Alliance

"I think Charles de Gaulle is working toward the 21st century but I disagree in his proposal to reach the 21st century without Britain as a part of Europe—and, indeed, without the United States and Canada as a complement of Europe in a great and powerful Atlantic alliance."

These were the wind-up words of James David Zellerbach, former ambassador to Italy, in an address Monday to five Marin Rotary clubs meeting at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Zellerbach, who said he is a neighbor on both sides to Marin since he spends one-half his year in Sonoma and one-half in San Francisco, spoke on "Problems of the Western Alliance."

He said unity in Europe no longer exists since four months ago when De Gaulle said no to British entry into the common market and no to an American proposal for multilateral nuclear force for protection of Europe.

Zellerbach added that you have to understand that De Gaulle today adds to equality, liberty and fraternity the words prosperity, sovereignty and indominateability. "Those are the key words to his foreign policy," said Zellerbach.

College Students Accepted For Honor Society

Fifty-three College of Marin students have been accepted for membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, statewide junior college scholastic honor society, faculty advisor Leonard R. Blomquist announced today.

Michael Walsh of Larkspur, Carolyn Miller of San Rafael and Karen Thornson of San Anselmo became permanent members for having a B-plus average with no grade below C in two years.

Tthe others had a B-average with no grade below C last semester.

Walsh was named president and Miss Thornson treasurer of the college chapter. Other officers: Stephen C. Bryant of Mill Valley, vice president, and Nancy L. Barnecut of San Anselmo, secretary.

The honor society is a voluntary group and thus does not include all with a B average last semester.

Infant Breath Deaths Probed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Severe breathing difficulties, the major cause of death during the first week of life, may be the result of clamping the umbilical cord before the baby's lungs are adequately functioning.

Drs. Arthur J. Moss, Edward R. Duffie and Leonard M. Fagan of the UCLA Medical School have reached this conclusion after a study of the common premature infant disorder known as the respiratory distress syndrome.

They found that babies whose umbilical cords were clamped prior to the second breath of life tended to have severe breathing difficulties more than those whose cords were clamped after the second breath.

County To Study Medical Setup

A six-month study of the organization and services of the Marin County Medical Department was authorized yesterday by the board of supervisors, acting on joint recommendation of the Marin Medical Society and County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Dr. Calvin Plumhof, president of the society, submitted a five-page report on county medical services. The report was authorized last November by the board, when the society suggested it might make recommendations for reorganization of the department.

A study of the department was considered by the board upon notice from former medical Director Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. that he would resign as of last May 1.

"Since Dr. Michael D. Scholl said he would replace Dr. Dufficy for only a six-month period, we felt this would be a good time to consider our report during the transition from a temporary to permanent director," said Dr. Plumhof.

Bruce suggested a committee of Dr. Scholl, Auditor Michael Mitchell, himself and members of the medical society to "take a look at the program and the society's report" and ask Health department and Welfare departments for suggestions.

A fulltime medical director, who would possibly appoint fulltime assistant county physicians, was proposed by the society's report. An increased medical budget for care of indigents was seen as necessary.

"The medical director will have increasing administrative responsibility and should be on call all the time," Dr. Plumhof said in defense of the proposal for a fulltime director.

Under present organization of the department, the director works parttime.

Bruce commented later that "in Santa Barbara County, 100 doctors offer their services to the county for free."

"I have always been upset about doctors here not volunteering their time for the county medical program," said Supervisor Peter Behr.

Also suggested in the society's report were:

1. "Greater cooperation among the medical, health and welfare departments," although no recommendation was made for putting all three departments under one director as "we feel that at the present time this is not practicable, if even possible in Marin."

2. Care of county jail prisoners and juvenile hall inmates should be under one doctor for each facility, with equipped treatment rooms at each place.

3. Liaison between the department and hospitals should be "improved."

4. Any matters of dispute as to the responsibility for care might be mediated by a review committee of the Marin Medical Society.

Doctor Convicted In Drug Traffic

SALINAS (AP) — A jury has convicted a 64-year-old Salinas osteopath on 18 counts of illegal narcotics traffic.

Jury foreman Robert Rettig said Dr. Kenneth W. Blaylock was found guilty yesterday by unanimous vote on the first ballot.

The conviction was on three counts of selling the drug Percodan, carrying a possible sentence of five years to life on each count; and on 15 counts of illicit prescriptions, each carrying a maximum penalty of not more than six years.

Judge Anthony Brazil set June 6 for sentencing, cancelled the doctor's bail and ordered him jailed.

County Works On Evacuation Plan

County officials have been working on emergency evacuation plans for the Civic Center, but last Friday's bomb scare came before anybody was ready.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that he, County Administrator Alan Bruce and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos had been working on the plan for some time.

"Tourists didn't know what was happening," Supervisor Walter R. Castro said about Friday's incident, when a man phoned the Civic Center to say a bomb had been planted there. "They were hanging on the railings looking around."

"We have an alarm system within the building," Frost said. He promised the evacuation plan would be ready quickly.

Mental Health Aid Increase To Get Study

Formation of a committee to study effects of proposed increased state aid for mental health programs was approved yesterday by Marin County supervisors.

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health asked the board two months ago to consider an early application for state funds under the Short-Doyle bill, now before the State Senate.

"The bill as it is now is rather confusing and will supposedly undergo further changes," County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board, after he and County Counsel E. Warren McGuire submitted long letters to the board attempting to explain status of the bill.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested a study committee, with the Marin Assn. for Mental Health to nominate proposed members for appointment by the supervisors.

Rec Group Gets Cascade Park Study

Cascade Park was described to Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners Monday night in the first of a series of studies to be made on city parks.

The study, prepared by Mrs. William B. Allen, commissioner, and Mrs. Lucretia Little, deputy city clerk, includes such information as a designation of the area, deed, restrictions in effect, and special features.

Eventually, according to Mrs. Pat Arnold, secretary, the city will have studies on all city parks to be placed in a folder with a key map. Interest was stimulated over the studies recently when builder G. C. Kott prepared to develop his land in the Three Wells area adjacent to Cascade Park.

Commissioners agreed to change this meeting date from the first to the second Monday of the month since the city council has decided to begin meeting on the first Monday starting Aug. 5.

Ex-Convict Gets Death In Murder

STOCKTON (AP) — A former San Quentin convict was condemned to death and his girl friend given a life term by a San Joaquin County jury yesterday.

Thomas LeRoy Teale, 34, and Ruth E. Chapman, 39, were sentenced for the kidnap-murder of Lodi bartender Billy Dean Adcock, 39, on Oct. 18, 1962. The pair was found guilty last week.

They robbed Adcock's bar, took Adcock to a deserted road and Teale shot him in the head three times. A personal check belonging to Mrs. Chapman, a former Eureka legal secretary, was found next to Adcock's body.

Tiburon Peninsula Meeting On By-laws

About 75 Tiburon Peninsula organizations have been invited to attend a meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council at 8 p.m. today in the Reed School audio-visual room. The meeting is to adopt by-laws for an expanded council.

At a meeting in February, attended by representatives of 53 organizations, it was proposed that the council be revised to include representatives of each social, civic, fraternal and religious organization in the Belvedere-Tiburon area.

Slumping Batters Saving The Giants

The late inning homer by slumping batters is keeping the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League, at least for the moment.

Jose Pagan, who had failed to get a hit in his last 20 times at bat, powered a leadoff homer into the left field seats to start the eighth inning last night and give the Giants a 3-2 squeaker over the Philadelphia Phillies. As a result the Giants retained their one game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League.

Pagan stole the idea from Felipe Alou, who came up to the plate with two hits in his last 29 times at bat on Sunday and crashed a similar homer for a 6-5 thriller at the expense of the Phils.

The clubs resumed their sharply pitched series today when Jack Sanford (6-3) of the Giants squared off against the Phils' Dallas Green (1-0).

"I'm satisfied with the way everything is going," Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants said last night when asked about the five hits which rookie Ray Culp of the Phils allowed his thumpers. "We're getting the runs. And as I've said before, that's what counts."

Billy O'Dell, the Giants' square-jawed southpaw, remained unbeaten in the National League while picking up his sixth win. He struck out nine batters, and rationed out five singles to the Phils to go with two walks.

Culp, a $100,000 bonus bundle from Texas, also held the Giants to five safeties but three of them were for the distance.

"He pitched a heck of a game though," Manager Gene Mauch of the Phils growled in a dressing room, where the language was a shade purple.

Bailey powered his eighth homer of the season over the right field fence in the second inning for a 1-0 lead. After the Phils tied the score in the third on Tony Gonzalez's single, Cepeda laced one to his off field—across the right field barrier—to put the Giants back ahead.

The score stayed at 2-1 until the eighth when Don Demeter put the Phils back in business with a game-tying single.

Then Pagan came up to open the eighth and sent the Candlestick Park crowd of 7,556 home in a holiday mood after one pitch by Culp.

BATTING AROUND: The entire game was played in a drizzling fog, but as Willie McCovey said: "Heck, we've played in much worse conditions than this on the road." . . .Both McCovey and Willie Mays were struck out three times apiece by Culp, who owns a fine curve. "It's the first time that we've seen him and we have to get used to him," Mays said. . . . Billy Hoeft, the disabled Giants' southpaw pitcher who hasn't thrown a ball this season, says that his arm is feeling better. "By Christmas I may be able to get it up so they can decorate it," Hoeft says. He also calls himself a "hundred thousand dollar a year man—in doctors' bills."

EQUALS RECORD—Cincinnati's Jim Maloney showed the Milwaukee Braves nothing but blurs last night as he tied a record by striking out eight consecutive batters in 2-0 victory. He totalled 16 strikeouts for the game.

Manager Gene Mauch Does Not Want His Phillies Counted Out

CONNOLLY

It is real nice to finish down the line and yet pick off the Manager of the Year honors. That's what Gene Mauch did last season. The young guy has to have more than a head of hair and a hat to do that, so when he orates, he's entitled to a listening audience.

"We're a few games back of the leaders right now," Gene was saying to the group of news hawks, "but we don't belong where we are. We should be where the Giants are—that is what losing a few silly games can mean to a league like ours.

"I don't want to pick a winner but I'd have to say the Giants, the Dodgers, and possibly the Reds are the teams we have to beat to win the pennant."

FOR A youngster in swaddling clothes as a National League manager, one has to admire the young skipper of the Philadelphia Phils. He's outspoken, humble, and yet forceful. Being a ball player who rated high up, he has the feel, the poise and, in his case, the leadership to accomplish a very difficult task. He's not only the manager of the ball club but the head man of the farm clubs, the scouts, and except for his boss who signs the checks, is the same as the owner of the club.

"When you have a league as strong as the National League you can't really tell where you'll finish, even with a good, sound, solid ball club," said Mauch when asked to rate the clubs so far.

Mauch has great respect for the Dodgers, who he rates awfully high on account of the comeback of Sandy Koufax, ace southpaw pitcher.

"The Cincy Reds are a young ball club and could be in the thick of things for many years to come," Mauch explains.

LIKE ALL the managers in baseball, Mauch places emphasis on pitching, saying it is his prime worry, particularly since "leftie" Dennis Bennett broke his ankle in an auto accident in Puerto Rico a few months ago.

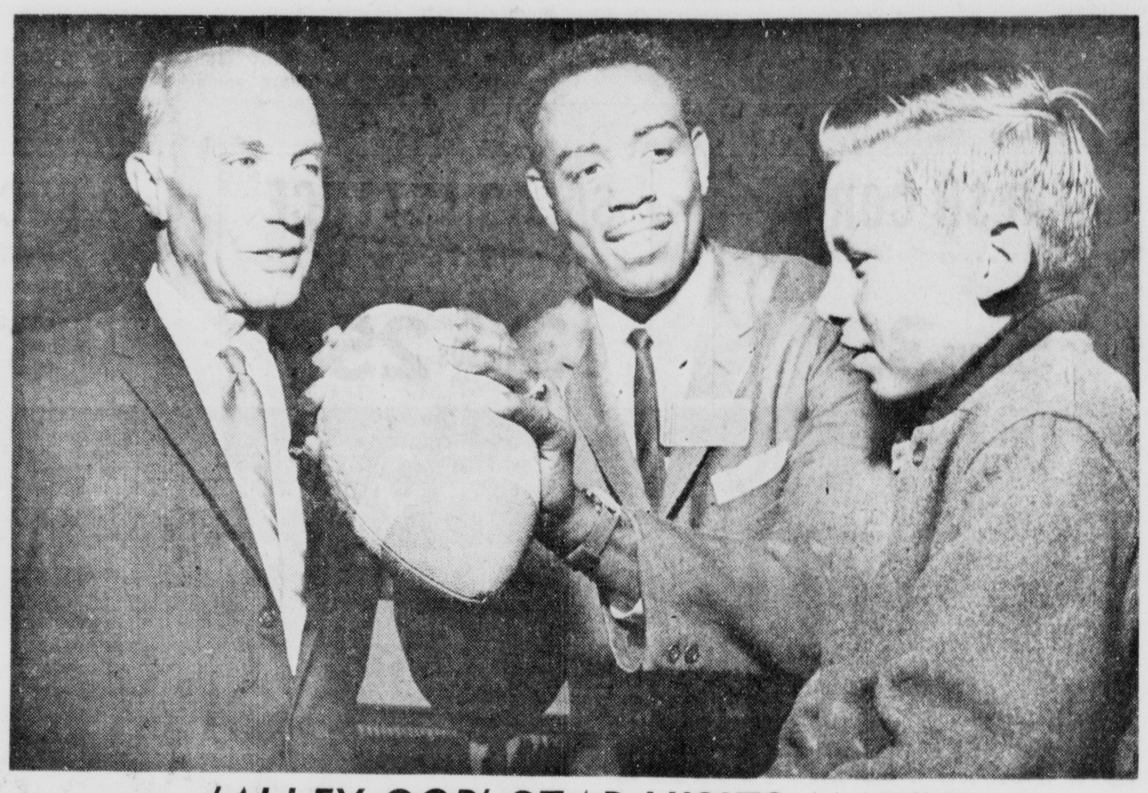
Bennett, according to Mauch, pitched his finest the last two months of 1962 and was counted on heavily in 1963 plans.

The Phils have some good arms and hope to get some help from fellows like Ray Culp, Joel Gibson, Chris Short and others. But as Mauch states, the big loss is centered around Bennett and whether he can pitch back to his 1962 form in the waning days of the season.

DON HOAK, who was traded to the Phils from Pittsburgh, is having a tough time breaking into the lineup the way Don Demeter is playing but Mauch figures when the chips are down Hoak will be there. He plans to use Demeter in the outfield, once Hoak is straightened out.

"Don will be a regular before long and it was always intended that way," Mauch explains, "but I play my players when they're hot and have no sacred cows. Don is just getting acquainted and when he shakes hands all around, he'll be in the middle of our fight for the flag."

Mauch, who is considered to be one of the bright young men among the managerial leaders was pegged at the start to pump new life into the Phils. And nobody can deny that since the passing of the Whiz Kids, he comes pretty close to filling the bill, or at least has the potential.



'ALLEY-OOP' STAR VISITS MARIN

R. C. Owens, who made the "Alley-oop" play famous while with the San Francisco 49ers, visited San Rafael yesterday in his off-season position as public relations representative for the J. C. Penney Co. Owens, now a member of the Baltimore Colts, brought along a football and spent the day chatting with customers at the Penney Co.'s San Rafael store. Here 14-year-old Bob Horton of Woodacre listens to some gridiron tips from Owens while Daniel Fogerty, manager of the San Rafael store, looks on.

8 Straight Whiffs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Manager Fred Hutchinson and the Cincinnati Reds always said that Jim Maloney's hard stuff would overcome his hard luck.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound fireballer from Fresno, Calif., Maloney won nine games for the Reds in 1962 and would have won more except that his teammates developed paralysis of the bat when he appeared on the mound. They didn't score a run for him over the last 20 innings of the '62 season.

Maloney has been getting some runs this season and last night he didn't need any luck—just a ninth-inning helping hand from Bill Henry—when he equalled the modern major league record by striking out eight straight batters in a 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Jim went on to fan a game-total of 16 Braves—the third highest single-game total in modern baseball history.

Maloney's eight consecutive strikeouts tied the mark previously shared by Max Surkont of the 1953 Braves and Johnny Podres ofthe 1962 Los Angeles Dodgers. Bob Feller and Sandy Koufax share the game strikeout record of 18 and Dizzy Dean once struck out 17 batters in a game.

Maloney began his string of strikeouts with the last out in the first inning and ran it to the first out in the fourth before Hank Aaron grounded out. He had allowed only two hits when he walked his third and fourth batters of the game in the ninth and Henry went in to retire the side.

It was Maloney's sixth win against one loss and he has struck out 58 batters in 60⅓ innings. His powerful performance has helped to compensate for Bob Purkey's slow start due to a sore arm as well as the 1-7 record sported by Joey Jay.

Frank Robinson singled in the first inning and hit a sacrifice fly in the third to drive in both Cincinnati runs. Bob Hendley suffered his third defeat compared to four wins.

The San Francisco Giants retained first place with a 3-2 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies, the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the New York Mets, 4-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Houston Colts, 6-5, and the St. Louis Cardinals shaded the Chicago Cubs, 5-4, in other N.L. action.

Johnny Podres pitched a five-hitter to record his third win behind a seven-hit Dodger attack that included two key doubles by Ron Fairly. The game was enlivened in the eighth when outfielder Tommy Davis and coach Leo Durocher of the Dodgers were ejected from the game for arguing over a play at the plate.

Jim Pagliaroni drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer for the Pirates as Al McBean, who pitched four strong innings of middle-inning relief, increased his record to 4-1. The decisive Pagliaroni homer came off relief pitcher Jim Umbricht, who suffered his first loss.

Bill White knocked in three runs with a homer and a single to help the Cardinals' Curt Simmons chalk up victory No. 6. Curt Flood had three hits and Dick Groat and Julian Javier two each in the Cardinals' 10-hit attack.

Prep Golf Tournament Tomorrow In Novato

Something new will be added to the Marin Athletic League golf campaign tomorrow.

The seven high schools in the loop will send their top four golfers to Indian Valley Golf Course in Novato to compete in the first MCAL golf tournament.

Action will start at 4 p.m.

The tourney will be 18 holes of medal play. Winning team will be the one which scores the lowest total strokes between the school's four entrants.

George Lester, San Rafael High School golf coach who is in charge of the tournament, said the winning school will receive a trophy and the members of the team will each receive certificates.

The seven foursomes will be arranged in a way which will allow the loop's top golfers to compete against each other, Lester said.

Warriors Sign Their No. 1 Draft Pick

The San Francisco Warriors have landed their number one draft choice, Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green.

The 6-foot-11 Thurmond is expected to give the Warriors needed rebound strength at forward as well as finally providing a back-up man for center Wilt Chamberlain.

Although Thurmond hit 17.9 points per contest in three years of college play, Warrior officials say that is not primarily why they signed him.

They compare him to Boston's Bill Russell in that he stands out as a rebounder and defensive ace while still scoring his share of points.

PREP BASEBALL ACTION

Drake S. R., Tam Triumph

Drake High's champion Pirates closed out their regular Marin County Athletic League schedule on a triumphant note yesterday with a 5-2 victory over runner-up Redwood at Drake's diamond.

It was the 11th victory against a single setback for Coach Bob Fitzhenry's Pirates who clinched the league title last week.

Elsewhere yesterday, San Rafael clinched fourth place with a 3-1 victory over Marin Catholic and Tamalpais held on to edge Novato 5-4.

The Pirates exploded for four of their runs in the first inning as Bob Faulkner singled home a pair of tallies, Mike Crabtree tripled home another and Lon Gallagher also had a RBI with a single.

Drake's other run came in the sixth when Hamish Tyler tripled and scored on Gallagher's second single of the game. Crabtree also had two hits.

Steve Minutoli had two of Redwood's four hits. Steve White drove in a run with a single and Tom Gootherts drove in the other with a sacrifice fly.

Ted Westerhold, with sixth-inning relief help from Charles Simontacchi, was the winning pitcher.

At San Rafael the Bulldogs rallied for all their runs in the sixth inning as Danny Bell drove home a pair with a single and Tom Zunino drove in the other tally on a sacrifice fly. The inning also featured singles by Tom Massip and Dan Ahern.

Dan Abballo had a double for Marin Catholic.

At Novato the Tam Indians scored all their runs in the first three innings and then held off a late Hornet rally.

Fred Mack tripled home Tam's first run in the first inning and then pitcher John Walker made it 3-0 with a two-run homer.

After Novato scored once in the bottom of the first, Tam came back with a pair in the third on Mack's single, giving him three runs batted in on the day.

Novato scored a solo in the fifth and then threatened to pull the game out of the fire in the seventh as Jerry Howarth's double and Ron Rowell's single each drove in a run. However, Walker escaped further damage by getting the final two outs on a pop up and grounder.

The line scores:

Redwood	000	100	1	2	4	1
Drake	500	001	x	5	7	3

Davi and Maher; Westerhold, Simontacchi (6) and Hannigan.

Marin Catholic	001	000	0	1	5	1

Officials Back Berlin Bid For 1968 Olympics

BERLIN, Germany (AP) — Avery Brundage and other leading Olympic officials have thrown support behind the surprise bid of Berlin to play host to the 1968 Olympic Games.

"It would be a victory of sport over politics," Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee said in Lausanne, Switzerland, yesterday.

He said the IOC welcomed the surprise bid by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

"This would be a great triumph for amateur sports and the Olympic movement and it would put political wrangling to shame," Brundage, president of the IOC, said in Chicago.

"It would be a triumph at least equal to the triumph we had when we had East and West Germany marching together behind the Olympic flag in the past two summer and winter Olympics," Brundage said.

Success of the project hinged on the cooperation of the Communist East Germans. Their cooperation would mean, in effect, lowering the Communist wall.

There has been no official comment from East Germany, but West Berlin sources said East Berlin officials have reacted favorably to the plan.

'Pop' Still Coaching Champions; Marinites Going To Shrine Game

G. T. "Pop" Wendering hasn't coached baseball for several years now, but his influence still is felt around Marin County sandlots.

Wendering for many years was coach at Tamalpais High and considered somewhat of a genius among fellow mentors. It was rare indeed when Tam didn't win a championship. "Pop" had the knack of getting the most out of his players and he developed quite a few professional stars, including major leaguers Sam Chapman, Art Shallock, Karl Olson and Joe DeMaestri.

One of Wendering's pupils was Bob Fitzhenry back in 1938-39. Bob didn't go into pro ball, selecting instead a teaching career in physical education and coaching.

Fitz settled down at Drake High where for the past 13 years he's had more than moderate success in coaching, particularly in swimming and basketball.

This season Fitz, for the first time, took over as head coach of the Drake varsity ball club and—presto!—the Pirates win the championship.

Where does Wendering come in? Gladja asked.

"Every time I was confronted with a problem or a touchy situation in a game," Fitzhenry explained, "I said to myself, 'What would Pop Wendering do in a case like this?' Then I'd do what I thought he would do, by golly, it seemed to work. 'Pop' was always my idol. I really respected him as a man and a coach."

We just thought "Pop" Wendering, now in the real estate business in Mill Valley, would like to know he's still "coaching" championship teams.

WITH REDWOOD HIGH'S father-son team of Bob and Jim Troppmann handling coaching and quarterbacking jobs for the North, several Marin fans are planning to take in the North-South Shrine football game in Los Angeles Aug. 1.

Tickets for the game can be obtained by writing to the North-South Football Office, 655 West Jefferson Boulevard, Los Angeles 7, Calif. They are priced at $5, $3, and $1.50.

Coach Troppmann will assemble his 25-man All-Star squad of graduating seniors at UCLA for opening practice on July 20.

MARIN COUNTY Athletic League Coaches Assn. will meet tonight to select the All-League team, elect officers and conduct other business.

REDWOOD HIGH'S champion golf team defeated the school's faculty in a fun match at the Meadow Club Monday—but best score of the day was turned in by a teach, yet. And a girl, at that! Girls physical ed instructor Melinda Magly fired low score of 38—off the men's tees.

Cadet Star Admitted To Stanford

David Blaine, president of the senior class at San Rafael Military Academy and a top athlete, has been admitted to Stanford University, it was announced today by academy officials.

Blaine, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Blaine of San Rafael, will enter Stanford next September.

He was chosen All-Conference tackle two years while playing on the academy grid team and was co-captain of the team last season. He also won the school's outstanding lineman award and was nominated to play in the Shrine North-South game.

Blaine also competes in swimming, diving and track. He hopes to continue his athletic career at Stanford where he will major in medicine.

A member of the Scholastic Honor Roll at the academy for several years, Blaine is president of the local chapter of the National Honor Society. He is also the second highest ranking officer in the Cadet Battalion, holding the rank of major and serving as executive officer of the Cadet Corps.

SUNDAY—Wally Teague, 78-10 68; Stan Park, 86-15—71; Mike O'Connell, 87-11—76.

Country Club Bowl Has Softball Team

Newly-formed Country Club Bowl softball team of San Rafael will play its first practice game of the season Friday night against the Fairchild Corp. team at Albert Park, San Rafael, 8 o'clock.

Manager Dan Olsen of the Country Club said his team will enter a San Rafael recreation league this summer.

LAGOON GETS MORE TROUT

Rodeo Lagoon at Fort Chronkhite is the only Marin County body of water scheduled to be restocked with catchable-sized trout this week, the Department of Fish and Game announced today.

Last week the department planted fish in lakes Phoenix, Lagunitas and Bon Tempe as well as Rodeo Lagoon.

Sohner's, Stan's Split Twin Bill

Sohner's Tree Service and Stan's Sport Shop, formerly Rancho Nicasio, split a softball double-haeder Monday night in San Rafael—Sohner taking a 12-2 victory in the opener and Stan's 5-4 squeaker in the nightcap.

Jay Leatherwood's two-hit pitching and Milt Hain's bases loaded triple led the Treemen in the opener. One of the losers' hits was a home run by Nolan Wilson.

In the nightcap, Wilson's second homer of the night and Scott Irving's two-run single were key blows for Stan's which rallied for four runs in the fifth inning to overcome a 1-4 deficit.

N. L. Cracks Down On 'Undesirables'

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — President Warren Giles of the National League, stepping up baseball's campaign to have players avoid "undesirable elements," has singled out a night club in Milwaukee as a place for them to stay away from.

"Gamblers and hustlers frequent the place," Giles told the clubs in a memo, according to a Braves spokesman. He said it was the only place pinpointed by Giles out of all 10 cities in the league. The league president's communique was issued about a month ago when the professional football scandal broke, but wasn't made known until now.

However, the Braves spokesman said it was known that managers of all the teams know certain places in each league city they have told players to stay out of.

"There probably is a tie-in here with the National Football league's gambling scandal," said the Braves spokesman. The same night club had been frequented by members of the Green Bay Packers and visiting NFL teams when they played in Milwaukee.

Circuit Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, legal counsel for the major league baseball players, was quoted as saying, "There aren't enough lawyers in the world to defend me," if he identified the establishment to the public.

Giles' memo was described as "informal" and spelled out no penalties for any player who would go to the night club despite the warning.

"That's all it was—a warning," said the Braves spokesman. "The league apparently wanted players to know about the place so they could stay away from it."

Cannon has completed visits to every major league team since the start of spring training to warn players about associating with so-called undesirable characters and frequenting places where they hang out.

Former College Star To Be In 10-Rounder

Roger Rouse of San Francisco has been matched to meet Sonny Miles of Oakland in a 10-rounder on May 27 in San Francisco, according to promoter Lou Thomas.

Rouse, former intercollegiate champion, has a 19-1 mark and Miles is 18-1.

Only four National League players took part in all their team's games last season. They were Maury Wills of the Dodgers, Dick Groat of the Pirates, Frank Robinson of the Reds and Ron Santo of the Cubs.

Approval On Tap For NBA Switch

NEW YORK (AP) — A special meeting of the National Basketball Assn. is expected to approve the shift of the Syracuse Nats to Philadelphia today. The move will restore the NBA to Philadelphia after a one-year absence.

The meeting was called last week by outgoing NBA president Maurice Podoloff to discuss the sale of the Nats to a Philadelphia group.

Sweet And Crunchy Cookie First Prize Contest Winner

When we heard that a food company was conducting a recipe contest for its employees—a purely "family affair"—we asked to be let in on the results. Now we can tell you about the top winner—a sweet and crunchy cookie that won first prize.

How is such a contest judged? "On the basis of originality, excellence of product and palatability," the contest announcement states. And there is an added note: "We think a recipe that needs very special equipment to prepare or ingredients that are not readily available is not practical."

THE WINNING cookie recipe more than meets these requirements. It's made with a refrigerator dough that's simple to prepare and uses a time-honored product, corn flakes, in an unexpected way. These cookies have great keeping qualities—the corn flakes stay crisp down to the last bite. Tried in our own kitchen, we had to fend off tasters in order to have any cookies left to keep.

One hint from our testing: When you pack the dough into rolls for refrigerator storage before slicing and baking, pack tightly. Then when you slice the dough, don't worry if a few edges break off—just pat them back with your fingers. Although this recipe does not state exactly to what degree to chop the nuts with which the rolls of dough are coated, we veered to the coarse side. This way, after baking, there's a wonderful flavor of toasted nuts to savor.

THE ORIGINATOR of this cookie has eight grandchildren. No wonder she knows how good cookies should taste! She grew up in the midwest and has lived there ever since. Her hobby? She's an African violet fancier.

$100 PECAN ROLL COOKIES

1 cup soft shortening
1 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup confectioner's sugar (sifted)
1 tbsp vanilla
3 cups sifted flour
3 cups corn flakes
2 cups chopped pecans

Beat together shortening, butter, sugar and vanilla until the consistency of thick whipped cream; add flour and mix well. Stir in corn flakes. Divide dough into four equal portions; shape into rolls about 1½ inches in diameter. Coat rolls with pecans; wrap each roll in waxed paper, sealing ends, and refrigerate at least 12 hours. Cut in ½-inch slices, place a little apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 6 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Note: If dough is too soft to be shaped into rolls, chill before shaping as well as after.

Almonds Are Embellishers For Cakes

Almonds, a favorite of all good cooks, are great embellishers. Here are some reminders of the ways they may be used when you want to keep your family happy by varying everyday dishes.

Next time you make a frosted cake, add this garnish. Dip one end of blanched whole almonds in melted semi-sweet chocolate, then insert the nuts—chocolate tip up—in the frosting. Delightful to look at and delicious to eat.

YOUNGSTERS usually adore "porcupines." Soften cream cheese and beat with a little milk or cream. Arrange a pear halve (fresh or canned) with the rounded side up on a lettuce leaf. Frost the pear halves with the cream cheese and insert almond "quills."

Plain sugar cookies taste extra good when they are given this treatment before they are baked. Brush the rolled-out and cut dough with slightly beaten egg white; sprinkle with a mixture of sugar, grated lemon or orange rind and finely chopped almonds.

ALMONDS give steamed rice great texture and flavor contrast. Just stir toasted slivered almonds into the cooked rice at the same time you add butter.

So many green vegetables—peas, snap beans, broccoli and asparagus—benefit from almonds. Add the blanched slivered toasted nuts to melted butter and pour over the cooked vegetable.

CUSTARD-type puddings—vanilla, chocolate and butterscotch—with their bland flavor and smooth texture take to a crisp almond topping.

Sunday brunch coming up? You can make almond-cinnamon buns in a hurry and they'll be freshly baked. Serve them with eggs and bacon; men usually like these because they're not too sweet.

ALMOND CINNAMON BUNS

¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup butter or margarine, softened
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
12 brown-and-serve butterflake rolls

In a small bowl, stir together the sugar and cinnamon; blend in the butter. Stir in almonds lightly. Partially separate sections of rolls; spread each with about 1 tablespoon of the butter mixture. Place in ungreased muffin pans and bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Serve at once. (AP)

Parmesan Beans Fine-Flavored

If you want this green-bean dish to taste its best, choose a fine-flavored Parmesan cheese for it.

Meat Loaf with Bacon Strips
Baked Potatoes
Parmesan Beans
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Spice Cookies Beverage

PARMESAN BEANS

1 pound snap beans
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan cheese

Cut tips off snap beans; scrub in cold water; drain. Cook rapidly, covered, in the boiling water and salt just until tender-crisp—about 10 minutes; lift cover a few times to help keep beans green. Drain. Add butter and Parmesan and toss with beans to distribute evenly. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Chicken This Way Has Crisp Coating

Chicken fried this way has a crisp coating.

Crisp Fried Chicken
Chive Potatoes
Curried Tomatoes
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Strawberry Shortcake

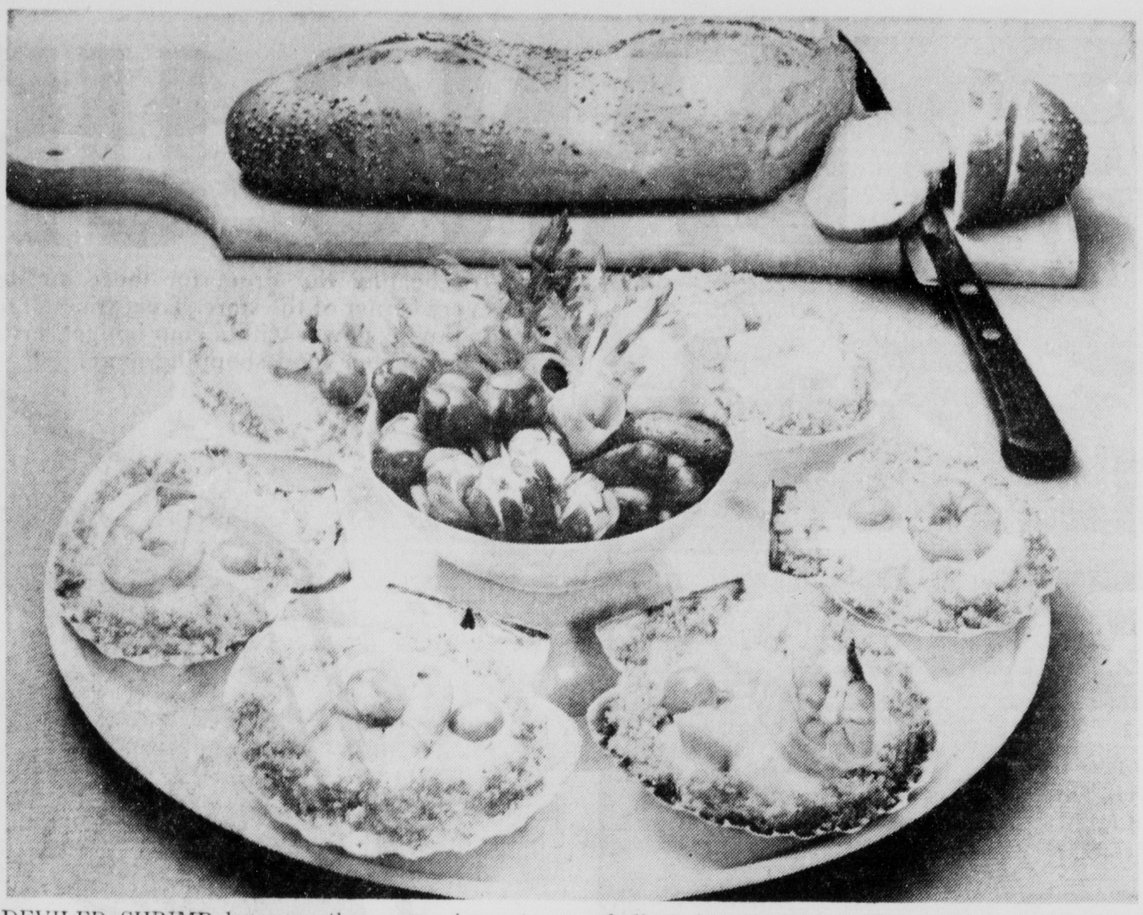
CRISP FRIED CHICKEN

2 broiler-fryers (about 2 lbs. each, ready-to-cook weight)
1⅓ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon baking soda

Have chickens cut so drumsticks, 2nd joints, wings, breasts and backs are separate; then have each breast cut into 4 pieces and each back into 2 pieces. Mix together the flour, salt and pepper. Stir baking soda into buttermilk. Roll chicken, a piece at a time, in seasoned flour; dip into buttermilk; roll again in flour. Fry in deep fat (350 degrees), without frying basket, until lightly browned—10 to 15 minutes—and cooked through. Makes 8 servings.

Taste Pleaser

For sophisticatetd tastes: add slivers of syrup-preserved ginger to chocolate sauce and serve over vanilla ice cream. If the syrup-preserved ginger isn't available, use the kind that comes in packages and wash off its coating of granulated sugar under hot water. The water will soften the ginger and make it easy for you to cut into thin strands. But remember that a little ginger goes a long way, so add with a light hand.



DEVILED SHRIMP by any other name is party-right fare when served bubbling hot in individual shells or from a casserole. The zesty flavored cream sauce and shrimp are given further flavor and texture enhancement with fresh mushrooms.

Succulent Deviled Shrimp Year-Round Flavor Treat

Flavor and top nutrition go hand in hand in this Deviled Shrimp as protein-vitamin-and-mineral-rich cream sauce and shrimp combine for a party dish worthy of your most distinguished luncheon or supper guests. By the same token, it is so easily prepared that it is a favorite of busy homemakers for "family fare."

Serve in individual shells or ramekins or from a casserole. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups milk
Tabasco sauce
*2 cups cooked shrimp, deveined
1 cup sliced mushrooms
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Buttered dry bread crumbs

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; blend in flour, salt and mustard. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Season with Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco to taste. Add shrimp, mushrooms and eggs. Cook 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Pour into individual baking dishes or a casserole; sprinkle with buttered dry bread crumbs. Garnish each with whole cooked shrimp or mushroom caps, if desired. Shells may be re-heated in a moderate, 375 degree, oven for 15 to 20 minutes; a casserole 25 to 30 minutes or until sauce is bubbly and lightly browned.

*Note: 2 pounds fresh or frozen shrimp as purchased in shells yields 3 generous cups cooked, shelled shrimp. The extras may be used as garnish.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Chester Bowles Honor Guest At Reception In Ross Home

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Chester Bowles was honored at a reception Monday night at the Ross home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Skewes-Cox. Bowles, named by President Kennedy as United States Ambassador to India, was here only briefly and so had little time to visit his son, Chester Bowles Jr. of Tiburon, his wife and their four sons. However the junior Mr. and Mrs. Bowles attended the reception as did the host's mother, Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox, and other family members and about a hundred friends. The reception preceded the ambassador's address at the Foreign Policy Institute at Stanford University.

The speaker, who was ambassador to India from 1951 to 1953, said he expects the problems will be greater when he goes to India this time because of its conflict with Red China. He said India is the only nation that shares the United States' views on Communist China.

After the Stanford meeting Bowles boarded a plane for the flight to Washington, D.C., to join his wife. They probably will stay in the Bay Area briefly before they take off for India.

MRS. ROBERT D. FORD (Barbara Johnson) and her husband arrived unexpectedly from their home in Caracas, Venezuela when their daughter Ellen Ford telephoned them she and Gerald Peter O'Connell were to be married last Saturday in Reno. The Fords flew north and joined the wedding party for the flight to Reno. Also on the plane were Ellen's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ford of Ross, Gerald's brother, Thomas O'Connell, and three young friends, Diane Delanoy, Richard Julien Jr. and Patrick Cahill. The bride's sister, Victoria (Vicki) Ford, was her sister's attendant and another sister, Janet, was also at the wedding. So were the bride's brothers, Richard and Philip Ford. However, the youngest, Robert, had to remain at Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach. Also unable to attend because of previous plans were Mrs. Ford's sister, Mrs. Rowland Chapman, and her husband, who live in Kent Woodlands.

Tom was best man for his brother at the late afternoon ceremony which was followed by a dinner at the Mapes Hotel given by Mr. and Mrs. Ford. Monday the bridal couple and Ellen's parents had a luncheon at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco. The bride's father left for Caracas yesterday but his wife will remain at their home in Ross for a three months' stay. In August Mr. Ford will rejoin his family at Lake Tahoe where they have rented a house.

Ellen, who studied at Dominican Convent and Sweet Briar, made her debut in 1957. Vicki made her debut also at the San Francisco Cotillion in December of 1961.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Joseph O'Connell of San Francisco. He attended San Francisco State College.

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Chapman were reared in Ross where their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston, lived for many years. Ellen and her husband will reside in San Francisco.

A complete surprise was the party for Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Young of San Rafael at their home Saturday. The open house was given by Mrs. Young's sisters, Mrs. Paul Neville of Stockton and Mrs. Robert Gardiner of Larkspur, and their husbands. The large wedding cake was topped by the same bridal figures which had been on the wedding cakes of all three sisters. The lace of the bride doll had been on the wedding gown of the mother of the sisters.

At the party was the Youngs' daughter, Susan Young, a student at Linfield College in Oregon and their son and daughter-in-law, Bill and Mary Ann Young. Bill is a pre-medical student at the University of California.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Hansel, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hahn and Messrs. and Mesdames C. I. Erb, David Minch, Harold Fleming, Mel Quyle, Donald K. Stuart, Z. P. Melcon, E. R. McWilliams, Harold Ellis, Merwin Head, Warren L. Clark, Fred Haughton, Walter Wilson, Elias Day, Elliot Ginochino, Walter Wilson and Mrs. Warren Strode.

BAMBOO BLAST wast the name of the dance given Saturday night at the Tiburon Peninsula Club honoring the Reed Union School District eighth grade graduates.

The dance was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. John H. Flint, Messrs. and Mesdames William R. Myers, Everett A. Girtler, Frank G. King, Donald C. Mitchell, Robert B. Bagnall, George V. Banning, William R. Davis, Edgar B. Reed and Mrs. Marjorie F. Wardwell.

Board To Fete Novato Teachers

The Novato Unified School District Board of Trustees will be guests of honor at a tea sponsored by the Novato Teachers Assn. from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Friday, at the Rancho School in Novato.

Her only attendant, Patricia Burke of Lompoc, wore a two-piece pink sheath dress and patent accessories. John Murphy of Pasadena was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Patchett of West Covina.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Las Vegas and are residing in Isla Vista while they attend the University of California at Santa Barbara. The bride was graduated from Redmond High School and is in her sophomore year at the university, while her husband is a senior student. He was graduated from high school in Grand Valley, Ohio.

Don't Try To Get Newsman To Keep News From Paper

Several times in recent days friends or acquaintences have come to us saying, "Please help us keep something out of the newspaper . . . "

"Wait a minute," we interrupt, "one of the surest ways of getting something in the paper is to tell a newspaperman about it. By telling him a newsworthy item and then asking him not to print it, you are giving him the choice of betraying the integrity he must retain with his readers or betraying whatever friendship there is between you and him. Believe us, he won't often betray his integrity."

"But it's such a little thing," they continue. "It's not really for me that I want the story killed, but it's the way it will affect the children."

"Why didn't you think about that earlier?" we're tempted to say, but seldom do.

Instead, we often tell the story that happened one day when a friend of our editor's wife came in to see us. She was going to be married, she said, but her fiance didn't want the notice of the marriage license to be published. That's not very much, she concluded, and the editor's wife would be so appreciative.

Sorry, we told her, all vital statistics in the county are published.

We published the license. The next day the fiance's first wife appeared and objected strongly to the wedding. He hadn't been divorced.

A newsman can't tell what effect an item will have. The only protection he has is to be as absolutely truthful and complete in his report as possible.

There's another major reason. People rely upon what they see in print. They rely on it in direct proportion to their experience on the reliability of the publication in which they read it.

Thus if a newspaper gets the reputation of suppressing the news or of holding back items on request or of failing to report about some "sacred cows," it loses the faith of its readers.

This is of prime importance to the advertisers. If a newspaper is believed, the readers also are more apt to believe the advertisements. If the paper has a bad reputation, the ads aren't as effective.

This is why that old complaint that "just because he's a big advertiser you don't print anything bad about his son," has no foundation. Advertisers have learned they do themselves harm if they attempt to influence a paper's news content.

What to do then if something happens which you are fearful might reflect badly on you if published? First decide whether it is "really news" from the public's, not your point of view.

If it is, then call the paper and give your side of the story so that the paper can easily get a balanced, fair report.

If you think it might not be newsworthy, don't try to stop its publication; that's a challenge to print it. Instead, keep your lips sealed, fingers crossed and hope for some big news break that day so there won't be room for your little item.

Our Four-Wheeled Pets

Marinites tend to regard their cars as pets. Some people we know would about as soon lose an arm as trade in Old Bessie. When a machine does well by us, we are partial to it.

Automobiles are a necessity for most Marinites, who live some distance from jobs and stores. Perhaps it is only natural that we lavish so much time and attention on the care, grooming and feeding of our four wheeled pets.

Despite our rainy, muddy winters, Marin's cars usually show the results of washing and polishing.

If cars were dogs, ours would be pampered poodles. Only a few wear jeweled collars or have an expensive pedigree, but most are well-trimmed and manicured.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

What Can We Do With Obsolete Missiles When They're Obsolete?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Every now and then something pops up that seems to fit in with my pet economic theory, which is called "Disposalism."

Although it gets rather complicated around the edges, the basic concept of Disposalism is quite simple.

It rests on the postulate that we are nearing the point where itwill beh arder to get rid of things than it is to acquire them.

Already we can see signs of creeping Disposalism. It is, for example, easier to grow more grain than we can use than it is to dispose of the excess production.

Atomic power can now be readily produced, but getting rid of the radioactive waste materials has become a major problem. And so on.

A new manifestation of Disposalism came to my attention in a volume of testimony published by the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

As might be expected, it was Rep. Daniel J. (Silent Dan) Flood, (D-Pa.) who laid his finger on the problem. In fact, he laid his thumb on it, too.

Flood posed the question of what the Armed Forces intend to do with their old ballistic missiles when the models now in use are made obsolete by more advanced designs.

"Will they be just scrapped or what?" Flood inquired. "Can those birds be put in inventory and used as support sometime like old ammunition? Can they be reworked? What happens to those birds? We have not done this yet but what do you think we might do?"

As you can see, when "Silent Dan" poses a question he touched all the bases and takes the scenic route home.

The Air Force officer who was in the witness chair replied that "we just do not have a specific disposition plan now."

ALTHOUGH FLOOD and other subcommittee members did not appear particularly disturbed, this negative response fairly made my hair stand on end.

In my opinion, nothing less than a crash program is needed. This is not the sort of problem that can be solved overnight.

After all, there is a limit to the number of things you can do with old missiles. They are a bit large to convert into salt and pepper shakers and I doubt there would be much demand for them as flower vases.

IN TIMES PAST, they would have made a dandy item for Fourth of July picnics, but in many areas now, the use of fireworks is prohibited.

And, the game laws being what they are, you would need a special permit to use them for duck hunting.

I'm just thinking off the top of my head, btu as a stopgap plan I would recommend turning them over to the Navy. It could use them to hold the mothballs for the Mothball Fleet.

Bagley Hits Plateau In Charging Governor With 'Political Glossolalia'

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) may have hit something of a plateau recently when he issued a press release charging Gov. Edmund G. Brown with practicing "political glossolalia" in blaming lobbyists, then obstructionists and finally political contributors for the current difficulties with the administration's legislative program.

The term glossolalia, which means speaking with tongues, has been used somewhat recently in connection with church service. While it might send some readers scurrying for a dictionary, it is somewhat of a welcome relief from the greatly overworked terms of "responsible" and "irresponsible" which seldom are missing from political news releases these days.

ASSEMBLYMAN Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks), Republican floor leader, had issued a statement accusing the administration of setting up a general services department, even though the Legislature has refused to approve such an agency as yet.

"This is just another example of the complete irresponsibility of the present Democrtic administration," Conrad wrote.

While Conrad's offering was marked for release on a Sunday, Hale Champion, Brown's director of finances, was out with an answer on Friday.

CHAMPION DENIED there had been any major change in the internal organization of the sprawling department of finance and the only reason "general services" had been lettered on one office door was to direct the public to the proper offices. Conrad and Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (R-Redwood City), minority whip, had posed for a picture by the sign.

"What appalls me about this apparently serious allegation is its utter irresponsibility and lack of even minor interest in the facts," Champion said in his answering news release.

Frankly, this writer found more interest in the Conrad-Champion exchanges when the latter was offering to bet the rose-colored glasses with which he was charged as wearing against the fright wig he accused Conrad of wearing.

Amid this type of mimeograph exchange, a rather restrained type of statement comes from Caspar W. Weinberger, Republican state chairman and former member of the legislature. Entitled "The Republican Alternative," the statement sets forth the GOP program for California, in quite general terms.

WEINBERGER SAID the first obligation of the opposition party is to point out the errors and deficiencies of the party in power.

Secondly, Weinberger said, the opposition party should develop and present to the voters its plans, basic beliefs that would be brought into government if the opposition party were returned to power.

Governor Brown often has accused the Republicans of failing to come up with alternatives for his programs. Weinberger's statement, while not going into specifics, makes some attempt in that direction:

"THE REPUBLICAN Party recognizes that it is no help to any individual and can do great harm to the state as a whole, if the Brown administration plan is followed under which money that we do not have, is spent for governmental projects that we do not need.

"The Republican philosophy is, and always has been, that the rights of the individual—all individuals—must be paramount, and that all governmental activity must be directed toward creating freedom for the individual as opposed to the Democratic philosophy which turns first to government and seeks more governmental power to solve everything which appears to be a problem."

The Weinberger statement may not offer anything specific enough to hang a vote on, but he doesn't use the word "irresponsible" once.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Schools Question Is Rhetorical

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the several letters published by you regarding the county schools office, the frequently reiterated question "what is going on there?" is surely a rhetorical one. For it must be patent to the letter writers what is indeed obvious to any of us giving it a second thought: that the office of county superintendent, certainly one of the most important of the county elective offices, is being used today as a political stepping stone.

It is odd indeed that a man whose educational philosophy (if it can be so dignified) revolved around the notion of "getting along" should have such difficulty getting along with the more capable members of his staff.

My own question is not so much "what is going on there"—but, how can we do something about it?

County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said Marin income from agriculture in 1952 was 14.5 million dollars as compared with 13.5 million dollars in 1951. Main reason for the boost was a 1.5-million-dollar increase in the dairy industry.

Elmer E. Shafer, chairman of the scholarship committee of the Marin Central Labor Council, announced a $500 annual scholarship award for a Marin graduating high school student able to prove to proficiency on labor topics.

Before she hit the jackpot as a novelist, a now-famous writer applied for the job of school teacher in a sparsely settled county adjoining the one where she had been reared. The school board president was relaxing on his front porch. "I know your family, miss," said the president. "Is it true that one of your cousins killed a man and your father bribed enough witnesses to save him from the chair?" "Yes, sir," admitted the applicant. "I'm not denying it."

"Is it also true," he continued, "that another of your cousins killed her husband and is now serving a term in the penitentiary?" "No, sir," blurted our heroine. "She's out! They sent her up for five years, but she got out in three for good behavior. But," she added, "with all those facts, I don't suppose you'll want me to teach in your system."

"Lady," he assured her, rising to his feet, "you're the very one we do want. You can't hold your head above nobody!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A Swamp Can Be A Duck Pond, Swimming Hole Or A Supermarket

This is about a swamp. It is in wild, unincorporated Tiburon territory, but it may be annexed by the gentle City of Belvedere.

It has been called The Lagoon, The Swamp, The Duck Pond and, since 1955, Zelinsky's Lake.

People have been making a fuss over the pond area lately because it may become urbanized and bear a "Safeway store named "The Belvedere." So, being a curious reporter type, I took a trip to Tiburon the other day to look at the lake.

THE ROAD TO Tiburon is very exciting. Apartments are popping up. Red Hill is falling down and roads are being shifted about.

Fireman Bob Wallermann gave me directions and I headed down the railroad tracks. There it was just like a picture. The water was calm. Tules stood straight all around, a red-winged blackbird shrieked "tching, tching."

In the swamp was an old tree, a white kitchen stove and a lumber yard full of boards, fine for rafts. No frogs.

Across the swamp was a yellow bulldozer filling in the water. Off in the distance was Red Hill with a tractor working feverishly on the slipping side.

I WENT BACK to the firehouse where Fire Chief Frank Buscher described the lake as "The Lagoon" and said he remembered every year when baseball players used to pump it out to play ball.

"I used to catch rubber lips there," said John Pastori, a visiting retired fireman.

"What are they?" I asked, and he said "Perch." He also rowed a boat on the swamp and caught crabs, he said.

Telephoning Frank Brooks, he explained he calls the swamp "Duck Pond." Brooks said "Thirty years ago we hunted ducks down there, first with sling shots and later was shotguns."

"We also played football in the water," Brooks continued, "choosing sides with Sausalito, Tam Valley and Ross. After the game, we ran down to the dock as Sam's and jumped overboard to get washed off." Brooks also made rafts, he said.

Owner Fred G. Zelinsky, who says he will have a store on the property by December, adds that the lake was originally about 10 acres but that he does not plan to fill it entirely.

"I am ggoing to follow the proposed draining district now being formed and will leave a ponding action," he said. He thinks of Main Street, Tiburon, as his hobby and thinks of his proposed Belvedere development in more of a commercial vein.

LATER I WENT to Musso's French Pastry Shop on Main Street. John Musso was mixing some pastry with his hands in a large, round metal bowl. Everything seemed to be standing still in his shop. It was great.

I told John I was with a newspaper and he said immediately "I don't want to advertise." I told John "I don't sell. I just want a story."

Then we talked a couple minutes and he told me he had just re-opened after being closed for a year and one-half. He seemed in no hurry.

And I said this is my kind of man—a slow sail boater, an easy-going pastry chef, a man who sits by the swamp to catch rubber lips.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

'Fishing Boats' Speed Castroism To Americas

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Russia is using a fleet of several hundred high-speed "fishing boats" to export Fidel Castro's Communist revolution to other Latin American countries.

These oceon-going trawlers, which can sail rings around the World War II naval vessels of neighboring Caribbean nations, are transporting arms and Red-trained guerrillas to Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Mexico, Guatemala and Brazil.

The "fishing boats" — constructed so they can be quickly converted for military use —have a carrying capacity of 150 to 250 passengers, or 300 to 550 gross tons of fish or arms. Their speed ranges up to 30 knots.

IN THE PAST six weeks, U.S. patrol vessels and aircraft have regularly sighted these Soviet trawlers making high-speed runs from Cuba to Mexico, concentrating on areas close to Guatemala and Venezuela.

Several of these powerful Russian "fishing boats" were spotted early this month unloading arms and men in an isolated cove of Margarita Island off the coast of Venezuela. The weapons and Communist-trained guerrillas were enroute to camps near Caracas, only an hour-and-a-half by air from Margarita.

Significantly, it was on Margarita Island that Simon Bolivar, famed South American patriot, proclaimed himself leader of the rebel army that ultimately overthrew Spanish rule.

THE U. S. CONSUL in Veracruz, Mexico, has informed the State Department that 30 Russian fishing vessels are operating in the Gulf of Mexico, making regular trips to Cuba and using Veracruz as a base for supplies.

Many of these "fishing boats" have the latest electronic gear—far in excess of that normally deemed necessary for fishing operations. The ships are manned by Soviet crews, but usually carry Cuban and other Spanish-speaking passengers.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, led by outgoing Chief of Naval Operations George Anderson, are so disturbed by this growing new Russian threat that they have quietly launched a drive inside the administration and Congress to induce President Kennedy and his policy-makers to take prompt and forceful counter measures.

The military commanders stress that despite the President's public pledge to Caribbean leaders at the recent Costa Rica conference to formulate plans to build a "wall of men" around Cuba, nothing has yet been lone to make this a firm policy.

It is pointed out that the U.S. Navy, the only force powerful enough to halt this expanding arms and guerrilla traffic, has not been committed to do that. The Navy has neither directives nor orders to take such urgently needed action.

NAVY OPERATIONS in Cuban waters are now strictly limited to the surveillance of Russian shipping. Even that is far from effective because of the immense area to be covered and the small number of ships assigned to the job.

In a private meeting with members of the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee, Admiral Anderson declared frankly it would take a large-scale naval blockade to halt the Communist traffic of guerrillas and arms from Cuba to other Latin American countries. He emphasizes this was his own opinion and not the administration's.

President Kennedy and his policy-makers have ruled out a blockade as the solution. Instead, they have embarked on a series of conferences with the threatened nations to determine what they can do to combat this intensifying menace to them.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You Must Trust Your Partner Even When He Is Acting Crazy

If you saw the president of your bank walking down the street on his hands, you might think he had suddenly gone crazy. If you are of the material that good bridge partners are made of, your reaction would be different.

You would say to yourself: "There must be a good reason for this, and it's up to me to work out that reason."

Opening lead — ♠ A

West opened the ace of spades and continued with the deuce. East won the second spade and returned the three of hearts.

SOUTH WON

South won with the jack of hearts, led a trump to dummy's ace and returned the nine of diamonds from dummy. East stepped up with the king of diamonds and led the 10 of spades.

South followed suit with this third spade, and West discarded the deuce of clubs.

WRONG REACTION

East continued with another spade, but South could not be over-ruffed. Declarer drew trumps and ran the rest of the tricks to make the contract.

West had the wrong reaction when East made his strange heart play at the second trick.

Instead of thinking that East had gone crazy, West should have said to himself:

"WEIRD PLAY"

"That's a weird play. Why is my partner leading a heart? He must have a good reason, and I must work it out so that I know what he has in mind."

West would need only about one second to work out the reason for the shift to hearts. Having seen that East was trying to ruff, West would ruff the third round of spades to return a heart.

East would get his heart ruff, and South would go down.

Please don't write in to say that your partner really is crazy and that if you tried to find a reason for his strange play you'd go crazy too.

Good defense is impossible unless each defender trusts his partner.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday. May 22, the 142nd day of 1963 with 223 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the controversial Tidelands Oil Bill, guaranteeing coastal states the rights to all minerals in submerged lands within their historic boundaries.

In 1807, former Vice President Aaron Burr went on trial for "treason" in Richmond, Va. He was acquitted the following August.

A thought for the day:— Plato said: "Human nature cannot know the mystery of an art without experience."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Medical Profession Has Respect For Corticosteroid For Most Part

VAN DELLEN

We can thank Dr. Philip S. Hench for his conviction that the reason arthritics improved during pregnancy or when jaundiced was because a special substance was produced in the adrenal glands in these conditions. This adrenal hormone, originally called compound E, was renamed cortisone. In 1948, when a small supply became available, Dr. Hench tried it on a patient with rheumatoid arthritis, and the results were unbelievable.

Since then, chemists by juggling molecules, have come up with many synthetic corticosteroids which are used extensively in treating various diseases. Among the earlier products were ACTH, hydrocortisone, prednisone, and prednisolone. Since then, we have had desoxycorticosterone, fluorometholone, triamcinolone, and others, under numerous trade names. They vary in their ability to suppress inflammation and to alter metabolism. In addition, they differ in the duration of activity and in absorption from different sites such as the eye and skin.

THESE STEROIDS are of specific value when the adrenal glands become sluggish, leading to a variety of conditions such as Addison's disease. They are life-saving when the gland is subjected to overwhelming stress because of injury, burn, shock, or infection.

The products also are useful in treating maladies unrelated to the adrenals. The list includes rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic fever, bursits, bronchial asthma, and a variety of acute allergic and inflammatory eye conditions and acute and chronic skin disorders. In general, the good results are temporary except when the body cooperates by healing the defect while undergoing treatment.

THE MEDICAL profession has considerable respect for corticosteroids. Their continued usage is associated with many side reactions such as the tendency to accumulate fat, which leads to a buffalo hump at the neck, facial puffiness, acne, and the deposition of pigment in the skin and nails. Women may grow unwanted hair or lose scalp hair. The blood pressure may rise, diabetes often develops, and muscle weakness becomes disturbing. In some, there are more serious reactions. The majority of these symptoms disappear after the steroid is stopped.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if sttamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SORE TONGUE

R.F. writes: We have a case of pellagra so bad the tongue is sore all the time. Is this disease contagious?

REPLY

No, but a common cause may exist since "we" are involved. Pellagra is due to a vitamin deficiency that is easily corrected with niacin and a well balanced diet. I assume the diagnosis is correct and there is no contagious infection of the tongue.

WANTS HARDER WORK

G.B. writes: Is it wise to take a job involving hard physical work after age 40? I feel my present job is too soft.

REPLY

Not if you are healthy. It may take time to make the adjustment but don't change simply because you have developed an obsession about the need for more exercise.

X-RAYS OF COLON

R.N. writes: If a patient has no complaints and eats well, how does the doctor determine whether he has diverticulosis?

REPLY

Through a barium X-ray of the intestine, as part of the routine annual physical checkup.

FLUORIDE FOR CHILDREN

A.M. writes: Will tablets containing fluoride retard cavities in children's teeth?

REPLY

Yes, so long as they are taken during childhood.

Today's Health Hint — You can prolong the prime of life.

Scientist Says Man To Control Population Soon

BERKELEY (UPI) — Man will soon be able to control his numbers and after that the quality of the human population as well, Nobel Prize-winning chemist Melvin Calvin has predicted.

But the problem of how to use this unprecedented power will make the discovery of atomic fission seem "as prosaic as the invention of dynamite," the University of California professor of chemistry declared in a lecture here recently.

"Thousands of years gone, it was recognized that man could not live by bread alone," Doctor Calvin said. "It is essential that man consider, now, that need beyond physical survival, and beyond factual knowledge and beyond manipulation through knowledge."

Mountain Play Repeat Sunday

A repeat performance of the annual Tamalpais Mountain Play will be presented at 2 p.m. Sunday in the outdoor amphitheater near the crest of Mount Tamalpais.

The play is "Tamalpa," fictional legend of the mountain written and directed by Dan Totheroh. The first performance, last Sunday, played to a near-capacity audience in the 5,000-seat theater.

More than 100 colorfully costumed players and dancers take part in this, the golden anniversary production, pageant. The play has been presented annually, except for emergency years, ever since 1913.

To Talk On TB

Dr. Richard S. Hahn, president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., will address the Humboldt-Del Norte Tuberculosis and Health Assn.'s annual dinner meeting Friday in Eureka. Slides taken during his assignment on the ship "Hope" will illustrate his talk on "TB and Health Problems in Peru."

The island Tristan da Cunha is situated about halfway between South America and Africa.

Drake High Will Present 3 Student-Directed Plays

The Drama Workshop and drama classes of Sir Francis Drake High School will present three student-directed one-act plays Friday at 8 p.m. in the school's Little Theater.

All drama classes are taught and supervised by Robert Johnson.

The second-period drama class will present a satire on an originally serious play, concerning a revolution in India. The name of their spoof is "I Love You Nell, and You're a Real Brick—But the Indians Are Rising, and I'm Going to Get Sick."

Another drama class will present the melodrama "Abner Crane From Hayseed Lane."

Art Show Set At Center

More than 200 pictures including oils, watercolors and mural work by 125 Marin County artists will be on view tomorrow through Saturday in an annual Art Exhibit and Competition sponsored by merchants of the center with cooperation of the Marin Society of Artists.

Display of the creations will be throughout the mall of the center during all three days of the show.

Each art example will carry a price tag and may be had either at public sale or rental. Artists and members of the artist group will staff the outdoor display.

Many of the pictures have been moderately priced at such figures as $25, with some enamel on metal examples as low as $10 to $20, but some run beyond $200 to as high as $400.

First and second prizes will be awarded to outstanding entries, with the public casting the influencing votes. Categories in all media will be "realism" and "abstract."

Center of the show will be a feature termed both promising and exciting—a giant outdoor mural project staffed by Frank and Jane Bacher, noted by their art for children.

This mural, measuring four by eight feet, will be laid out in a sort of paint-by-numbers arrangement. Jars of various color paints and rows of brushes will be provided for the use of all interested and talented visiting children.

It is expected that the youngsters, perhaps aided by a few dabs by passing grown-ups, will have put the mural in complete form by the closing hours of the exhibit.

Frank and Jane hope to supervise to some extent the scope and distribution of the paints on the canvas. They expect to wind up displaying a huge colorful mural featuring horses, giraffes, lions and other representational animals.

After completion of the mural, the full four-by-eight surface is to be divided into various shapes for framing, each creating an unusual and colorful addition to a children's room or nursery.

More than a dozen of the finished originals will be awarded to children whose names will be drawn from a list of participants in the show.

A miniature layout of the design to be used was prepared several days ago and was given preliminary approval by some of the sponsoring retailers including Tony Munoz of the J. C. Penney Co., Bob Van Gutman of Montgomery Ward and Bob Perata of Smith's Clothiers.

Lottie McWatters, president of the Marin Society of Artists, showed the miniature with assistance from artists Jane and Frank Bacher.

All members of the society and staff have been busy in preparation. Florence Quinlan of the show staff put on a check-over review of the exhibit competition rules for the benefit of a group including Eva Kamp, who is in charge of rentals for the association; Dorothy Keyes, Winifred Koch and Shirley Murphy.

A wide variety of talented contributors will be represented in the show. Among those are Henry N. Rasmusen and Laura S. Devendorf, both Marin residents and members of the Marin Society of Artists.

Rasmusen was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, and from his school days onward was honored with scholarships and top standing in art competitions.

His later studies include private work with several well-known Utah artists, the American Academy and Art Institute of Chicago, the Design Workshop of New York, and years of successful personal development.

Rasmusen has had 12 one-man shows throughout the United States. His paintings are shown in numerous group exhibitions and are also represented in a variety of private collections. He is also an author on the subject of art and its forms.

Rasmusen's entry in the Corte Madera Center exhibit is an oil with the title "Powder Blue Landscape" which will be numbered 42.

Miss Devendorf was born in Savannah, Ga., and received her early art education at Telefair Academy of Arts and Sciences in Savannah and at the Atlanta Art Institute.

Her awards and honors include seven prizes, with two firsts, and a one-man show in juried competitions.

Miss Devendorf's other talents include professional positions as art director, set designer and scenic designer for theater, ballet, film and television productions.

She was formerly book reviewer and free-lance writer for the Savannah Morning News, writer-producer for a weekly public service television series, copy and promotion specialist with numerous radio and television stations.

Her entries in the Corte Madera Center competitions are "Spring," No. 21, and "Beach Song II," No. 22, both watercolors.

Artists who will exhibit at the show, together with the titles of their works, identifying number, and medium, follow:

Adams, Marjorie M., "The Leaves", 1, oil; Carney, Dorris, "Ballet La Rosa", 2, oil; Carney, Dorris, "Sunset Glows on Mother of Pearl and Cabbage Rose", 3, oil; Carney, Dorris, "Geranium Ballet", 4, oil.

41,000 Killed In Car Accidents

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than 41,000 persons were killed in auto accidents last year, reports the Journal of American Insurance. One and a half million persons were injured.

The death rate was higher than at any time since 1941, when 39,969 persons died in traffic accidents.

"Ultimately, motorists will pay the price for 1962's shameful road record," the journal predicts. "Inflated jury awards and other auto insurance cost factors combined with high accident rates press auto insurance rates up."

Insurance payments for auto accidents climbed to a record 3.8 billion dollars last year while economic losses from such accidents totaled more more than eight billion dollars, including lost worktime and other costs not fully compensated by insurance payments.

Color Of Hair? Officer Knows

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Norfolk's police traffic department claims that the hairdresser is not the only one who knows for sure.

Inspector Roxey Curles says he can "always spot a dye job." But he contends the color of hair should remain on drivers' licenses.

"The way I feel about it is that the license should show whatever color the good Lord gave you," said Curles.

But at least two states — Maine and New York—have agreed to drop the hair color question from drivers' licenses.

Speed For Tires

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—In testing its auto racing tires, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. has "driven" them at speeds of more than 600 miles an hour in its laboratory.

Space Scientists Keep Laughs Down To Earth

SUNNYVALE (UPI)—The scene is the huge Lockheed Missiles and Space Company plant.

A research scientist in microsystems electronics telephones a hydraulics specialist in space systems and says:

"Hello, Jingles, this is Rawco. Don't forget tonight. Remind Papo, Happy and Bilbo. We've got to do more work on the unicycle.

You might think this is some abstruse space jargon. Not at all.

It's a typical conversation among a half dozen Lockheed employees whose hobby is smearing themselves with grease paint, donning wigs and sporting outlandish costumes. They're members of the Clowns Club and they take part in Lockheed's recreation program.

With them, clowning is a serious affair—even to the extent that they always call each other by their clown names. Rawco said the clowns do not want personal publicity, but there is still another reason.

The Lockheed clowns have plenty to do, performing at hospitals and similar institutions, and at company affairs. They are so much in demand for these appearances that they do not want to be badgered—as they sometimes are—by requests to appear at children's birthday parties.

The club is open to wives and children. Papo's 3-year-old son has made a number of appearances with the Lockheed troupe. He goes by the name of Papo, Junior. And Papo's 14-year-old daughter joins in the fun sometimes.

At their meetings, the clowns work on the routines and the gadgets they use in their act. Right now, they are learning how to tie balloons into animal shapes.

"And we've been practicing on the unicycle," Rawco said. "Jingles and Papo Jr., are the best prospects for this. I've tried it but I'm too old.

"We're careful not to scare anyone, and we never lay hands on anyone. To kids, a clown is something special. He's not a person."

Rawco recalls when a youngster caught him removing his makeup.

"He turned to his mother and said in shocked tones, 'Why, he's a man, Mommy.'"

But Rawco said kids can try his patience at time.

"You really have to be on your guard. They step on your feet and put firecrackers in your pockets. One little monster once sneaked up behind me and belted me as hard as he could in the back with a baseball bat."

Still, clowning is less hazardous than aerial acrobatics, which Rawco once tried when he traveled with a circus one summer as a youngster. He was tossed back and forth between two catchers and was doing fine—until the day they said they were going to practice without the net.

"I lost interest right then," he said. "That's when the men are separated from the boys."

He Got Fast Hotel Service

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Timothy O'Brien awoke early in his hotel room and saw a prowler making off with his pants.

He picked up his telephone to the hotel desk and shouted: "There's a marauder in my room."

The Seattle man was anxious over $88 in his pants. He was not prepared for the attention his call got, immediately.

The night clerk thought O'Brien said "murder."

Greetings For Shut-In Friend

BOSTON (UPI)—An enterprising greeting card dealer found a sympathy card for a customer who wanted to sen it to a friend who had just gone to jail.

Actually a convalescent card, it read:

"TO A SHUT-IN PAL:
I cannot grin my widest grin when I am out and you are in. But on the day when you come out my smile will rival yours, Old Scout!"

She Became Old Lady At 24

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The grand old lady of the Pacific is the Fleet Marine Service Force's oiler Cimarron.

She's the Navy's oldest ship in continuous service — she was 24 in March.

The Cimarron served in every major campaign in World War II and was active throughout the Korean War. During the Korean campaign alone, the Cimarron pumped 115 million gallons of fuel to U.S. Navy vessels.

She is due for rotation from the Seventh Fleet after another tour in Far East waters.

Bomb Proof Plan For Airliners

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Irwin W. Ehlmann of suburban Hatboro has invented a device which he believes will eliminate explosions on airplanes caused by bombs concealed in baggage.

Ehlmann has received a patent for the apparatus which he calls Signal Net for Actuating Radio-sensitive Explosives (SNARE).

The device consists of a 30-foot bomb-proof chamber with a conveyor belt running through it. As baggage is carried through SNARE it is subjected to a strong exposure of radio frequency waves in varying wave lengths, designed to set off the explosive.

"It will be found," Ehlmann said, "that in all cases of explosives aboard airliners that a blasting cap arrangement was used. Dynamite is used because it is easily obtained and it is the most stable of explosives."

Dynamite, Ehlmann explained, must be detonated by impact.

"A blasting cap is the trigger mechanism, and the explosion of the cap in turn provides the impact that detonates the dynamite," he said. "Any other type fuse is impractical to use when enclosed in a piece of luggage."

Ehlmann said the radio frequency waves used to set off the dynamite in SNARE are shielded so they will not interfere with radio communications or electronic devices at air terminals.

Ehlmann has been associated with the airline industry for a number of years, beginning before World War II with Continental Air Lines in Denver. After the war he founded the Aviation Insurance Service in Denver.

"During my years in the business," he said, "I became acquainted with most of the flight crews for United and I already knew most of the senior men with Continental.

"On Nov. 1, 1955, Lee H. Hall was captain of the United flight that crashed at Longmont, Colo., when John Graham concealed dynamite in a suitcase carried on the plane.

"Lee Hall had been one of my clients and a good friend as well, and the incident spurred me to the extent of wondering why there could not be some means found of aborting further incidents of this nature.

"I read and studied everything that could be found on the subject of explosives for almost two and a half years and finally came up with the ideas that have since been incorporated in this patent."

The study, development and patenting of SNARE has taken five years, Ehlmann said.

The SNARE patent is number 3075461, issued on Jan. 29, 1963. Installation of each SNARE device would be less than $10,000, Ehlmann said.

Ehlmann, 43, is married and the father of two small children. He has lived in Pennsylvania for about eight years after having moved here from San Francisco.

Garbage Tells How You Live

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Despite a lack of silver-plated trash bins it's possible to pick out high-class garbage.

City Mgr. Arthur Owens claims just by looking at garbage you can tell if it comes from a better neighborhood.

The first test, according to Owens, is to look at the discarded magazines. Second, see if the canned and frozen food containers are the high priced kind.

But the real secret, Owens confides, is the brand on the whisky bottles.

Expert Helps Pakistan Livestock Breeders—And Molasses Is Key

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI) — Pakistan livestock breeders and farmers may save a lot of money because an American animal nutrition expert likes molasses.

Burch Schneider, who teaches at the West Pakistan Agricultural University in Lyallpur under contract with Washington State University and the U.S. Aid Mission to Pakistan, discovered that 50,000 tons of molasses are dumped into rivers each year in Pakistan because sugar mill operations cannot find a market for it.

He estimates the wasted amount of this proven source of highly digestible energy could replace grain raised on more than 100,000 acres of farm land.

Schneider also learned through research that Pakistani livestock breeders are using expensive and scarce grains such as barley to feed their animals. In food-short areas, this competition between man and livestock for the available supply of cereals is a serious problem.

In fact in many areas of Pakistan it is necessary to import food grains to prevent near famine conditions.

The nutrition expert also found Pakistani farmers know very little about the value of molasses as an animal feed.

Schneider decided to do something about it.

He held demonstrations for farmers in the former Junjab area so they could see the value of molasses as an animal feed and learn how its use also could save valuable cereals for human consumption.

Schneider selected ten pairs of bullocks for his demonstrations.

For a period of 20 weeks one of each pair was fed a ration of barley while the other was fed a ration containing molasses.

At the end of the experiment the weight differences between the two groups was statistically insignificant.

What was significant, however, was the difference in the feed bills. Molasses can be delivered anywhere in West Pakistan in tank car lots for eight to twelve times less than barley.

Schneider was pleased with the results of his demonstration, and farmers and sugar mill operators share his enthusiasm. Farmers are interested in a cheap, nutritious animal feed. Sugar mills see a new source of income from a by-product previously thrown away. As sugar production increases, so will be output of molasses.

Tattoos Taboo In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)— Tattoos are taboo in Connecticut, even for sailors.

The state legislature approved recently a bill outlawing tattooing and in effect shuttering tattoo parlors near the U.S. Submarine Base at Groton.

From now on, tattoos can be applied only by a doctor or undera doctor's supervision.

NIGHT LIGHTS OF HAIFA GLITTER LIKE FIREFLIES

HAIFA, Israel (UPI)—For the tourist, the best time to arrive in Haifa is at night when the lights of Israel's major seaport on the Mediterranean glitter like thousands of fireflies.

It is then that the streets of the Hadar, or middle city, are crowded with shoppers, strollers, visitors and sailors speaking virtually every language in the world. Lights blaze in fashionable shops and colored signs flash on theater marquees or over restaurants, cafes and clubs.

Autos, taxis, buses inch along in traffic jams that remind the American tourist of New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Parking spaces are just as difficult to find.

A modern city by any comparison, Haifa is Israel's second largest city (population about 210,000). It sprawls in three levels over the slopes of Mt. Carmel which rises from the shores of one of the most beautiful and best natural harbors in the Middle East.

Haifa is a favorite port of call for cruise ships. It also is Israel's No. 1 commercial shipping and industrial center. In the port area—or "lower" city—are a giant silo, refineries, foundries, glass, textile and fertilizer plants and a big automobile assembly works.

Haifa boasts the only subway in all Israel, the Carmelite. Actually it is a two-train underground funicular-type railway that links the lower and middle districts of the city with the fashionable residential area atop Mt. Carmel.

Near the summit is the golden-domed Baha'i Shrine, set in a beautiful Persian garden. Atop the summit is the Carmelite monastery and the cave where tradition says the Prophet Elijah found refuge from the wrath of the King of Israel in Biblical days.

Also on the summit are many of Haifa's leading hotels and clubs. Newest—and highest—is the Dan Carmel with 250 air-conditioned rooms, restaurants, lounge and bar and an outside heated swimming pool. (Rates average about $15 daily per person, two in a room, including breakfast. There are more than 20 other hotels in Haifa with rates starting as low as $3 per day per person, double occupancy.)

On a clear day, from atop Mt. Carmel, the historic Crusader stronghold of Acre is clearly visible across the sparkling blue waters of the bay. It was the major prize for many conquerors of the ancient land of Palestine.

Today, it is a peaceful sleepy-looking community where Arab and Israeli fishermen mend nets or tend to their boats on the pebbly beaches.

There are numerous other mementos of Acre's past glory and importance in history. During the Crusades, it was the headquarters of the Order of the Knights of St. John and the capital of the Latin Kingdom in the Holy Land. Its fall signalled the end of Christian control of Palestine.

The Turks left their mark on Acre, too. The old city is dotted with slender graceful minarets and onion-shaped domes and other characteristics of old Turkish architecture.

A definite must for the visitor is a tour of the noisy Bazaar in the old city where Jews and Arabs buy and sell almost everything from fresh-caught fish to old ragged Eisenhower jackets.

Acre was an Arab city until the 1948 Palestine war. The old city is still predominantly Arab—with about 5,000 Christians, Arabs and Druzes living in the old stone houses along narrow, twisting streets and alleys.

Don't miss a visit to the club known as "The Walls of Acre" near the shore. It is inside the old Crusader wall over an ancient dungeon and is one of the most unusual entertainment spots in the country.

Also interesting is the adjoining walled square. In olden days, it was a favorite haunt for the men of the camel caravans which passed through Acre. Here the camels were rested while drivers ate, drank and sang.

AEC Fund Drive Is Big Success

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — The Mercury Employes and Boosters Assn. composed of workers and families stationed at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, decided there was a need for reliable ambulance service in the vast Southern Nevada desert.

The fund drive for a regular ambulance service was more successful than members had hoped.

The association got enough to make arrangements for airplane ambulance service for communities throughout the isolated area.

All Space Costs Aren't Shot Into Thin Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—Space is a funny thing. To get there, about 40 cents of every dollar spent has to pay for things that aren't going anywhere at all—ground support equipment like the four-million dollar gantry for the United State's manned moon missile.

Some of the fascinating hardware the taxpayers' dollars are buying these days has been tracked down by Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute:

Insulated steel tanks that could keep boiling coffee too hot to drink for two years but are actually used to store liquid hydrogen—major rocket fuel—at 423 degrees below zero.

A multi-million dollar space simulator for testing vehicles in an atmosphere about one-billionth that here on earth at sea level, yet this is but a billionth the vacuum that exists in actual space!

Miniaturized steel ball bearings for instrumentation that are so small it takes 32,400 of them to make a pound and that pound would cost more than $162,000 though the special steel the bearings are made of costs about $2 a pound.

Little wonder that satellite launching costs are currently estimated to run $1,000 to $2,000 for each pound of payload in a 300-mile orbit.

Steelways says one of the most incredible aspects of the entire space effort is the demand made on human perfection: each of the rocket's component parts can have a reliability rating of 99.9995 yet when the thousands of components are joined resultant total reliability can be brought down as low as 50 per cent.

'Space Smog' Could Be Fatal To Astronauts, Scientist Claims

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—America's astronauts could die of "space smog," according to one of the nation's leading bio-astronautic scientists.

This chilling possibility was advanced by Dr. Thomas B. Weber, who said:

"A hightly-sealed capsule in outer space might be turned into a death chamber by a smog of contaminants emitted from the astronaut's own body."

He said these contaminants might become lethal during an extended period of time in the closed "trap-like" atmosphere of manned interplanetary probes and long-duration space stations. The more men in the spaceship, the more deadly it could become.

"This looms as possibly the most pressing problem we face in preparing for future deep space travel," Weber said.

"Space smog would be 100 times worse than the smog plaguing Los Angeles."

Weber said that whereas smog in the earth's atmosphere is continually circulated, a confined spaceship would surround man with "a hostile environment of a vacuum" that would breed a lethal concentration of "space smog."

On a long space trip, Weber said, a number of chemicals from the body such as methane, acetone and ammonia, "could tear up the liver or debabilitate the lungs." A lethal dosage of "space smog" could come from the astronaut's breath, saliva, sweat and other functions.

"As man enters space his bacteria will accompany him," the scientist said.

"For example, the skin bacteria could decompose many of the materials exuded through the skin and produce sizable amounts of such contaminants as organic acids.

"New unsuspected toxicants of high concentration probably would enter the spacecraft's atmosphere."

Weber said that, as of now, there are almost no original investigations to be found on toxic hazards in manned space environmental systems. What is needed first, he said, is identification of the contaminants and then a means of removing those that would cause trouble.

"I have been studying this crucial problem for six years and have so far found at least 400 different materials the human body gives off," he said. He added that 80 per cent of these possess a potention of being or becoming deadly.

"In the spacecraft's atmosphere they might not only accumulate, but could react with one another into a contaminant 100 times more toxic than either in its original state," Weber said.

Weber, a former U.S. Air Force scientist at the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooke Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., is one of the nation's few authorities on space toxicants. He recently became manager of bioastronautics for Beckman Instruments, Inc.

"Russia is way ahead of us in simulated space studies involving toxicants and our lack of experience in this field could be a major roadblock when we try to embark on manned flights to the planets," Weber said.

He said the seriousness of "space smog" has not yet arisen with astronauts because flights to date, such as those in Mercury capsules, have not been long enough for ill effects.

Here Are Timely Tips For Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pedestrians should be seen and not hurt.

That's one of half a dozen "Tips for New Drivers" that local employes of the firm that makes the Swedish Volvo car came up with in a recent contest.

The others are:

1. Drive so that the only time you lose control of your car is when you forget to make payments.
2. Remember that people who live near railroad crossings seldom have to buy automobile parts.
3. An ounce of prevention should be added to every 10 gallons of gas.
4. When driving for recreation, don't change it to wreck-creation.

Bear in mind that a reckles driver is an accident going somewhere to happen.

After 32 Years, He Is Elected

CASTLE, Okla. (AP)—"After 32 years of unsuccessful campaigning for public office," says Everett Wyrick, "it gives a man a contented feeling to close out a winner.

Wyrick defeated Jimmy Dyer 27-18 for a city council seat in this year's city election.

It was his first victory after a series of political efforts, beginning in 1931, in which he lost four times in attempts for the sheriff's office, placed third in a three-man race for county commissioner and, in Castle's last city election race in 1948, lost a try for mayor by two votes.

Two Witnesses For Fish Story

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a fish story you may find a little hard to believe:

David Lindsey, 16, was rowing around man-made Silver Lake when a 5-pound, 19½-inch bass jumped into his lap.

"I nearly jumped out of the boat when the fish flopped in my lap," David said. "I didn't know what it was."

Though surprised, David was not half so shaken as an angler who was standing waist deep in the lake nearby. He had spent three luckless hours casting in the water.

When he saw the big bass jump into the boat he dropped his fly rod into the water.

Received Aid; Shows Thanks

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Public aid supervisor G. W. Killinger received an envelope containing $52 in small bills and a note signed "A.B.C."

The sender said he was returning public aid funds given to him by Killinger's predecessor, "a Mr. Hedden."

"He (Hedden) was good to me," the letter said. "Now, I can pay it back. Please put it back in the poor fund and acknowledge it in the Collinsville Herald. Thank you."

City editor Karl Monroe of the Herald acknowledged receipt of the $52 with a story.

Using Ben's Brooms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Broom Research Council estimates that more than 50 million corn brooms are sold each year or about one a household. Benjamin Franklin is credited with being the father of the corn broom industry.

Bread Baking Cost Is Most

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Most of the cost of a loaf of bread comes from the baking process, Kansas State University reports.

Mildred Walker, extension specialist, reported these figures based on U.S. Department of Agriculture information:

The distribution of costs on a one-pound loaf of bread selling for 20.9 cents was 2.9 cents to the wheat producer, 1 cent to the miller, 11.7 cents to baking, 3.8 cents to retailer and 1.5 cents for other costs such as transportation, taxes, insurance and storing.

FINGERS, WATCH THE FINGERS

An empty stomach and a long neck combined to make this camel strike the snake-like pose as it reached for straw offered by Charles Heichel, 9, one of nine wheel-chair patients who visited the Chicago Zoo recently. They were guests of kind-hearted cabbie Robert W. Tarr, who uses his cab on weekends to bring the handicapped youngsters to the zoo from west end schools. (UPI photo)

U. S., Russian Medics Are Praised

SEATTLE (UPI)—In the world race for scientific superiority, at least one branch of technology seems to have escaped the web of military security on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Dr. Robert L. Van Citters, a heart and blood vessel researcher at the University of Washington, said in an interview that no restrictions hinder the exchange of medical information between the United States and Russia.

After a three-month visit in Russia where he met and talked with many prominent physicians and scientists, Van Citters said he regards the Russian doctor as no less than his "medical colleague."

Likewise, he indicated the quality of American medicine is highly regarded by the Russians and they keep up with its progress.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "many Soviet physicians can read English very well, and their knowledge of American medical developments is generally better than our knowledge of Soviet advances in this field."

Van Citters said Russian medical libraries carry up-to-date issues of all major medical journals published in the United States.

In this country, Russian medical publications are available only in the larger libraries and are usually at least six months old or older, he said.

He also was permitted to visit and study the activities at several heart research institutes and observe a number of Russian heart-lung teams in action.

Van Citters said the Russians openly profess their admiration for American achievements in the field of heart disease. Most of the Soviet open-heart surgery teams were trained in the techniques of heart-lung surgery in U.S. hospitals, he said.

Soviet scientists, on the other hand, have developed a method for splicing blood vessels during surgery by means of a stapling device which has gained the respectful attention of American physicians, Van Citters said.

In the older techniques, the severend ends of blood vessels were tediously stitched together, a process sometimes requiring as much as two hours. Time often spells the difference between success and failure in open-heart surgery, he said.

American surgeons are following up on the procedure, Van Citters said, and at least one American firm has begun to produce the stapling device.

Head Of Park Builds Mountain

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Frederic Heutte is proud of his "mountain."

It's only 65-feet high, but he built it himself.

Heutte, superintendent of Norfolk's parks, built his mountain in the Botanical Gardens.

A 20-foot tower surmounts the mountain for a good view of the gardens.

ROME IS SLOWLY BEING MUTILATED

ROME (UPI)—This great and beautiful city, with treasures of art and history that are unique in the world, is slowly being mutilated.

Some of its palaces and parks are being sold to foreign interests. Some of its ancient ruins are being encroached upon by modern buildings. Much of its landscape is being defaced by commercial projects.

To some people, this is a sad and shocking thing. To the majority of Romans, it seems to be a matter of no concern whatever.

The process has been going on, of course, since the barbarians sacked Rome as long as 16 centuries ago, carrying away many of its treasures and destroying others.

Medieval Popes and princes continued it, stripping the Colosseum of its marble and stone and tearing down great pagan buildings to erect churches and palaces in their place.

In the 20th century, dictator Benito Mussolini ruthlessly tore down old buildings and sealed over ancient ruins to build broad avenues from Piazza Venezia to the Colosseum and from the Tiber River to St. Peter's Basilica.

The park of the Villa Strohlfern, said to be one of the city's most beautiful, is closed off to Romans behind high walls because it belongs to the French academy.

The Doria-Pamphili Palace, one of the great architectural masterpieces that ring Piazza Navona, has been sold to Brazil and is used as its embassy.

The park of the Villa Abamelek cannot be visited because it is part of the Russian Embassy grounds.

Mote Mario, a long, green hill that encloses the city to the northwest, isn't going to present a green and uncluttered face much longer. An American-built hotel and apartment buildings are taking it over.

New buildings are gradually defacing two of the most famous roads in the world, the ancient Appian and Aurelian Ways.

One of the city's best museums has been moved out of the historic old center of Rome, and transplanted to a tasteless modern building in a remote section built by Mussolini.

On top of all this, three recent developments have brought indignation and protest from the Italian press.

First was the news that a modern religious institute was being built on the Caelian Hill, almost within the shadow of the Colosseum and other ancient monuments.

Then came word that another Doria-Pamphili palace, this one on the Janiculum Hill, was about to be sold to Belgium.

And finally a real estate firm advertised the Poli Palace, against which the famed Trevi Fountain is built, for sale as an embassy, hotel or other commercial building, leading one Rome newspaper to ask: "When are they going to sell the Colosseum?"

But the Roman people, who characteristically get excited about almost nothing, have not rushed forward to man the barricades.

He's Starting At Beginning

MEMPHIS (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Jones assigned her second grade class to a creative writing project.

All went well until one lad popped up with a question.

"How," he asked, "do you spell oponta?"

"Spell WHAT?" asked Mrs. Jones, nonplused.

"Oh, you know. Like once oponta time."

Living Standards Due 100% Jump In Next 40 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Current and past economic trends indicate the average U.S. consumer's standard of living should rise by about 100 per cent the next 40 years.

By the year 2000, the average breadwinner will be bringing home a pay check ranging from $10,000 to $12,000 per year, nearly double the present figure, according to a study.

Mr. Average Consumer also is expected to be spending more of it on the so-called luxuries—or at least what we classify as luxuries today.

These forecasts all are part of a voluminous report by Resources for the Future Inc. (RFF) — a foundation which spent five years studying past economic history to get a clue of what life would be like in the year 2000.

The report said the present $5,000-a-year average salary would shoot up to $7,500 in 20 years, and then hit at least $10,000 by the year 2000.

Generally, forecasters base this on the belief that the U.S. economy will discover more efficient ways of doing things at less cost in the years ahead.

They expect the value of goods and services produced to rise faster than the population, in effect giving each worker a larger share of this total national income.

"This means," the report said, "that the typical household will be able to afford a standard of living by 1980 enjoyed now by only the highest 20 per cent and, by the end of the century, will be at levels now considered quite well-to-do."

RFF researchers pointed out that in recent years the consumer is spending less of his income for day-to-day necessities such as food, shelter and clothing. This is a natural result of fast-rising incomes.

The reason is that each person can just eat so much and wear only a certain amount of clothing. As his income rises, he begins using a larger portion for items normally not considered necessities.

As one economist put it: "When a man makes more money, he can't use it to eat five times as much food but he can buy himself five television sets."

Economists do not expect this rising tide of consumer expenditures in the next 40 years to result in an era where there is a television in every room.

More likely it will take some more conventional channel such as a big increase in two- and three-car families and more families with two homes.

The report said personal consumption expenditures have been rising at a 1 per cent annual clip for each person for the past 30 years.

It said this figure should be stepped up to about 2 per cent by the end of the century.

"What this 2 per cent growth rate means for the average consumer is an increase in standard of living of almost 50 per cent in the next 50 years, and more than doubling by the end of the century," the report stated.

The RFF study said food, clothing and shelter will still hold top priority in the family budget but will be taking a progressively smaller bite during the years ahead.

It said that of these three, clothing costs probably will shrink the fastest because revolutionary changes in apparel fiber use and durability has been making it cheaper for consumers to maintain an adequate wardrobe.

Ticker Tape Snowstorm For Cooper

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of New Yorkers cheered astronaut Gordon Cooper today along Broadway in a tumultuous ticker tape parade—the city's salute to national heroes.

Tape, confetti and torn paper swirled from skyscrappers in the city's tribute to smiling Air Force major who last week orbited the earth 22 times.

The crowd along Lower Broadway alone was estimated unofficially at two million.

The cheering sometimes seemed to verge on the point of hysteria.

Crowds jammed the sidewalks on the "Canyon of Heroes" and workers leaned from office windows, shouting their acclaim.

A crowd swarmed around Cooper's open car at the very start of the parade from Bowling Green to city hall.

Even before the 20-car motorcade reached Bowling Green, the official starting point, the crowds along the streets were in a turmoil. Police had difficulty clearing the way.

IN REAR OF CAR

The slim spaceman sat in the rear of the car, smiling and waving as the police struggled with the throngs.

Dozens of persons broke through the police lines, shouting, "Hello, Coop," "Wonderful job, "Coop," and "Go, go, Gordon."

"This is wonderful, exciting he was heard to remark. "This is great stuff."

Brilliant, sunny weather favored the celebration.

Homemade signs appeared all along the way, with messages such as "Coop is tops" and "Super Cooper."

The ticker tape parade, lasting about a half-hour, ended officially at city hall where Mayor Robert F. Wagner was to present the city's medal of honor to Cooper.

WITH JOHNSON

Then the parade was to continue on up Manhattan to the Waldorf-Astoria for the luncheon.

The accolade had begun when the spaceman's airplane landed at LaGuardia Airport from Washington.

The astronaut was accompanied by his family and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

A red carpet had been rolled out for them.

A loud roar from spectators greeted the smiling Cooper as he stepped from the plane.

Mrs. Hattie Cooper, the astronaut's mother, also was in the party.

The 36-year-old major from Shawnee, Okla., told hs welcomers at the airport:

"Small-town boys know you are indeed a success when you're invited to a parade in New York City. It is a great honor and I thank you all very much.

"Now, I want to introduce my wife, Trudy, on my left, and my mother, Mrs. Hattie Cooper, on my right."

He also introduced his daughters, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13.

Cooper came here fresh from the cheers of thousands of persons in Washington, the praise of President John F. Kennedy and thunderous applause from a joint session of Congress.

Supervisors Reshape Transit Bill To Provide For Needs Of County

Marin County's Board of Supervisors yesterday put some meat on a skeleton bill introduced recently by Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) to establish a Marin County Transit District.

Bagley introduced a bill copied quickly from one used for the City of Stockton, but which didn't pertain closely to the needs of Marin County, merely to have something in the hopper in time for action.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire handed the supervisors seven pages of proposed changes, in effect writing a brand new bill.

He said Bagley assured him the measure would be handled as a piece of local legislation with no major roadblocks.

The proposed district, which could not be formed unless the voters approved, would be authorized to buy out existing transit systems, build a new transit system, or subsidize existing private companies.

The supervisors agreed with McGuire on all basic items.

The district could levy a five-cent tax per $100 assessed valuation. Bonds amounting to 20 per cent of the district valuation could be floated, and could be approved by a 60 per cent vote of the people.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman asked why the usual two-thirds vote requirement wasn't inserted for bond approval. McGuire answered that the trend in the state is toward making bond issues easier to pass.

Fusselman said such a provision might be ammunition to persons arguing against formation of the district itself, when an election is held.

The proposed law also makes the supervisors the directors of the district.

Before formation of the district, the board would be able to exclude any areas of the county which would not be served, but the boundary line could not split a city. Provisions requiring city approval for use of streets or condemnation of property within the cities were junked.

McGuire said the major controversy likely to develop would be on labor provisions, in case of a chance the district took over another service, for instance. The county's merit system ordinance is set as a guide for all employee dealings.

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo spoke up from the audience to object that the proposed five-cent tax rate would be too low. The tax would produce about $150,000 a year if the entire county were in the district.

Ambulances 'Ineffective' In Sausalito

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce officials told the city council last night that ambulance service being offered Sausalito citizens is "dangerously ineffective" and asked councilmen for a "properly manned ambulance."

In a letter signed by A. Leonard Bjorlund Jr., acting for the chamber president, the directors quoted Dr. Philip G. Huffman saying:

1. The city needs a properly manned ambulance; (2) This need will become more acute when Marin Ambulance moves north of its present Larkspur location, and (3) The city ambulance can be properly and effectively manned by policeman and/or fireman properly trained in first aid, a training which Huffman has offered and will continue to offer firemen and police.

The council already followed Huffman's advice, Mayor Paul Micou told the audience, when it was decided to not run the ambulance except when two firemen were available to man it. Huffman recommended, said Micou, that it would be better to send for an outside ambulance with two men than to take a chance with having just

If rats are foraying into your yard, free rat poison is available at the agricultural commissioner's office at the Marin County Civic Center or at your local fire station, Richard T. Straw, agricultural commissioner, said today.

"We run a yearly rat extermination program around the county's waterways, but we aren't allowed to work on private property," said Straw. "We need the cooperation of residents living along creeks, where the rats are found, if our program is to be successful.

"We've had more rats this year because of the late rains. We can't begin the extermination program during the heavy rains because the poison is washed away. This spring we've only been working intermittently for the past month."

Straw said the poison, which has instructions for safe use, works well if it is poured into a shallow dish, which is then placed against a fence. "You then lay a board diagonally over the poison and rest it against the fence. This protects the poison from the bigger pets and gives the rats a sheltered place to eat, which they prefer."

Straw also advised residents not to allow debris to collect where it would attract rats.

Three Cents Trimmed From County Rate

Marin County Auditor Michael Mitchell today lopped three cents off his estimate of the county tax rate for the next fiscal year today after taking a second look at the preliminary budget submitted to the board of supervisors.

Mitchell had previously predicted a tax rate of $2.48 per $100 assessed valuation for the proposed budget of $16,234,535. Present tax rate is $2.07.

"Because of a tightening in the expenditure of unappropriated reserve funds, which began last April," Mitchell said today, "I find we will have about $96,000 more than expected in carry-over funds.

"This will mean that the tax rate will probably be $2.45 instead of the $2.48 which I estimated earlier."

County Administrator Alan Bruce still maintained, however, that it is "too early to make an estimate of the tax rate. There are too many unknowns at this time."

The predicted tax rate does not include a probably library district tax of 14 and one-half cents for a county library budget of $314,440.

In the 211-page preliminary budget which Mitchell and Bruce submitted yesterday to the board, an increase of about two million dollars is proposed over the current budget of $14,217,000.

There will be more county employees next year, according to the proposed budget. At present the total is 772, and the new budget calls for 815. In 1961-62 there were 737 county employees.

Mitchell expects the total assessed valuation for Marin

Hub Schools Ask Bonds, State Loan

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night resolved to ask voter approval next fall for bonds and a state loan to finance classroom construction and an increase in the tax rate to beef up the operating budget.

The amount of bonds and state loan were not set. Neither was the tax increase.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said bonds and loan would cover construction of a new school on the recently acquired Sunny Hills property and additional classrooms at Hidden Valley School.

Construction would probably start on Sunny Hills late in 1964 or early in 1965, he said.

Present general purpose tax is $1.80 per $100 of assessed valuation. The board made no decision on the increase needed here, but Parodi said it would probably be about 40 to 45 cents.

The district this year also levied 49 cents in "over-ride" taxes and 35 cents for bond redemption, for a total rate of $2.54.

The board's decision to call the election came after Parodi reported 14 to 15 additional classrooms will be needed within five years.

Fairfax Schools Set $175,000 Bond Issue

Fairfax School District trustees last night set $175,000 as the amount of a bond issue to be sought in a June 11 election.

The issue would help finance a $420,000 building program. The remainder, explained Supt. Homer Sisk, could be paid from state loan authorization received from the voters in 1956. More than $400,000 of this remains unused.

The district proposes to build seven more classrooms and acquire additional land including a site for junior high school.

Passage of the bond issue will not raise the current 45 cent tax rate for bonds and loans, Sisk said. The general purpose tax in the district is $2.05. Over-ride taxes this year totaled an additional 16 cents.

Aid To Needy Children Bills Gain

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation aimed at improving the administration of the state's Aid to Needy Children program cleared the Assembly unanimously today.

The bills, by Sen. James Cobey, (D-Merced), were a result of the report of California's Welfare Study Commission.

They would:

1. Specifically define the duties of the county welfare departments and district attorneys offices in ANC child support cases. The welfare department would be required to persuade absent fathers to support their children.

2. Improve communications between the courts, the county welfare departments and the district attorney's offices.

3. Require fines in ANC cases to be used for support of the children.

Assembly Votes End To 'Frill Courses'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today voted 63-3 for legislation designed to end what the author called "frill courses" in the public schools.

The measure by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) would eliminate the state requirement for such courses as morals, manners and citizenship, public safety and accident and fire prevention.

Russia Tells What It'll Pay Toward U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The Soviet Union served notice today that beginning this year it will refuse to make payments for certain parts of the regular U.N. budget.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the General Assembly's 111-nation budgetary committee that his country would decline to help pay for:

1. Any interest or principle on the U.N. emergency bond issue.

2. Expenses of the U.N. commission for the unification and rehabilitation of Korea or the U.N. memorial cemetery in Korea.

3. The U.N. truce supervision organization for Palestine.

4. The U.N. field service, which provides personnel for various peacekeeping missions.

Fedorenko also said the Soviet Union will no longer pay its share of the budget devoted to the regular U.N. technical assistance program, but will make voluntary contributions for technical assistance financed outside the budget.

'Boy Logger' Is Still Under Probation Wing

The probation department will continue to work with Vern Bristol, 16, of Mill Valley, whom residents of Blithedale Canyon where he lives have termed a "public nuisance."

Walter H. Busher, chief county probation officer, told this to a dozen residents of the canyon area last night.

Busher, invited to speak at the home of Robert Warnick, said the "boy logger" is under supervision of the juvenile court for an allegation which pre-dates the public nuisance charge.

He is under instruction, as with all citizens, Busher said, not to violate any law.

The youth, son of Mrs. Clara Bristol, was charged May 1 by 47 residents with disturbing the peace by running a chain saw on Sunday, violating the zoning ordinance, collecting junk and damming up the creek.

Mrs. Bristol, the boy's mother, has replied to these charges saying that her son is not guilty of the charges and neighbors have "put a chip on his shoulder."

Supervisor Redistricts Passed By Assembly

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly, without a word of debate, today unanimously passed a bill requiring that county supervisorial districts be reapportioned every 10 years in line with shifting populations.

The vote sent the bill by Assemblyman Alfred E. Almquist (D-San Jose) to the Senate.

POPE CANCELS AUDIENCE, SEEMS TO HAVE RELAPSE

Later Appears On His Balcony For Blessings

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII, looking wan and tired, and apparently suffering a relapse from a persistent internal disorder, canceled a scheduled general audience on his doctor's orders at the last minute today.

Two of Italy's leading physicians spent the night in the Vatican as a precaution. Despite cancellation of the general audience, the aging pope made a brief appearance on a balcony above St. Peter's Square, and then retired to begin a period of complete rest.

Vatican sources said the two doctors spent the night in the Vatican because of the pope's condition.

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

A Vatican announcement later said the general audience was canceled "as a precaution" which followed "the suggestion of his doctor," Prof. Antonio Gasbarrini, the pope's principal physician.

Italian newspapers said the pope's condition has been "visibly deteriorating" in the past few days. They said he suffered a relapse of the internal disorder, which the Vatican has described as anemia and gastric trouble.

There has been no official comment one way or the other on press reports that the pope actually has cancer. The pontiff has had a series of "ups" and "downs" in his illness, and today appeared to be one of his "down" periods.

CROWD APPLAUDS

The pontiff later appeared on the balcony of his apartment and gave his blessing to 25,000 cheering, applauding persons gathered below in St. Peter's Square.

There was no announcement whether the pope had suffered a setback from the anemia and gastric trouble that kept him in bed last November.

But Dr. Gasbarrini, who lives in Bologna, made no immediate plans to leave for Rome, indicating that the situation was not critical.

The 81-year-old pontiff, who spent about five minutes at the window overlooking the huge square, made no mention of his illness.

Udall Is Worried Quakes Might Hit Bodega Head Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has declared his grave concern that damage from a future earthquake could make the Bodega Head nuclear-powered reactor a hazard to health and safety.

Udall made public yesterday a letter to Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Atomic Energy Commission chairman, urging "very thorough investigation of the seismic hazards of the Bodega Head site."

Udall contended such an investigation should be carried out "before any construction permit can safely be granted."

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. of San Francisco has applied for a license to construct and operate a 325,000-megawatt nuclear-power reactor at Bodega Head. The site lies about 1,000 yards from the San Andreas fault zone.

Commenting on Udall's letter, President Norman R. Sutherland of PG&E said in a statement:

"At the start of the project, PG&E retained several nationelly recognized authorities on geology and seismology to report on the foundation and safety of the site.

"These experts informed the company that the site is suitable and safe.

"All of this evidence will be presented to the Atomic Energy Commission when it holds its public hearing in Santa Rosa. When all of the evidence has been submitted and considered we are confident that our position will be completely confirmed."

Udall offered the AEC the services of the Geological Survey for investigating the seismic risk.

Udall supplied Seaborg with comments by the directors of the Geological Survey and Bureau of Mines, the research geologist of the National Park Service, the assistant secretary for fish and wildlife, and a special report by the director of the radiobiological laboratory of the Buerau of Commercial Fisheries.

The secretary listed "our three main areas of concern" as:

"(1) Probable adverse effects on coastal fisheries in event of accident, (2) possibilities of adverse effects on public use of the new Point Reyes National Seashore, and (3) seismic hazards that would be involved in locating a major nuclear reactor in close proximity to the San Andreas earthquake fault."

"With regard to points (1) and (2)—barring major seismic event—with continuous and vigilant monitoring, adverse effects can probably be held well below the radiological limits that have been officially established to safeguard public health and safety. But with regard to point (3), I feel there is reason for grave concern."

He pointed to a section of the company's "preliminary hazards report," prepared by a consulting geologist. This said, in part, "at least one and perhaps two or more major earthquakes can be expected near the site within the next century. These may be as strong or even somewhat stronger than the California earthquake of April 18, 1906."

The secretary also recounted that the commissioner's advisory committee on reactor safeguards has prepared a report which "takes note of the location as an active seismic area, observes that the reactor building and the turbine building are to be anchored in different geological formations which may introduce stress effects during and subsequent to violent earth shocks, and suggests the need for design of earthquake-induced reactor shutdown apparatus along with isolation of the primary system."

"If this matter involved no more than construction of a conventional thermal electric plant, the seismic hazards might be tolerable," Udall wrote.

"But the proposed nuclear-power installation planned with ultimate expansion to 1,000-megawatts capacity in mind would multiply these hazards many fold. The hazards I am most concerned about are to public health and safety, but one cannot completely overlook the government's further legal obligation to pay 'indemnification' up to 500 million dollars per nuclear instant for any casualty damage in excess of 60 million dollars and for any property damage in excess of 60 million dollars that might occur in the event of nuclear power plant accident from whatever cause."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Stockholders Livid Over Liz Pay

NEW YORK (UPI)—An announcement that actress Elizabeth Taylor can expect to make nearly 10 million dollars from the film "Cleopatra" turned the normally staid annual stockholders' meeting of the 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. into a catcalling, whistling session yesterday.

Taylor

The announcement, made by company president Darryl F. Zanuck, also was greeted by a demand from stockholder Evelyn Davis for the person responsible for the actress' "ridiculously large contract."

"It was her going price," Zanuck explained.

Stockholder Gloria Parker got into a pushing, screaming argument with Miss Davis when Miss Parker suggested that the film star be made a member of the board of directors because "this girl has done a lot for our corporation..."

State To Sell Water Bonds

SACRAMENTO (AP)—State treasurer Bert Betts has been authorized to sell the first 150 million dollars of the 1.75-billion-dollar bond issue for the California Water Project, authorized by the voters in 1960.

Betts said he might sell 100 million dollars worth in June, depending on market conditions.

The permission was given yesterday by the Water Resources Development Finance Committee.

Church Acts Against Race Bias

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—The United Presbyterian Church, in a series of sweeping constitutional proposals, has moved to end social and economic discrimination against Negroes by local churches.

By an overwhelming voice vote, the assembly last night sent down to presbyteries a series of proposed constitutional changes that would require local churches to admit persons to membership and fellowship without regard to "origin, color or worldly condition."

African Unity Meeting Starts

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, (UPI)—Leaders of 31 African nations from the Mediterranean to Madagascar gathered today for a summit meeting to lay plans for African unity.

Selassie

President Kwane Nkrumah of Ghana told a foreign ministers' meeting prior to the summit that Africa must "unite now or perish."

The 29 heads of state or government attending also include United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser, Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, and the host, Ethopian Emperor Haile Selassie. Two other nations, Morocco and Libya, are represented by lower-ranking delegations. Also attending is President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Bourguiba

Colonialism and demands for a stronger voice in the United Nations are among the topics for discussion and action. But African unity will have precedence in the four-day meeting.

Professors Ask Ban Be Lifted

BERKELEY (AP)—Professors at the University of California in Berkeley sent a note of "modest reprimand" to the Board of Regents yesterday asking that a ban against Communist speakers on campus be lifted.

The board's long-standing policy against permitting Reds to speak on the California campus has been under attack for some time by the Berkeley chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors.

The Representative Assembly of the Faculty Academic Senate passed a formal resolution at a Monday meeting, calling for the lifting of the speaking ban.

Dairy Agrees To Sell Property

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Foremost Dairies, Inc. says it will sell 14.4 million dollars of its Eastern properties to Motec Industries, Inc., of New York and Martin Century Farms, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The sales, subject to approval of the Federal Trade Commission, are an important step in compliance with a recent divestiture agreement reached by Foremost with the FTC.

Under it, Foremost agreed to divest itself of about one-quarter of its yearly sales, or about 100 million dollars.

The properties being sold accounted for 40 million dollars of Foremost's sales volume in 1962.

Bebe Daniels Improves

LONDON (AP)—Continued improvement was reported today in the condition of actress Bebe Daniels, who suffered a stroke Monday.

Sex Education Called Mandatory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sex education in high school and instruction in contraceptive technique are mandatory because of the breakdown of parental control over teen-agers, says the president of the Planned Parenthood Federation.

Dr. Alan Guttmacher, a New York physician, told a news conference yesterday, "It is unrealistic to allow the youngsters to be burdened with an unwanted child.

"We must face facts," he added. "If we give youngsters the keys to the car and allow them to go out on their own, we must expect that some of them will go the limit."

North Korea Holding Yank Pilots

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI)—Communist North Korea today refused to release two American helicopter pilots or even to disclose whether they still were alive after a forced landing on Communist territory Friday.

Russians Launch 17th Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today launched the 17th in a series of unmanned space satellites in a program believed preparing for a new space attempt by a man or woman.

Hail Piled 18 Inches Deep

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A Texas-sized hail storm left hailstones piled 18 inches deep in South Texas today. Crops were flattened and cars were dented by the golf-ball size stones and at least two roads were closed.

At least two persons were dead after a tornadic wind and rain storm lashed North Carolina yesterday.

An 18-inch layer of hail was reported seven miles north of Bovina, Tex., where wheat, cotton, and corn crops were damaged heavily.

Two Khrushchev Aides Ailing

MOSCOW (UPI)—Two of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputies, Anastas Mikoyan and Frol Kozlov, today were reported ill. Mikoyan's illness was disclosed last night. Informed sources said he came down with influenza April 27. Kozlov has been out of action since mid-April.

Defeat For JFK As Wheat Growers Reject Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat growers have voted strongly against stricter controls on their crops, capping the biggest campaign ever waged in the American farmlands with a stinging defeat for the Kennedy administration and its farm policies.

The administration had thrown its prestige and strength behind its program in a battle against farm groups demanding less rather than more government in agriculture.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman had predicted that defeat of the plan would result in "chaotic" wheat market conditions.

The extent of the defeat in yesterday's referendum was measured by the fact that the administration proposal failed to muster a simple majority of the votes. Approval by at least 66.7 per cent of those voting was required for adoption.

Complete returns gave 547,151 for the plan and 596,943 against. The vote in favor was 47.8 per cent of the total—far short of that required.

A record outpouring of votes—particularly in the non-commercial wheat areas east of the Mississippi—overwhelmed the favorable votes cast in a small portion of the commercial wheat states of the Great Plains and Pacific Northwest.

In only one region — the southeast—did the administration plan get a heavy majority.

The plan would have required farmers to reduce 1964 crop plantings 10 per cent from this year.

Racial Dispute Progress Made, But Unrest Still High In South

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Racial unrest showed no sign of subsiding here today as more than 900 Negro students were released from jail to the custody of North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College.

But some progress was reported in racial disputes elsewhere in the state.

A court order issued at the suggestion of Gov. Terry Sanford virtually cleared three temporary jails set up in Greensboro to house more than 1,200 persons, held on various charges resulting from racial demonstrations.

More than 1,500 persons have been arrested during the last week.

The college students were placed in custody of Dr. L. C. Dowdy, acting president of the state-supported college. They were ordered to appear in court for trials beginning tomorrow.

Negro demonstrations were resumed in Raleigh, N.C., last night.

At Durham, newly installed Mayor Wense Graberek said that protest leaders had agreed to a truce while efforts are made to satisfy their major grievances. About 1,600 persons had been arrested in Durham in three days.

At Birmingham, Ala., Gov. George C. Wallace, thrusting state sovereignty into the path of federal authority, has set out to block court-ordered desegregation of the University of Alabama.

The youthful Alabama governor laid his constitutional authority on the line yesterday after the university board of trustees had agreed to admit two Negroes and U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms refused to delay the June 10 enrollment.

"I embody the sovereignty of this state," declared Wallace, a veteran of battles with the federal government, "and I will be present to bar the entrance of any Negro who seeks to enroll at the university."

On other fronts:

The simmering Birmingham racial situation remained quiet as 3,000 federal troops stood by at military bases and more than 1,300 state, county and city law enforcement officers kept watch over a 28-block area where rioting broke out May 12.

A hearing was scheduled during the day in federal court on a request for reinstatement of more than 1,000 Negro pupils suspended or expelled from Birmingham schools for taking part in anti-segregation demonstrations.

Death Sentence Upheld By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The first degree murder conviction and death sentence of William Lee Harrison, Berkeley waiter, was upheld yesterday by the State Supreme Court.

Harrison, 50, knifed to death Mrs. Doris Ann Martin, 24, Dec. 11, 1961.

Planner Resigns

Resignation of Victor Abrahamson as city planning commissioner was accepted last night by the Sausalito City Council. Abrahamson, commission secretary, will move to San Francisco.

Seniors Will Get Center For Awhile

The senior citizens can be happy, at least until November.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday formally agreed to rent the former California State Automobile Assn. building in San Rafael for temporary use as a recreation center.

The action took developer Harry Heifitz off the hook. He had agreed to pay the rent out of his own pocket if the county wouldn't pick up the tab.

But County Counsel G. Warren McGuire made it clear that others besides senior citizens would be allowed to use the building. He said it would be illegal to single out the senior citizens for service unless the county were operating a large number of recreational facilities.

The board also went on record that there would not be an intensive countrywide program for senior citizens in the near future. Rather, the supervisors said, the county would be willing to help local communities with their own programs.

Parks and Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson suggested that the board check with the City of San Rafael on a more permanent site for a community center. He suggested city and county might join in operation of a center in the American Legion hall.

A. J. Nieri of the Bank of Marin said today there are no plans to tear down the building, acquired by the bank from the Elks Lodge, before November.

The board referred to the Marin County Planning Council a request that the present ban on red lights on advertising signs in the county be dropped.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said that the intent originally was to reserve the color red for all danger signals. He said major objections to the ordinance have come from Standard Oil Co. He noted that cities in Marin have no such restriction, so the effect is generally lost.

He called for a uniform sign ordinance for the county and the cities.

The board agreed to start negotiations for acquiring property on Richardson's Bay to make way for proposed dredging work. The Flood Control Advisory Commission had recommended using property trades, rather than purchases, where possible, and the board concurred.

A state highway priority request list similar to that approved last year was adopted. It calls for quick action by the state on improving Highway 101 between the San Quentin Wye and the Terra Linda Interchange, especially the North San Pedro Road and Irwin Street interchanges.

Also requested soon were improvement of Tiburon Boulevard between Bel Aire and Belvedere and extension Highway 1 freeway from Highway 8 at Ignacio to north of Atherton Avenue.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors: Also

1. Waived a permit requirement for a circus in the National Guard Armory.

2. Held for study a proposal by Sir Francis Drake High School student James Johnston that selected students work part-time for individual supervisors and department heads to help them learn about local government.

3. Asked for more information on possible utility company restrictions to use of power poles for private closed circuit television lines.

4. Tentatively agreed to install tape recorded descriptions of the Civic Center, for tourists to listen to especially near the data processing machines.

5. Requested cost estimates from other counties on charging for use of meeting rooms in public buildings. Administrator Alan Bruce said the county might gain $1,000 a year by charging for rooms.

6. Approved a joint exercise of powers agreement with the state for fire protection service to Angel Island, on condition that the state provide barge transportation for fire trucks.

7. Reaffirmed an existing policy that the Marin County Fire Department not do repair work on trucks owned by other fire departments or districts.

8. Approved agreements with the state so that federal aid secondary road funds may be used for improvement of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

9. Continued until May 28 a presentation by San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis on a Bay Area planning study to be done by the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Senate Probe Is Seen Over Killed Drug Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty says a U.S. Senate subcommittee will investigate his charges that political influence killed a bill to regulate sale of the drug, Percodan.

The mayor said at a news conference yesterday that he spoke with Sen. Thomas M. Dodd (D-Conn.) by phone Monday and the latter agreed the drug situation here was serious enough to warrant a probe.

Last week Yorty charged that Eugene Wyman, Democratic state chairman, exerted political pressure to defeat the Percodan control bill in the legislature.

Wyman is legal counsel for Endo Laboratories, maker of the pain-killing drug.

The chairman denied Yorty's allegations, saying the mayor was resorting to "character assassination" because he could not control Mrs. Wyman's vote in the city council. Wyman is the husband of Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman.

Wyman accused Yorty yesterday of "usurping the duties of the attorney general and attempting to run the state government."

"I'm confident," Wyman added, "that Endo Laboratories, the legislature and anyone else whom Mayor Yorty wishes investigated, would welcome it. The results will be identical with other inquisitions arranged by him."

Yorty said he told Dodd: "When you start playing politics with dangerous drugs, this is stepping over the line."

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said that "the Percodan control bill was defeated because of lobbying activities. It will not be revived by Mayor Yorty injecting politics into law enforcement."

Mosk charged that Yorty's announcement of the Senate investigation was "premature . . . once again injecting an unwarranted attack on Mr. Wyman into a public health and law enforcement problem."

Mosk added: "Senator Dodd advises us he is disturbed at being involved in local politics but the hearings will be held shortly under public health and law enforcement auspices."

SAUSALITO

a driver for the Sausalito vehicle.

Further, the mayor said, oral examinations will be held next week to hire four more firemen. It is hoped there will be adquate manpower soon to put the ambulance in full service. Micou asked City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to review the problem with Huffman and continued the matter to June 4.

Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) told council the city has never appropriated money for bandages for the ambulance and that they are supplied by Huffman.

"It will be five months before you have a fireman," she said. She suggested that all police officers attend the first aid class given by Huffman.

Brown said Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry has worked with Marin Ambulance Service and that, if the ambulance driver does not know how to find an address, he is to pick up a policeman or fireman as escort in Sausalito.

Councilman Michael Harris reported that in the case of a fatal accident May 8, the ambulance driver got lost in the hills.

district might subsidize present services, Mrs. Azevedo said Greyhound Bus Lines have claimed loss of $300,000 a year on Marin County service.

"If the people wanted to, they could amend the bill or raise the rates for service," answered Fusselman.

County Administrator Alan Bruce added that other agencies, such as the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, might pick up part of the tab on a subsidy program.

Major Fire Prevented At Juvenile Hall

Quick action by a counselor at the Marin County Juvenile Hall today prevented a major fire in the building where 20 boys were sleeping.

Miguel Narro was one of three counselors on duty on the graveyard shift when he noticed smoke at about 3:40 a.m. Discovering a blaze in the laundry room, he called out an alarm and then entered the smoke filled room with a fire extinguisher.

A drier had caught fire, and one wall was also burning. Feeling his way through the smoke, Narro pulled the 220-volt circuit and put out flames inside the machine. Meanwhile, other counselors awoke the 20 boys in the senior boys' section and moved them to safety.

Narro was treated for smoke inhalation at Marin General Hospital.

Officials of the Marin County Fire Department set damage at $350, mostly to the drier. They said the blaze started when something placed with clothes in the machine kindled at the drier temperature.

The 20 boys were taken by the other two counselors, Mrs. Sheri Wollitz and John Guarisckl, to the junior boys' section. Beds were found for 10 of them. The rest finished the night sleeping on mattresses in the television room, according to David Fogel, superintendent at the hall.

BUDGET

to be $323,334,000 next fiscal year.

"This takes into account the increased appraisals in North Marin," he said. "Some part of the county has been reappraised for the past several years, and this is now a factor that can be pretty well estimated."

But in his preliminary budget message, Bruce states flatly that "no tax rate estimates are included since accurate computations cannot be made as yet."

He adds that "improved management over the past six years" has resulted in the "reduction of the annual average tax levy increase from 24 per cent to between 3 and 4 per cent."

"There is still room for improvement," Bruce stated, "yet it is quite possible that the major impact of improved practices has been felt, that most of the water has been squeezed out, and that the ship is now pretty tight."

Language Program Suggested

A committee of parents and teachers, after three months of study, recommended a six-step foreign language program to trustees of the San Anselmo School District last night.

The committee, headed by Mrs. Vaughn Hill, a parent, said the program should:

1. Start this fall with 35-minutes a day in sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

2. Be broadened in the fall of 1964 to 20 minutes a day to third, fourth and fifth graders.

3. Provide for extension of the school day to compensate for additional time.

4. Give in-service training, paid for by the district, to prepare third, fourth and fifth grade teachers.

5. Be reviewed after one year to see if a second language should be taught.

6. Start with either French or Spanish.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said the cost would be $20,000 a year for the three special teachers needed to get the program started in the fall.

"We can't go that high," he said.

The board, however, was pleased with the report and will study it for discussion at a later time, Parodi said.

Petaluma Water Pact Is Approved

An addition to the water agreement between the City of Petaluma and the North Marin County Water District was approved last night by the directors of the North Marin District.

The addition clarifies the billing procedure for water used by the North Marin District which goes through the Russian River aqueduct at Petaluma.

Business Quarter In Safety Column

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — With the second quarter near the halfway mark businessmen already are counting the first half of the year as safely in the plus column.

Most of the indicators they watch point to continued gains in coming weeks. Some businessmen even hope that the usual summer slowdown will be milder this year.

But vacations are spreading, both in length and in more industries. And even the nice backlog of unfilled orders probably won't stave off a mild dip in industrial output in July or August when entire plants close down.

One of the more reassuring signs that the economy is gaining strength is that the pick-up in new industrial orders early this year was less for inventory than assumed at the time. Most of the orders were filled for immediate consumption and stocks rose only moderately.

In the present quarter inventory building may be having a larger role in the economy. This is especially true where manufacturers seek to hedge against the possibility of a steel work stoppage in late summer. Steel union leaders are meeting next week to decide their policy on negotiating with the companies.

Hopes are still high that a settlement will be reached without a strike. But many steel consumers are ordering ahead anyway, to beat either a supply shortage if there's a work stoppage, or further steel price increases if wage costs go up again.

Even industries that were still squeezed in the early months of the year are now predicting that the second quarter will see good profit gains. Most steel companies have made such predictions. And some railroads that were still operating in the red in the first three months of the year are now saying that increased freight business guarantees black-ink bookkeeping this quarter.

One indicator of things to come that has pleased businessmen is new hard goods orders. This went up sharply in the early months. Machine tool makers say the increase is continuing. Another indicator is the backlog of unfilled orders. This too has risen, if more slowly than the new orders themselves.

Large defense orders and shipments and other steadily rising government expenditures also guarantee busy months ahead for many companies.

Residential construction appears to be on the upgrade. Consumer spending in general has continued high, with auto sales a particularly bright spot.

A number of corporations have reported they intend to increase their spending soon for equipment and plant expansion, although actual construction hasn't picked up much as yet.

But all the favorable indicators add up just now to better business, higher employment totals, a fatter total of personal incomes, larger profits—and, of course, increased tax collections by the U.S. Treasury.

Drug's Side Effect Escaped Medical Attention For Years

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — A new medical mystery is why a dramatic "side effect" of a drug escaped the attention of physicians up to now although the drug has been in use for years.

The apparent answer is the "side effect" is so pleasant patients—especially female patients—do not report it to their doctors lest it be taken away and the doctors themselves do not look at patients as wholes but only at their ailing parts.

This "side effect" is to turn brunette hair into blonde hair, and not washed-out blonde but a lovely light golden. There's no doubt whatever it takes place, said the Welsh doctor who has the honor of being the first to report it.

Dr. John D. Spillane of the Cardiff (Wales) Royal Infirmary confessed he first noticed it by accident. He had had this woman in her late 30s taking the drug for some months when it occurred to him she "looked different" somehow.

He was unsure just how she looked different until he questioned her at some length. She was coy and finally made him realize she was a blonde now whereas before she had been a brunette.

Thereafter he kept a sharp eye on three other dark-haired women and two dark-haired men who were taking the drug under his supervision. In all of them the change took place and "it was much appreciated by the women patients who seemed inclined to keep it a secret," he said.

He found the color change from dark to light depended upon a heavy daily dose taken over a period of three months. When the drug was withdrawn, the hair resumed growing out from the scalp with its former dark color.

"There were no general ill effects," Spillane reported to the British Medical Journal.

However, there wasn't the slightest suggestion a way had been found of making this a world of blonde-haired women. The drug is used as a relaxant of skeletal muscles, as a sedative and when mixed with other drugs as a pain killer.

In high doses it can produce both unpleasant and dangerous side effects: it is a prescription drug which must be administered under a physician's close supervision. Its generic name is mephenesin.

Spillane said obviously it somehow repressed the production of the basic dark body pigment, melanin, permitting the light pigments to take over.

How it does it is unknown but Spillane is setting up experiments to find out.

Manslaughter Case May Go To Jurors

William A. Acree, 20, of Mill Valley, accused of manslaughter in the traffic death of a Kentfield youth New Year's Eve, testified this morning in his own defense.

He told a jury of eight men and four women he was driving about 65 miles per hour southbound near Marin City and was slowing down to enter the turnoff toward Sausalito and Marin City. He said he spotted two pedestrians on the traveled portion of the highway and slammed on the brakes.

"I don't remember anything after that," Acree told the jury. His next recollection was that his car was off the highway among ice plants.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, announced that the case may go to the jury tomorrow.

The car driven by Acree struck and killed Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield, and seriously injured William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur.

Dead Man's Credit Card Means Jail

Use of a dead man's credit card yesterday landed Alfred James Taylor, 36, of Tucson, Ariz., in the Marin County jail on a grand theft charge, with bail set at $3,150.

Last Aug. 29, Mrs. Mildred Schwartzberg of 721 Bradley Avenue, Novato, complained to Novato police that someone was forging the signature of her deceased husband, Lt. Col. Harry Schwartzberg, on gasoline purchases made with a credit card.

Smith and Sjoblom Standard Station in Novato honored $58 in purchases from the credit cards, said Police Chief Roy McLaren. He said total purchases made with it in California, Oregon and Washington exceeded $500.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, called into the case by Novato police, arrested Taylor in Tucson. Sgt. Robert DiGrazia of Novato police went to Tucson and returned him to Marin County.

Mrs. Schwartzberg said she has no idea of how Taylor obtained her late husband's credit card, Chief McLaren reported.

Retiring Art Teacher Says Education Is Always First

Ending 25 Years With Schools In San Rafael

By LOREN MacARTHUR

"You're a teacher first and then an artist in art education," said Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, who for 22 years has supervised the art program in San Rafael elementary schools.

Mrs. Lynch will retire next month after 25 years with the San Rafael schools. She moved from supervision of the elementary school art program in 1960 to Terra Linda High School to open the art program there.

"I wanted to see what effect the elementary school art program has had on the students now in high school," she said.

"When I studied art at the University of California (at Berkeley), it was a more formalized subject. Then teaching went 'way over to the other side, the 'draw a beautiful day' school.

"Naturally the students did not know where to begin.

"Now art teaching is in a middle ground. Students learn skills and techniques they can then use to express their creativity."

ORIENT BOUND—Mrs. Antoinette Lynch, with the San Rafael schools for 25 years, puts a few personal belongings from her classroom into her purse in preparation for her retirement. Mrs. Lyncch, who was for 22 years art supervisor for the elementary schools, plans a trip to the Orient. (Independent-Journal photo)

Discussing the old saw, "an artist is made, not born," Mrs. Lynch said: "Little children do not draw what they see; they draw what they feel. Art is a language for them. Then for a period they pull away and become critical.

"After that, around junior high age, you can see their native talent; and to be truly creative, there has to be a talent."

Mrs. Lynch believes recent emphasis on academic training for college preparation "hasn't de-emphasized art, but it has taken students from the art program. I don't think the arts should be neglected, or the child ends up one-sided."

Mrs. Lynch was born in St. Helena. Her grandfather was a pioneer in that area in 1873, and the family still has a ranch there. Her husband, the late John J. Lynch, died in 1928. "I think this has emphasized for me that girls should be prepared to earn a living even if they think they will never have to," she said.

Mrs. Lynch has two daughters. One, Mary Anne Lynch, teaches fifth grade in a San Francisco parochial school. A second, Mrs. Antoinette Simmons, lives with her husband in Salinas.

"A true artist is a very rare thing," concluded Mrs. Lynch. "I advise my students to get teaching credentials."

Mrs. Lynch's retirement plans include doing some painting and a trip to the Orient this fall with Mrs. Lewis Kerlin of Kent Woodlands.

Sausalito Eyes Fort Cronkhite

The City of Sausalito is willing to take over surplus Fort Cronkhite acreage for a park if the state or county does not do so.

The city council last night directed City Mgr. Charles A. Brown to ask the federal General Services Administration whether the state and county have made known their intentions regarding the 31.9 acres declared surplus by the Army.

"If not," said Mayor Paul Micou, "write a letter saying we're interested in it. We might effect a comprehensive plan if no one else does."

Councilman Michael Harris said he would not like to see the land become a subdivision.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors on May 14 called acquisition a job for the state, and was told by Kelvin J. Nelson, county parks and recreation director, that the state supervisor of advance planning has expressed intention to file for acquisition. The state has first choice, Marin County second, and Sausalito third.

Brown told councilmen the acreage, about three and one-half miles west of Highway 101 and the Golden Gate Bridge and fronting the Pacific is part of property the state has already announced intentions of buying. Notice of intention to procure the property must be given the general services administration by 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Yee Tock (Willie) Chee was granted a use permit to convert apartments at 561-565 Bridgeway to a retail fruit and grocery store and a variance from offstreet parking, with the understanding Chee will enter into an agreement for 12 parking spaces during daytime hours at Ondine Restaurant.

The council voted to review Ardilla Land Co.'s request for a use permit to build 180 apartments on Rodeo Hill and set a public hearing for June 4. It also continued a hearing on a variance request to June 4, the variance being from more than one building on a lot.

Councilmen said they were willing to consider a recreation commission request for use of the city's Bee Street hall as a teen-age center and asked Brown for a building condition report. City Engineer John L. Hunter reported the building in "bad repair," a fire hazard and in need of new stairs.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Reappointed James E. Muldoon to the recreation commission.

2. Endorsed Senate Bill 1123 and Assembly Bill 2245, both designed to regulate billboards along freeways.

3. Was advised the city will save $7,000 in fiscal 1963-64 in rate reduction of state employees retirement system.

4. Discussed Assembly Bill 2622 which would prohibit filling any portion of San Francisco Bay until 91 days after adjournment of the 1967 regular assembly session, and agreed to write the Assn. of Bay Area Governments saying the four-year moratorium is "too harsh," and that Sausalito, which has its pier and bulkheads lines established, does not want state controls for filling within the lines.

5. Granted Heath Land Co. permission to divide a 361,757-square foot lot into two parcels in Marinship.

6. Granted Livermore Disposal Service Inc. a use permit for office space and truck storage in Marinship.

7. Approved a traffic turn-out area between 217 and 234 Woodward Avenue.

8. Heard from Hunter an estimate that an official city map would cost $21,350, of which he recommends $7,000 be budgeted now. Council said the finance committee will discuss this.

9. Continued indefinitely discussion on whether to rescind a council resolution establishing purchase of Shelter Cove lots or to hold a referendum vote on the purchase. Micou said the city has until April to consider putting the question on the general election ballot.

10. Asked Brown to investigate painting stop signs on pavement at dangerous intersections. Harris suggested Glen Drive and Johnson Street, and Spencer and Prospect avenues as two likely intersections.

Police Fire A Shot, Capture Suspected Auto Tamperers

One shot was fired as Corte Madera police captured two seamen on suspicion of auto tampering in front of the Madera Village Motel last night.

The shot was fired into the ground as one fled to the end of Chickasaw Court in the Madera Gardens subdivision.

Booked into Marin County jail on suspicion of conspiracy, car tampering, and illegal possession of beer were Jerrel Allen Loudon and Michael Anthony Gifford, both 20. Gifford was charged also with evading arrest.

Loudon said he lived at the Madera Village at 45 Tamal Vista Boulevard. Gifford gave his address as the troopship Montrose, on which both serve, berthed at Pier 36, San Francisco.

About 11 p.m. residents of the motel reported two youths "doing something" to a car parked in front. Police Inspector Harold N. Hockett and patrolman Charles E. Newman drove to the motel and approached the youths from opposite sides of the building.

Hockett said the two ran from the car into a field south of the motel. The officers pursued. Hockett "nearly stepped on" Loudon, lying down with a 12-inch crescent wrench in his hand. Near him were wheel and tire removed from a car owned by Michael Myron Paris of 45 Tamal Vista.

As Gifford ran from the field, Hockett cried, "Halt! You're under arrest!" and fired one shot.

Gifford was caught in front of 30 Chickasaw Court by Newman while Hockett held Loudon.

The seamen were held in $1,050 bail apiece for appearance late today in Marin Municipal Court.

FLOODS BRING HUGE ICE CUBES

Ice jams along the river caused flooding this week at several villages in central Alaska.

Lights, Camera, Action At Capitol

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California lawmakers disclosed tentative plans today to spend as much as $150,000 to make a movie—a color production telling the inside story of what goes on in the legislature.

It's mostly for the youngsters, few of whom understand the complicated activities under the Capitol dome.

In back of the project are Assemblymen Charles J. Conrad, (R-Sherman Oaks), a professional actor, and John T. Knox (D-Richmond), a lawyer.

Knox said they'll ask the joint Rules Committee this week for $2,000 to hire a writer to prepare a complete preliminary treatment of the film.

The rest of the production cost—roughly estimated at between $50,000 and $150,000 — will be financed from donations by private sources, Knox said.

"We anticipate it will be in color and professionally done," he said.

Actors will portray legislators in closeups, although the real lawmakers will be shown at a distance.

"The primary purpose is for the school children visiting program," Knox said.

"During the session, so many kids go in the galleries for five to 10 minutes and just get a fragmentary look at the Senate and Assembly. They can't realize what's going on."

Knox envisions showing the children the film before they begin the Capitol tour. It could also be exhibited in distant schools whose students can't travel to Sacramento.

Groups of adults—who are often as puzzled as the children when confronted with legislative activities—could also see the film.

The idea was first suggested by a legislative committee on school visits to the Capitol, headed by Knox and Sen. Virgil O'Sullivan, (D-Williams).

They said the film might contain scenes covering the importance of the bills, introduced, committees and how state agencies work with the lawmakers.

It could even tell what the lobbyists do.

Knox said he hopes work on the film will begin when the legislature convenes next year for its budget session.

Brown Optimistic About Major Civil Rights Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A go-slow approach by a Senate committee wrapped a cloak of uncertainty around the 1963 legislature's major civil rights bill today.

The governor's office expressed optimism that the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, 8-3 Democratic, would approve the fair housing law advocated by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Chairman Luther E. Gibson (D-Vallejo) indicated, however, that if any measure gets out, it won't be in the form the administration proposal passed the Assembly 47-24.

The bill would make it unlawful to deny private housing-rental, lease or sale to anyone because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. It would apply only to dwellings with not more than four units and occupied by the owner.

Gibson, who has said he's against the bill in principle, told a reporter he planned to take it under advisement for a week after today's scheduled hearing.

"This will give us time to get a good look at it and find out if there is any possible meeting of minds," he said.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford, (D-Berkeley) who introduced the legislation, acknowledged there may be a need for some amendments. But, referring to the Senate committee, he said, "I don't know what they want."

Rumford at one point threatened not to call the bill up for hearing if the Congress on Racial Equality persisted in announced plans to stage an all-night prayer meeting in Capitol Park.

Rumford, a Negro, protested that the outdoor vigil was not the proper approach.

"We haven't resorted to pressure tactics to get the bill through," he said. "We have to think these things out by reason."

He said if CORE carried out its demonstration, it would encourage other groups to attempt to work outside the regular legislative process.

After a meeting with Rumford, CORE leaders agreed to hold off any demonstration until the committee tells its plans.

Rumford said he's confident the Senate committee would send some type of legislation to the Senate for a vote but that he had no way of knowing whether it would be acceptable to the governor and himself.

Governor Brown told a Negro rally several days ago that "in terms of human values, no part of my 1963 legislative program is more important" than the Rumford bill.

"The plain, simple object of this legislation is to remove the ugly blight of ghettos from the face of our cities," he said.

"We believe that California can and must set an example for the rest of the nation."

State's $6,500 'Wayward Bus' Still Missing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's "wayward bus" was still missing today.

The bus, an 11-ton, 23 passenger vehicle, designed to carry state firefighting crews, was one of 11 ordered by the state from a firm in Mitchell, Ind. They left for the west on March 29.

Only 10 arrived in Sacramento, 10 days later.

E. J. Peterson, principal buyer for the purchasing division of the State Finance Department, said the missing bus was driven by Lionel Todd of Haltonville, Ind., who was given $300 in expenses for the trip.

He said the bus company will replace the $6,500 vehicle "and it won't cost the taxpayers a cent."

The mayor told the assembled Negro leaders that "you have our policemen marching with you to protect your rights . . . rather than obstructing you."

She told officers that Smith, her estranged husband, broke the glass panel in the front door to enter her apartment and beat her.

Smith, held in county jail in lieu of $1,500 bail, was to appear in court today.

Conservation Measure Passes Test

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Brown administration proposal which proponents hope will lead to conservation work for thousands of jobless boys between 16 and 21 has passed its initial test.

The Assembly Natural Resources, Planning and Public Works Committee approved the measure by Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) Monday.

Robert Hill, state youth employment supervisor, said the hope is that cities and counties will follow up the state pilot program—to cost $300,000 — with projects of their own.

He predicted as many as 70,000 to 80,000 out of work boys could be employed in the state-county-city programs.

The state forester would head the pilot program to put the youths to work on fire prevention and forest and watershed maintenance and improvement.

Drunken Driver Pays $166 Fine

Virgil Claud St. Cloud, 54, of 1752-A Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, paid $166 fine yesterday for drunken driving.

Attempt To Change Anti-Obscenity Law Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The legislature has closed the book on 1963 attempts to revise California's anti-obscenity law to make for easier prosecution.

The last proposed change in the 1961 law was turned down yesterday by the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee, which earlier had rejected similar bills.

Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes (R-San Diego) said after his measure was defeated that "we shall continue this fight because of the rightness of the cause. This state's anti-obscenity law has received an almost total vote of no confidence by California's district attorneys and city attorneys who say that it is totally inadequate to meet the problem."

Miss Virginia Ross of Redwood City, representing the California Library Assn., disagreed with Barnes' contention that the law makes enforcement almost impossible.

She pointed to a Los Angeles jury's decision that "Tropic of Cancer" is obscene—a decision not on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. The court presumably will rule on the California law's constitutionality.

James J. Clancy, assistant city attorney of Burbank, said juries can have trouble with the current law's definition that obscene matter "is utterly without redeeming social importance."

Assemblyman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) countered that district attorneys don't really want to prosecute pornography cases, and try to avoid public criticism by claiming the law isn't strong enough.

The committee declined Barnes' invitation to look through a box of girly magazines and sexy books. Chairman Gordon H. Winton, Jr. (D-Merced) commented, "We have gone through three or four hearings on this."

Barnes proposed to:

1. Eliminate from the law the phrase that obscene matter "is utterly without redeeming social importance."

2. Redefine "knowingly" as "having knowledge of the contents" instead of "knowledge that the matter is obscene."

3. Make possession of six or more copies of obscene matter evidence of intent to distribute it.

4. Require a special decision on whether matter is obscene, separate from the verdict on those charged with selling or distributing it.

5. Set up injunctions against material courts say is obscene, and punish violators by up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Six-Story Hub Building Plan Was Rejected

Plans for a six-story building on San Anselmo Avenue in San Anselmo were rejected by San Anselmo planning commissioners Monday night. The building would have been the highest in town.

It was incorrectly reported on page seven of last night's Independent-Journal that the application of H. H. Huyssoon to build the six-story building at 630 and 634 San Anselmo Avenue was approved.

The commission denied three variances requested by Huyssoon, including one for height to exceed the present limit of 40 feet, a second to put apartments in the commercially zoned area, and a third for six stories instead of the present three-story limit.

One variance requested by Huyssoon was granted. The commission waived on-site parking requirements for the building provided Huyssoon deposits money with the city to be put toward a future central parking area.

Marinite Aids In Relentless Chase Of Bank Robber

A. J. Finocchio of Greenbrae chased a bank robber down Irving Street in San Francisco yesterday, kept on chasing after the robber's gun went off, and finally helped police catch him in an auto repair shop.

John L. Dietz, a 31-year-old gas station attendant, walked into the Bank of America Sunset branch, managed by Finocchio, at 701 Irving Street, and gave teller Bertha Bennett, 22, of San Francisco, a note. It said: "Put $3,000 on the counter or dead you will be."

The teller gave him the $3,000 plus a bonus of $1,307, then called to Finocchio, who lives at 131 Alturas Way, Greenbrae, as the robber hurried off with his loot. Finocchio and assistant bank manager Frank Costanzo gave chase.

Dietz's get-away car, which he said he had stolen earlier from the Kezar Stadium parking lot wouldn't start. He jumped out and ran. A shot sounded as Dietz's tightly held revolver went off, but the chasers kept going.

Dietz ran inio an auto repair shop at 1311 Seventh Avenue as Finocchio followed, shouting: "Bank robber. Bank robber." The garage owner slammed shut the door. But then police arrived and found Dietz hiding behind an auto in the rear of the shop, his loot wrapped in a mechanic's red wiping rag and stuffed into his pockets.

"I'm due in court Friday for non-payment of alimony," Dietz said, "and decided to go for broke because I'll be in jail anyway. Dietz was held for the Federal Bureau of Investigation by San Francisco Police.

A.F., Marin Will Discuss Airport Plan

Several members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and a committee of the county's airport advisory commission will be flown by the Air Force to Colorado Springs for a discussion of a proposed county airport.

County consultants Leigh Fisher Associates, Inc. has recommended that the county build a 5,000-foot landing strip next to Hamilton Air Force Base. The consultants' report said the strip could be controlled by the Air Force base tower.

The supervisors were invited to discuss the matter with Gen. Robert E. Lee, chief of the Air Defense Command at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado.

Lee is expected to be asked what complications might arise from a private base next to a military airfield and if air activity at Hamilton is expected to decrease.

Auto Skids Off Road; Driver Hurt

A Woodacre driver was injured when his sports car skidded 210 feet and bounced off San Geronimo Valley Road yesterday.

William Patrick Maloney, 21, of 197 Central Avenue was driving east about 10:45 a.m. told the California Highway Patrol he swerved to avoid a car approaching in his lane. His auto "fishtailed," skidded into the ditch, and hit a concrete wall.

Maloney said he would seek treatment at Veterans Hospital in San Francisco for head cuts and right arm injuries.

Reed School Students Plan Courtroom Drama

"The Night of January 16" by Ayn Rand, a courtroom drama with an unusual ending, will be presented by Reed School seventh and eighth grade drama students on Friday, at 8 p.m. at the school.

An unusual feature of the play is the recruiting of 12 jurors from the audience who listen to the testimony and vote on a verdict at the end. Two endings are practiced by the cast and then one presented which corresponds to the jury verdict.

The play is based on the supposed suicide of Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king and financial juggler.

In the cast are Walter Johnson, Chris Scott, Rick Conner, Mary Myers, Pam Eubanks, Charles Keppel, Quentin Thomas, Leslie Whitelaw, Jon Spicer, Tanya Golz, Margie Smetana, Bonny Cook, Carmen Schleimer, Janice Donaldson, Jane Kingston, Gurdon Leete, and Judy Wedereit.

Newell McMullen is directing the play, which is co-sponsored by the school district and the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club.

Dillon Says Economy Bright, But Cut In Taxes Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's short run economic outlook is bright, "but not perhaps so gloriously rosy as some would paint it," secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today.

"Our present economic upturn is heartening," he said. But he emphasized that the president's proposal for a substantial tax reduction this year "is our best hope of accelerating the forward pace of our economy."

Federal revenues might top estimates by as much as one billion dollars in fiscal 1964, Dillon said in remarks prepared for the sixth annual University of Connecticut Loeb Awards luncheon at which awards are given for excellence in business and financial writing.

"But," he added, "even such a result would not lead to any appreciable improvement in our employment situation. For that, we must look to tax reduction.

Somalis See Marin's Big Trees

By THERON A. NEWELL

Marin County's famed redwoods in Muir woods are the largest trees ever seen by six foresters of the Somali Republic who are visiting the United States on a three-month study tour.

They probably are the largest trees these men will see. Although called foresters, their work is more in semi-arid land management.

The six men stopped briefly at the home of Mrs. Calvin Ronhausen of 768 Clausing Avenue, Novato, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ronhausen is the daughter of Donald E. Clark of Denver, who is technical leader for the group on their tour of the United States. So it was a brief family reunion for Clark in Marin County.

Ahmed Haji Ali, who grew up in British Somaliland, now part of the Somali Republic in northeast Africa, was spokesman for the group.

"Junipers, Acacia, Eucalyptus and tamarack trees are the same in California as in Somali," he said.

However, uses of the trees in California and Somali are very different.

"In Somali the acacia trees are used for corrals and pens for livestock. They are eaten by the livestock," Ahmed said.

He went on to explain that the main economy of the country was in grazing stock. The population lives off the cattle, sheep, goats, horses donkeys and camels that graze on the land.

"The trees do not grow very large. The lower leaves are eaten by the cattle and sheep. The camels are able to eat the top branches," said Ali.

Somali exports hides and animals to the Arabian countries. "None of the processing is done in Somali," Ali said.

The group suddenly held a conference in Somalian language.

"The others want me to tell you that we also export citrus fruit and bananas to Italy and France," Ali added.

He said that the country grows excellent tropical fruits along the Juba and Shabela rivers.

Rainfall in Somali varies from five inches a year on the coastal areas to 25 inches a year on the high plateau of the interior, he said.

"We want to learn your methods of water conservation and irrigation," he reported.

"And take advantage of your mistakes," added Aboke Ali, another member of the group who could speak some English.

The six men were brought to the United States on March 29 by the state department in the international development program, Clark said. They spent the first few weeks in Washington, D.C., and have visited Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona for study of the use of semi-arid and arid regions.

After their brief Marin visit, they left immediately for Lakeport and Willows to study range management in northern California.

They will return to the Somali Republic on June 29.

Novatan's Face Cut In Wreck

Evelyn Lucille Lawrey, 47, of 605 Sunset Parkway, Novato, suffered two cuts on her face at approximately 3 a.m. today when she drove her car off the east end of Canal Street.

The car stopped halfway in the water. Mrs. Lawrey went to a friend who lived nearby. She changed clothes and the friend then took her to Marin General Hospital where she received 30 stitches to close the cuts.

San Rafael police did not hear of the accident until called to the hospital to get the report at 4:22 a.m.

Motor Vehicle Probe Launched

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State Highway Transportation Administrator Robert P. Bradford launched an investigation today of purchasing practices in the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown assigned Bradford the task yesterday after noting press reports that office equipment had been purchased for the department without competitive bidding.

"I want to be certain that no action by the state employees in any way jeopardizes the bidding system which guarantees quality equipment at the lowest cost to the taxpayer," Brown said.

Marin Audubon Society Elects

Mrs. Ivor J. Davis of San Rafael last night was elected president of the Marin Audubon Society at a meeting at the home of Dr. L. M. Griffin Jr. in Kentfield.

Mrs. Davis succeeds William S. Picher, and will serve a one-year term.

Also elected were Mrs. Arthur Bridge of Belvedere, first vice president and Otis H. Smith, Larkspur, second vice commander. Re-elected were Mrs. Anita Parker of Corte Madera as secretary and Gordon W. Strawbridge of Tiburon as treasurer.

Three Are In Line For Post Of New San Anselmo Fire Chief

A new San Anselmo fire chief will be chosen from among three men who passed highest in written and oral examinations.

The city council last night approved the list of three candidates: Asst. Fire Chief Francis Sousa, Capt. William Rawlins, and Capt. Richard McLaran. The councilmen adjourned last night's meeting until 8 o'clock tonight to interview the three men.

The new chief will succeed Fire Chief Nello Marcucci, who retires on June 28.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Agreed with the Sleepy Hollow Fire District commissioners that Sleepy Hollow would pay about $32,000 for fire protection for the coming fiscal year, or 18 per cent of the total fire department budget. This is about the same as the amount paid by Sleepy Hollow this year.

2. Adopted the new 1962 electrical code, bringing electrical regulations up to date.

Last night's meeting wound up in less than one hour.

Two Bills To Improve Marin Courts Win Initial Approval

IJ Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Two bills designed to improve operations of Marin County courts have won initial approval in Assembly committee.

Bagley bill AB 2415, which would increase the salaries and numbers of Marin municipal court clerks and deputy clerks, passed the judiciary committee and went before the full Assembly on the consent calendar, practically guaranteeing its passage.

A second bill, AB 567, which would give Marin a fourth Superior Court, also passed that committee and was referred to the Ways and Means Committee. It faces a doubtful future, however, for the state Judicial Council has indicated the county will not need a fourth court before 1965.

Retarded Measure Approved In Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill requiring school districts to set up education programs for severely mentally retarded children was approved today by the Senate Education Committee.

The measure, by Assemblyman Clair Burgener (R-San Diego), would apply to all school districts with more than 8,000 average daily attendance, and would take effect in July 1964.

Dobbs Says No Mill Valley Changes For 6 Months

No major change in zoning around Mill Valley can be expected for at least six months, County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

Supervisor Peter Behr had asked for a report on the planning department's workload, suggesting more men might be needed to speed work. He, in turn, has been pressured by Mill Valley officials for speedy action in the area.

Mill Valley Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks has complained the county allows smaller lots outside the city than are called for in the city's general plan.

Dobbs said he could well use one more man in his department to handle enforcement and routine agenda matters, thus freeing his higher level planners for major planning projects. He listed several projects set for the near future.

Behr then complained that Dobbs should have mentioned some other projects, such as updating the county's master plans for specific areas.

"I'm disturbed," Behr told Dobbs. "This is the most important single phase of planning in a fast-growing county. If a year goes by, a lot of irrevocable changes would be made."

Almost all the master plans need review, Dobbs agreed, noting that the county streets and highways plan was adopted in 1952 and never updated.

"The zoning ordinance was adopted in 1938, and it needs changes," he said. "It's a continuing problem."

In his list of projects, Dobbs gave first priority to a study of the Richardson's Bay area, in connection with pending Army Corps of Engineer's flood control and dredging work.

Next, he said, would come the Kentfield Master Plan and hearings on San Geronimo Valley zoning.

Art work and preparation for publication of the West Marin Master Plan is underway also, he said, as is work on the Novato Master Plan, paid for by the City of Novato.

Then will come a zoning study for the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

Also in the works are some major revisions of the county planning ordinance, especially changes in the planned development districts, which will free the staff from administrative work on them.

Finally, he said, the planners are studying three major highway location and route alignments.

A study of the Northridge area, just outside Mill Valley, is a comparatively minor project due soon, he said, but even if there were no complications and hearings ran smoothly, there would be no major rezoning for at least six months.

He said changes in Northridge zoning and a restudy of the Tamalpais Valley Master Plan should satisfy most of the objections of Mill Valley officials.

Unification Meeting

Bonded indebtedness of school districts proposed for unification in the Tamalpais Union High School District will be considered by the augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization today at 8 p.m. in the Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo.

Swedish Exchange Student Says Learning Is Fun

By ALTON S. BOCK

Most high school students in America don't seem to realize that learning can be fun, a 17-year-old-blonde, athletic Swedish girl at Terra Linda High School observes.

This is one of the many differences between attitudes here and in Sweden, according to Ingrid Mona Wicknertz, a Stockholm girl who is attending spring semester classes at Terra Linda under the American Field Service student exchange program.

"Too many students here are fun-searching,' she said, whereas in Sweden, study is fun. But I like the way things are done at Terra Linda High. I think their system is very good, and I'm really enjoying it."

Terra Linda High School is the second school in California Miss Wicknertz has attended since she came to the United States last August. Until mid-March she attended Woodland High School in Yolo County, but was transferred to Terra Linda when the Woodland family with whom she was staying moved from the area.

She is now living with Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Oliver at 56 Circle Road in Los Ranchitos. Oliver is a trustee of the Marin Junior College District. His family includes Mrs. Oliver; Janet, 15, a sophomore at Terra Linda; Laurie, 14; Beth, 11, and Robbie, 10.

Although she is a senior at Terra Linda, Miss Wicknertz will have two years of school to complete when she returns to the "gymnasium" in Stockholm next September.

"I won't get any credit for the year I've spent at schools here," she said. "But I've learned a lot anyway."

She speaks English without difficulty and has already studied four other languages: German, French, Norwegian, and Danish.

"After speaking English for so long, I find I really have a hard time speaking Swedish," she laughed.

As in many European seconmany of our college subjects. But Miss Wicknertz admitted part of the difference in systems is due to the fact that a high school education is not required in her country. Only dary school systems, school work in Sweden is more like students of proven ability continue their academic education.

"But we do start learning English, German and French in the fifth, seventh and eighth grades," she said.

Not surprisingly, she is fond of skiing, and sports is one of her major interests. "I hope to be admitted to a physical education college in Stockholm when I finish high school," she said, "and I would like to teach physical education eventually."

Skiing on water is as much a thrill for Miss Wicknertz as skiing on snow. Two of her favorite experiences in California were trips to Lake Tahoe for water skiing and to Squaw Valley for the snow.

But not all experiences in America have been pleasant for Miss Wicknertz.

"I was really shocked to see how rude a woman was to a Negro man once on the bus from Sacramento to Woodland," she said. "In Sweden I read of such things but didn't realize how it could be until I saw something terrible like that."

Although she likes Marin County and San Francisco, she deplored the "slums in San Francisco. In Stockholm," she said, "everyhing is clean and orderly."

Socialism in Sweden is something many Americans do not understand, she said. "It is nothing like Communism. We have free medical and dental services and free lunches in all our schools."

Many Americans tell her "You have to pay for those things somehow though," but she answers, "You pay high taxes here, too, and maybe you just don't get enough for your money."

She also thinks it is "awful" that Negroes "have to pay taxes, and yet they don't seem to have any rights."

In July, Miss Wicknertz will return to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tage Wicknertz, and a brother, Bo, 11. She also has an older sister, Ann, who is married.

"Mona has taught us at least one thing while she has been with us," commented Mrs. Oliver. "She has shown us how to make wonderful Swedish meat balls."

"But my mother says I am a terrible cook," Miss Wicknertz protested.

Sausalito Against Beefing Brown Act

The Sausalito City Council last night decided it does not feel it necessary to send out formal notices when a committee of less than a quorum meets.

The council voted 3-1 to oppose an amendment to the Ralph M. Brown Act which would spell out a requirement for such notices.

"This is too restricted upon the formal work of the council," said Mayor Paul Micou.

Strong support of the amendment came from Councilman Michael Harris. He said "the Brown Act requires committees of less than a quorum must obey the law in the same fashion as the entire body . . . It is my opinion that public business is considered by small groups as well as by large ones.

"We know that even the press does not attend our subcommittee hearings very frequently. The public hardly ever does. I see no reason why they cannot do so."

Harris was dissenter in the 3-1 vote. Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson was absent.

The council had been asked by the League of California Cities to state its position on several bills pending in the legislature.

Richard Carpenter, executive director and general counsel of the League of California Cities, commented in his communication regarding the Brown Act amendment: "We believe that such a provision which would require all the notices and formalities of regular meetings of the council would seriously hamper the conduct of municipal business."

Councilman Jan Paul Dyk said that if the amendment were enacted "I would play host to whoever comes."

"We do not meet in people's houses," said Harris. "We meet in council chambers and sometimes in the field. . . Anyone is free to go tramping over the countryside with us. . . . If business is done in Sausalito, we know it's done publicly."

Harris, a San Francisco newspaper reporter and strong supporter of public meetings being open, said "I happen to have a copy of the Brown Act with me" and read two portions:

"It is the intent that their (governmental body) action be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly," he read. "People insist on remaining informed so they may retain control over instruments they have created."

Following the vote, Harris said "despite the vote I assume we will continue to hold committee meetings open to the public." Micou responded, "We have always had that policy when we have a formal committee meeting of announcing the time and anyone can attend."

The council unanimously opposed Assembly Bill 3027, which would require city councils in cities of less than 300,000 to employ a certified court reporter on receipt of a request and deposit of an unstated amount 24 hours before a meeting.

Councilmen voted unanimously to support Senate Constitutional Amendment 18, which would impose a one per cent tax on intra-state gross receipts of telephone companies to replace revenue lost when the Supreme Court held last year that telephone firms cannot be required to pay franchise fees to engage in business.

Tam Unification On Agenda Tonight

Setting of a date for a public hearing on proposed unification of Tamalpais High School District will be the first item at a meeting of the Augmented Marin County Committee on School District Organization tonight at 8 o'clock at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo.

The committee will also continue its discussion of potential bonded indebtedness for the proposed district.

San Jose, Costa Rica's 3-870-foot elevation and average 75-degree temperature give it a constant springlike climate.

Only 11 Novato Citizens Show Up With Suggestion For City Budget

Only 11 citizens turned out for last night's hearing on the Novato city budget, and most of them requested additions to the city's spending.

City Administrator J. Julien Baget's proposed budget called for $561,445 expenditures against $538,225 estimated revenue.

Mrs. Lloyd Hill of 728 Eucalyptus Avenue and Mrs. Arthur Olson of 8 Villa Place, president and past president of the North Marin County Parent-Teacher Council, asked for a traffic officer to patrol around schools and work with crossing guards.

Baget told them that one of three additional officers proposed in the budget was designated as a traffic officer. He said $35,000 was budgeted for a county-city project to widen the Warner Creek Bridge on South Novato Boulevard, and that the Grant Avenue footbridge was also in the budget. Both these projects will aid school foot traffic, he said.

Dr. Donald Lannan, representing the junior chamber of commerce, asked for larger quarters for the Novato branch of the Marin County Library.

Former Mayor Wayne Womack, president of the chamber of commerce, asked the council to increase its appropriation to the chamber from $4,550 to $7,000.

More street lights on South Novato Boulevard between Stone Drive and Highway 101, scene of many accidents, were asked by Mrs. Ellis Conklin of 401 Stone Drive.

Mayor M. E. Silva told her that the county owns that side of the street, and he felt the county should help pay for the lights.

At that moment, Marin County Supervisor William Gnoss entered the hall. Asked by Silva if the county would help with the lights, he replied, "If we can, we will."

Mrs. John Machado of 1424 Dawes Street asked that the city council put money in the budget for land acquisition for parks.

E. D. King of 590 Sunset Parkway, president of the Monte Marie Community Services District, asked that the budget for that district be reduced from $1,840 to $1,630. "This will reduce the tax rate for the district from 45 to 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation," he said.

"We will take all of these suggestions under consideration as we go over the budget," Mayor Silva said.

The council set 8 p.m. tomorrow for the first study session on the budget. There will also be a second public hearing later.

Case Of Malaria Reported In Marin

A malaria case, rare in Marin County, was reported yesterday by the Marin County Health Department in its weekly report of communicable diseasees.

The case in Novato is one of the "very few" in many years, Dr. Mary Jo Tonelli of the department said. "I don't recall the last one."

She emphasized that the patient did not contact malaria in Marin County, but outside the United States.

"We don't have malaria-infested mosquitoes here," Dr. Tonelli said. "There's no public health hazard."

Servicemen Freed In Robbery Charge

Two servicemen, suspected of robbing a Point Reyes Station man of $50, pleaded guilty to drunkenness yesterday in Marin Municipal Court and were released from jail after spending a night in the cell.

They are A/3c James W. Allison, 20, of Travis Air Force Base, and Navy PO/2 Charles D. Swords, 21, stationed aboard the Paul Revere in San Francisco.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas said there was not enough evidence to charge the two servicemen with anything more serious than being drunk.

Leonard W. M. Bowman, 42, of Point Reyes Station told Sausalito police he met the two servicemen in San Francisco Monday night and drove them to Sausalito. Bowman charged that the two took his money and drove off with his car, leaving him on Wolfback Ridge above Sausalito.

Bowman walked down the hill and found his car with keys intact near Spencer Avenue.

All three had been drinking heavily, and their accounts of what happened varied, the district attorney said. He and Sausalito police agreed that evidence was insufficient to support charges of robbery or car theft.

North Marin Schools Held Undermanned

The North Marin school districts under reorganization study are "really undermanned," Edward Anderson of the research firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton told the Novato Unified School District board last night.

This undermanning "administrative and overall" resulted from rapid growth and "the struggle to make ends meet," he said.

The districts under study are Novato Unified, San Jose, Dixie and San Rafael Elementary, and San Rafael High.

"Planning should be undertaken to build up the services," Anderson said. "This does not indicate that the job has been done poorly. In fact, it has been outstanding in view of the conditions."

Anderson said there is a "similarity of development" in the area under study. "I've never seen four school districts that had as many similarities as these."

This similarity, he said, is likely to increase rather than decrease.

The Groningen natural gas field in Holland possesses probably twice the reserve of Europe's two biggest fbields, Lacq in southern France and Italy's Po Valley field.

Move To Recall Broemmel Is Held Gaining

A move to recall County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel is gaining, according to P. J. Rowland of Greenbrae, president of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

At a directors' meeting in the county courthouse last night, Rowland told those attending (estimated at from eight to 15) that he has received about 200 phone calls and letters encouraging the move. He said about 2,000 persons will have to show interest, "but that is a start."

Talk of a recall movement has come from Rowland and another member, John R. Kiker of Novato. The talk was prompted by reappraisals of the North Marin area under Broemmel's cycle reappraisal program.

Next regular meeting of the taxpayers association will be June 18.

Double Sessions Set At Hub City School

Trustees of the San Anselmo School District learned last night that there will be six double sessions for the first part of the next school year at Wade Thomas School.

Supt. Stephen Parodi said double sessions will be held in the first, second and third grades. This will be necessary until four additional classrooms at the school are completed in January, 1964.

Perodi said it will also be necessary to use a classroom at Sleepy Hollow School, now rented to the county superintendent for a mentally retarded class. The room will be used for fifth graders from the Yolansdale School area, who will be transported by bus to Sleepy Hollow.

The San Anselmo School District board also:

1. Granted teacher tenure (fourth year contracts) to Mrs. Dorothy Israel, second grade at Brookside School; Mrs. Carmen Roberts, kindergarten at Isabel Cook School; Dale Porter, instrumental and voice music instructor for the district; Miss Melba Evans, second grade at Wade Thomas School; Jean Hancock, first grade at Wade Thomas School, and Sue Howe, fourth grade at Sleepy Hollow.

2. Accepted resignations of two upper grade teachers at Isabel Cook School: Nyal Worsham, who will teach in the Fairfax district, and John Sydor, who will study in Rome.

3. Adjourned until June 11, a week earlier than the normal meeting day, to open bids on the addition to Wade Thomas School.

The Netherlands' Groningen natural gas field holds at least 14 trillion cubic feet of natural gas—enough to supply the nations entire power needs for five years.

TWO PRINCIPALS HIRED BY TRUSTEES IN NOVATO

Novato Unified School District trustees hired new principals last night for Novato High School and Hill Junior High School.

Garold F. Ellyson, 45, principal of South Fork High School in Humboldt County, was named high school principal to succeed Robert McKeay, who has resigned to take another assignment.

Ellyson, a graduate of Wayne State College in Nebraska and University of Colorado, also has previous experience as principal of Fairview High School in Boulder, Colo.

Under a new administrative salary schedule adopted by the school board last night, he will start at a salary of $13,086.

William Leigh Metteer, 32, vice principal of Parkmead Intermediate School in Walnut Creek, was named principal of Hill Junior High School, succeeding Robert Patterson, who also resigned.

A graduate of Chico State and San Francisco State, Metter has had 10 years experience in intermediate school work. He will start at a salary of $11,777.

The Novato School District board also:

1. Approved a new salary schedule for administrative and service personnel tied to the teacher salary schedule. A high school principal will get 50 per cent more than the teacher schedule, a junior high principal, 35 per cent; elementary principal, 25 per cent; high school vice principal, 20 per cent; junior high vice principal 15 per cent; librarian, 10 per cent; speech therapist, 10 per cent; and director of guidance, 25 per cent. The schedule does not include the district superintendent, curriculum director, or business manager.

2. Rejected two bids for remodeling the high school because they exceeded funds allocated for the project. Fostmeier Construction Co. presented a base bid of $17,000 with an alternate of $4,000 and Lloyd Hunter had a base bid of $19,997 with an alternate of $6,141. The state allocation for the remodeling is $12,769.

3. Hired the following teachers for the 1963-64 school year: Virginia Maloney, junior high school homemaking; Shirley Campanello, fourth grade at the Lu Sutton School; Gail Porter, high school English; Valerie Vaio, first grade at Rancho School and Joan French, fifth grade at West Novato School.

4. Accepted the resignation of Linda Snider, fourth grade teacher at the Lu Sutton School, who is moving.

5. Approved having a student teacher training program at the district schools starting this fall.

6. Postponed discussion of a teacher's handbook until the June 4 meeting.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Don't Overlook Opportunities In Profession Of Real Estate

One of the most thriving business activities in Marin County is real estate. Predicted growth of the county should provide continuing opportunities for many years to come. Both men and women have found it interesting and profitable work. Young persons might do well ot consider it as a profession.

Real estate people who entered the field 15 to 20 years ago had to pick up most of their knowledge through experience. Requirements for a newcomer are now more complex—and even the oldtimers find it beneficial to go back to school and be brought up to date.

Courses leading to an Associate in Arts degree are being offered at the College of Marin in cooperation with the California State Division of Real Estate, California Real Estate Assn. and the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Evening adult classes are also held, with completion of 24 required units enabling students to acquire a Real Estate Certificate. Material covered is designed to aid those preparing for the salesman's license examination as well as give instruction in techniques, real estate law and appraising.

Arrangements for counseling can be made by calling the College of Marin.

On the Real Estate Advisory Committee are board executive manager Daniel F. Deedy and Marin realtors Raymond Eckert, Hugh G. Marchant, Edward Morphy, Robert R. Morrison, F. J. Picchi, Joe H. Stewart and Edward P. Ward.

THERE IS NO DOUBT that mounting interest is being shown by Marin residents in investments in the stocks of Marin County corporations. Jess J. France Jr., San Rafael resident partner in York and Co., announces that his firm is now giving increased attention to such purchases for investors.

Cerf

MILTON M. CERF of San Rafael has been named San Francisco agency manager for Bankers Life Co. For several years he has been district manager in Corte Madera for Equitable Life Insurance Co.

'Potemkin' To Be Shown At Festival

"Potemkin," considered by some critics "the greatest motion picture ever made" will receive one of its rare showings May 30 as the concluding event of the third annual Festival of Performing Arts.

The film will be shown at 8 p.m. in the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, site of this year's festival.

Produced in Russia in 1925 by Sergei Einstein, this silent film (with musical sound track added later) relates incidents in the abortive 1905 uprising in Odessa.

Accompanying "Potemkin" will be the modern French 30-minute film, "The Red Balloon." Filmed in color, this nostalgic story of a little boy and his red balloon which takes on a life of its own has won many prizes and awards.

Tickets will be available at the door prior to the performance. Refreshments will also be available.

Experts Reveal Clearer Picture Of Plant Energy

BERKELEY (UPI) — Scientists have revealed a clearer picture of the initial light-energized step in the photo-synthetic process by which green plants concert sunlight into chemical energy.

The findings focus attention on the properties of an iron-rich protein substance called ferredoxin.

Farm Employment Is In Decline

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Employment on California farms during mid-May has totaled 310,100, a jump of nearly 43,000 over April, but a drop of about 32,000 from the same period a year ago, the state department of employment reported.

Prolonged spring rains delayed pre-harvest activities in orchards and row crops, with about 17,000 of the year-to-year decline attributed to cotton, tomatoes, melons, sugar beets and strawberries.

Of the total farm employment on May 11, 91,800 was farmers and unpaid family, a drop of 4,400 from last May; 96,100 hired regular, down 500; 95,600 temporary domestic, down 13,500, and 26,600 contract foreign workers, a drop of 13,500 from last May.

Mrs. Greiner Again Seeking Divorce

The on-again, off-again divorce of socially prominent Chatty Collier Greiner of Sleepy Hollow is on again.

She filed suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court against William LaSha Greiner, a civil engineer, charging he was extremely cruel and caused her grievous mental suffering.

This is her second divorce action against him in about a month. She filed for divorce last month, then quietly withdrew the complaint. This morning's suit indicates they were separated again on May 9.

They met while both were students at Stanford University. They were married in a surprise Nevada elopement on April 5, 1960.

Paid circulation makes a strong free press

A newspaper, like a tree, can be only as strong as its roots.

And its "roots" are the paid subscriptions, spreading far and wide throughout the community.

With them, a newspaper becomes an organic, living thing. Responsible to the community, wanted by its readers, it can be flexible in the changing winds of opinion, and firm on principle. For its roots go deep. It "belongs."

It can take a stand (though you may not always agree with it) because it has something to stand on—the intimate knowledge of the community and its needs.

Without paid subscriptions, a newspaper is rootless. In fact, it becomes a throw-away... a tumbleweed publication that comes, unasked for, to your doorstep.

Here at the Independent-Journal, we know that your readership is not given lightly. It must be earned. And a newspaper worth reading must be worth paying for—or pay the price of not being read.

A strong, free press, then, is no give-away. It doesn't exist in a vacuum. It doesn't grow from without, but from within the community.

Today, our official paid circulation is the highest in our history. Which means that 2 out of 3 families in Marin County believe in the oldest economic law of all—that you get what you pay for.

●

Independent-Journal circulation is audited and verified by the nationally-respected Audit Bureau of Circulations. On record for all to see.

Respiratory Disease Workshop Is Slated In Marin On Tuesday

"A Community looks at Respiratory Disease" will be the topic of keynote speaker Dr. Herbert Bauer, Yolo County health officer, at a nurses' workshop on respiratory diseases Tuesday at Sabella's Restaurant in Alto.

He will be introduced by Mrs. Laura Jean Looper, director of vocational nursing education at College of Marin and program chairman of the all-day event sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn.

The second of three guest speakers will be Dr. James Kieran, assistant clinical professor at University of California and president of the Alameda County Tuberculosis Assn. His topic: "Pulmonary Physiology."

The afternoon session will open at 1:30 with a talk on "Drugs and Treatment" by Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, clinical professor of medicine at U.C. Concluding the program will be a panel discussion of "Aspects of Nursing Care" moderated by Margaret Hoff, director of Marin County Health Department nursing services, and presented by Dorothy Thomas, Margaret Taylor, Doris Bahme, and Eleanor Culp.

Exhibits and demonstrations of pulmonary equipment will be shown throughout the day.

Reservations are available until through the tuberculosis association, 1010 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Summer Day Camp Set For Handicapped

For the sixth consecutive year, Marin Aid to Retarded Children will operate a day camp for mentally handicapped school-agers. Sessions will be 9 a.m to 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, July 1 through Aug. 9.

Locale will again be Hamilton Air Force Base, with daily swimming instruction a highlight.

Mrs. June Osborne, special education teacher with the Marin County schools, will be camp director, assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Duke. Co-chairmen for MARC will be Mrs. Morey Quilici, Novato, and Robert Karch, Mill Valley.

College Of Marin Students Voting For Fall Officers

Two days of voting for eight of next fall semester's College of Marin student government officers began today instead of two days ago as erroneously reported in Monday Independent-Journal.

The elections were rescheduled on May 14, said election chairman Jeremy S. Smith.

Voting was scheduled from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. today and tomorrow on the brick steps of Harlan Hall.

There are contests for only two positions: public relations commissioner and rally commissioner.

A shuffle was announced yesterday in the race for two positions. Daniel A. Collins Jr., formerly running unopposed for rally commissioner, was eliminated because he failed to make a "C" average last semester, said counselor John F. Gillin. In substitution Michael Thiercof, formerly in a three-way race for public relations commissioner, entered the race for the rally assembly post.

The student executive council nominated Ronald Foster of Marin City to run against Thiercof. Foster had disclosed interest in the rally post but had not obtained the needed 140 signatures on a petition.

Marilyn Heller, previously running for assistant cheer leader, now is running unopposed for head yell leader, replacing William Bagge, also disqualified by below "C" average grades. However, Bagge is still on the ticket as one of two assistant leader candidates, as the assistant posts do not require the same average.

Those running for the other posts are the same as reported Monday. A president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and song leader will be elected.

Rotary Clubs Hear Talk On Alliance

"I think Charles de Gaulle is working toward the 21st century but I disagree in his proposal to reach the 21st century without Britain as a part of Europe—and, indeed, without the United States and Canada as a complement of Europe in a great and powerful Atlantic alliance."

These were the wind-up words of James David Zellerbach, former ambassador to Italy, in an address Monday to five Marin Rotary clubs meeting at Dominic's Restaurant, San Rafael.

Zellerbach, who said he is a neighbor on both sides to Marin since he spends one-half his year in Sonoma and one-half in San Francisco, spoke on "Problems of the Western Alliance."

He said unity in Europe no longer exists since four months ago when De Gaulle said no to British entry into the common market and no to an American proposal for multilateral nuclear force for protection of Europe.

Zellerbach added that you have to understand that De Gaulle today adds to equality, liberty and fraternity the words prosperity, sovereignty and indominateability. "Those are the key words to his foreign policy," said Zellerbach.

College Students Accepted For Honor Society

Fifty-three College of Marin students have been accepted for membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, statewide junior college scholastic honor society, faculty advisor Leonard R. Blomquist announced today.

Michael Walsh of Larkspur, Carolyn Miller of San Rafael and Karen Thornson of San Anselmo became permanent members for having a B-plus average with no grade below C in two years.

Tthe others had a B-average with no grade below C last semester.

Walsh was named president and Miss Thornson treasurer of the college chapter. Other officers: Stephen C. Bryant of Mill Valley, vice president, and Nancy L. Barnecut of San Anselmo, secretary.

The honor society is a voluntary group and thus does not include all with a B average last semester.

Infant Breath Deaths Probed

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Severe breathing difficulties, the major cause of death during the first week of life, may be the result of clamping the umbilical cord before the baby's lungs are adequately functioning.

Drs. Arthur J. Moss, Edward R. Duffie and Leonard M. Fagan of the UCLA Medical School have reached this conclusion after a study of the common premature infant disorder known as the respiratory distress syndrome.

They found that babies whose umbilical cords were clamped prior to the second breath of life tended to have severe breathing difficulties more than those whose cords were clamped after the second breath.

County To Study Medical Setup

A six-month study of the organization and services of the Marin County Medical Department was authorized yesterday by the board of supervisors, acting on joint recommendation of the Marin Medical Society and County Administrator Alan Bruce.

Dr. Calvin Plumhof, president of the society, submitted a five-page report on county medical services. The report was authorized last November by the board, when the society suggested it might make recommendations for reorganization of the department.

A study of the department was considered by the board upon notice from former medical Director Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. that he would resign as of last May 1.

"Since Dr. Michael D. Scholl said he would replace Dr. Dufficy for only a six-month period, we felt this would be a good time to consider our report during the transition from a temporary to permanent director," said Dr. Plumhof.

Bruce suggested a committee of Dr. Scholl, Auditor Michael Mitchell, himself and members of the medical society to "take a look at the program and the society's report" and ask Health department and Welfare departments for suggestions.

A fulltime medical director, who would possibly appoint fulltime assistant county physicians, was proposed by the society's report. An increased medical budget for care of indigents was seen as necessary.

"The medical director will have increasing administrative responsibility and should be on call all the time," Dr. Plumhof said in defense of the proposal for a fulltime director.

Under present organization of the department, the director works parttime.

Bruce commented later that "in Santa Barbara County, 100 doctors offer their services to the county for free."

"I have always been upset about doctors here not volunteering their time for the county medical program," said Supervisor Peter Behr.

Also suggested in the society's report were:

1. "Greater cooperation among the medical, health and welfare departments," although no recommendation was made for putting all three departments under one director as "we feel that at the present time this is not practicable, if even possible in Marin."

2. Care of county jail prisoners and juvenile hall inmates should be under one doctor for each facility, with equipped treatment rooms at each place.

3. Liaison between the department and hospitals should be "improved."

4. Any matters of dispute as to the responsibility for care might be mediated by a review committee of the Marin Medical Society.

Soldier In Exercise

Army Pfc. Dale E. Stolz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stolz, 260 Canal Street, San Rafael, took part in Exercise Grand Slam II this month with other members of the U.S. Third Armored Cavalry Regiment in Germany.

Doctor Convicted In Drug Traffic

SALINAS (AP) — A jury has convicted a 64-year-old Salinas osteopath on 18 counts of illegal narcotics traffic.

Jury foreman Robert Rettig said Dr. Kenneth W. Blaylock was found guilty yesterday by unanimous vote on the first ballot.

The conviction was on three counts of selling the drug Percodan, carrying a possible sentence of five years to life on each count; and on 15 counts of illicit prescriptions, each carrying a maximum penalty of not more than six years.

Judge Anthony Brazil set June 6 for sentencing, cancelled the doctor's bail and ordered him jailed.

County Works On Evacuation Plan

County officials have been working on emergency evacuation plans for the Civic Center, but last Friday's bomb scare came before anybody was ready.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that he, County Administrator Alan Bruce and Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos had been working on the plan for some time.

"Tourists didn't know what was happening," Supervisor Walter R. Castro said about Friday's incident, when a man phoned the Civic Center to say a bomb had been planted there. "They were hanging on the railings looking around."

"We have an alarm system within the building," Frost said. He promised the evacuation plan would be ready quickly.

Mental Health Aid Increase To Get Study

Formation of a committee to study effects of proposed increased state aid for mental health programs was approved yesterday by Marin County supervisors.

The Marin Assn. for Mental Health asked the board two months ago to consider an early application for state funds under the Short-Doyle bill, now before the State Senate.

"The bill as it is now is rather confusing and will supposedly undergo further changes," County Administrator Alan Bruce told the board, after he and County Counsel E. Warren McGuire submitted long letters to the board attempting to explain status of the bill.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman suggested a study committee, with the Marin Assn. for Mental Health to nominate proposed members for appointment by the supervisors.

Rec Group Gets Cascade Park Study

Cascade Park was described to Mill Valley parks and recreation commissioners Monday night in the first of a series of studies to be made on city parks.

The study, prepared by Mrs. William B. Allen, commissioner, and Mrs. Lucretia Little, deputy city clerk, includes such information as a designation of the area, deed, restrictions in effect, and special features.

Eventually, according to Mrs. Pat Arnold, secretary, the city will have studies on all city parks to be placed in a folder with a key map. Interest was stimulated over the studies recently when builder G. C. Kott prepared to develop his land in the Three Wells area adjacent to Cascade Park.

Commissioners agreed to change this meeting date from the first to the second Monday of the month since the city council has decided to begin meeting on the first Monday starting Aug. 5.

Ex-Convict Gets Death In Murder

STOCKTON (AP) — A former San Quentin convict was condemned to death and his girl friend given a life term by a San Joaquin County jury yesterday.

Thomas LeRoy Teale, 34, and Ruth E. Chapman, 39, were sentenced for the kidnap-murder of Lodi bartender Billy Dean Adcock, 39, on Oct. 18, 1962. The pair was found guilty last week.

They robbed Adcock's bar, took Adcock to a deserted road and Teale shot him in the head three times. A personal check belonging to Mrs. Chapman, a former Eureka legal secretary, was found next to Adcock's body.

Tiburon Peninsula Meeting On By-laws

About 75 Tiburon Peninsula organizations have been invited to attend a meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council at 8 p.m. today in the Reed School audio-visual room. The meeting is to adopt by-laws for an expanded council.

At a meeting in February, attended by representatives of 53 organizations, it was proposed that the council be revised to include representatives of each social, civic, fraternal and religious organization in the Belvedere-Tiburon area.

Slumping Batters Saving The Giants

The late inning homer by slumping batters is keeping the San Francisco Giants on top of the National League, at least for the moment.

Jose Pagan, who had failed to get a hit in his last 20 times at bat, powered a leadoff homer into the left field seats to start the eighth inning last night and give the Giants a 3-2 squeaker over the Philadelphia Phillies. As a result the Giants retained their one game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League.

Pagan stole the idea from Felipe Alou, who came up to the plate with two hits in his last 29 times at bat on Sunday and crashed a similar homer for a 6-5 thriller at the expense of the Phils.

The clubs resumed their sharply pitched series today when Jack Sanford (6-3) of the Giants squared off against the Phils' Dallas Green (1-0).

"I'm satisfied with the way everything is going," Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants said last night when asked about the five hits which rookie Ray Culp of the Phils allowed his thumpers. "We're getting the runs. And as I've said before, that's what counts."

Billy O'Dell, the Giants' square-jawed southpaw, remained unbeaten in the National League while picking up his sixth win. He struck out nine batters, and rationed out five singles to the Phils to go with two walks.

Culp, a $100,000 bonus bundle from Texas, also held the Giants to five safeties but three of them were for the distance.

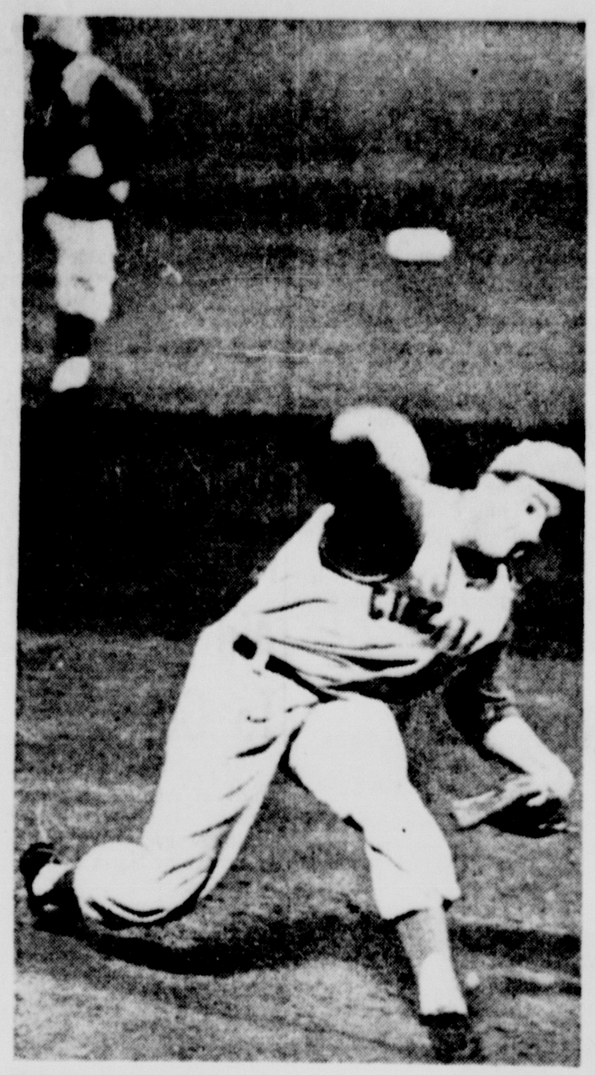
"He pitched a heck of a game though," Manager Gene Mauch of the Phils growled in a dressing room, where the language was a shade purple.

Bailey powered his eighth homer of the season over the right field fence in the second inning for a 1-0 lead. After the Phils tied the score in the third on Tony Gonzalez's single, Cepeda laced one to his off field—across the right field barrier—to put the Giants back ahead.

The score stayed at 2-1 until the eighth when Don Demeter put the Phils back in business with a game-tying single.

Then Pagan came up to open the eighth and sent the Candlestick Park crowd of 7,556 home in a holiday mood after one pitch by Culp.

BATTING AROUND: The entire game was played in a drizzling fog, but as Willie McCovey said: "Heck, we've played in much worse conditions than this on the road." . . .Both McCovey and Willie Mays were struck out three times apiece by Culp, who owns a fine curve. "It's the first time that we've seen him and we have to get used to him," Mays said. . . . Billy Hoeft, the disabled Giants' southpaw pitcher who hasn't thrown a ball this season, says that his arm is feeling better. "By Christmas I may be able to get it up so they can decorate it," Hoeft says. He also calls himself a "hundred thousand dollar a year man—in doctors' bills."



EQUALS RECORD—Cincinnati's Jim Maloney showed the Milwaukee Braves nothing but blurs last night as he tied a record by striking out eight consecutive batters in 2-0 victory. He totalled 16 strikeouts for the game. (AP Wirephoto)

Manager Gene Mauch Does Not Want His Phillies Counted Out

CONNOLLY

It is real nice to finish down the line and yet pick off the Manager of the Year honors. That's what Gene Mauch did last season. The young guy has to have more than a head of hair and a hat to do that, so when he orates, he's entitled to a listening audience.

"We're a few games back of the leaders right now," Gene was saying to the group of news hawks, "but we don't belong where we are. We should be where the Giants are—that is what losing a few silly games can mean to a league like ours.

"I don't want to pick a winner but I'd have to say the Giants, the Dodgers, and possibly the Reds are the teams we have to beat to win the pennant."

FOR A youngster in swaddling clothes as a National League manager, one has to admire the young skipper of the Philadelphia Phils. He's outspoken, humble, and yet forceful. Being a ball player who rated high up, he has the feel, the poise and, in his case, the leadership to accomplish a very difficult task. He's not only the manager of the ball club but the head man of the farm clubs, the scouts, and except for his boss who signs the checks, is the same as the owner of the club.

"When you have a league as strong as the National League you can't really tell where you'll finish, even with a good, sound, solid ball club," said Mauch when asked to rate the clubs so far.

Mauch has great respect for the Dodgers, who he rates awfully high on account of the comeback of Sandy Koufax, ace southpaw pitcher.

"The Cincy Reds are a young ball club and could be in the thick of things for many years to come," Mauch explains.

LIKE ALL the managers in baseball, Mauch places emphasis on pitching, saying it is his prime worry, particularly since "leftie" Dennis Bennett broke his ankle in an auto accident in Puerto Rico a few months ago.

Bennett, according to Mauch, pitched his finest the last two months of 1962 and was counted on heavily in 1963 plans.

The Phils have some good arms and hope to get some help from fellows like Ray Culp, Joel Gibson, Chris Short and others. But as Mauch states, the big loss is centered around Bennett and whether he can pitch back to his 1962 form in the waning days of the season.

DON HOAK, who was traded to the Phils from Pittsburgh, is having a tough time breaking into the lineup the way Don Demeter is playing but Mauch figures when the chips are down Hoak will be there. He plans to use Demeter in the outfield, once Hoak is straightened out.

"Don will be a regular before long and it was always intended that way," Mauch explains, "but I play my players when they're hot and have no sacred cows. Don is just getting acquainted and when he shakes hands all around, he'll be in the middle of our fight for the flag."

Mauch, who is considered to be one of the bright young men among the managerial leaders was pegged at the start to pump new life into the Phils. And nobody can deny that since the passing of the Whiz Kids, he comes pretty close to filling the bill, or at least has the potential.

'ALLEY-OOP' STAR VISITS MARIN

R. C. Owens, who made the "Alley-oop" play famous while with the San Francisco 49ers, visited San Rafael yesterday in his off-season position as public relations representative for the J. C. Penney Co. Owens, now a member of the Baltimore Colts, brought along a football and spent the day chatting with customers at the Penney Co.'s San Rafael store. Here 14-year-old Bob Horton of Woodacre listens to some gridiron tips from Owens while Daniel Fogerty, manager of the San Rafael store, looks on. (Independent-Journal photo)

8 Straight Whiffs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Manager Fred Hutchinson and the Cincinnati Reds always said that Jim Maloney's hard stuff would overcome his hard luck.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 200-pound fireballer from Fresno, Calif., Maloney won nine games for the Reds in 1962 and would have won more except that his teammates developed paralysis of the bat when he appeared on the mound. They didn't score a run for him over the last 20 innings of the '62 season.

Maloney has been getting some runs this season and last night he didn't need any luck—just a ninth-inning helping hand from Bill Henry—when he equalled the modern major league record by striking out eight straight batters in a 2-0 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. Jim went on to fan a game-total of 16 Braves—the third highest single-game total in modern baseball history.

Maloney's eight consecutive strikeouts tied the mark previously shared by Max Surkont of the 1953 Braves and Johnny Podres ofthe 1962 Los Angeles Dodgers. Bob Feller and Sandy Koufax share the game strikeout record of 18 and Dizzy Dean once struck out 17 batters in a game.

Maloney began his string of strikeouts with the last out in the first inning and ran it to the first out in the fourth before Hank Aaron grounded out. He had allowed only two hits when he walked his third and fourth batters of the game in the ninth and Henry went in to retire the side.

It was Maloney's sixth win against one loss and he has struck out 58 batters in 60⅓ innings. His powerful performance has helped to compensate for Bob Purkey's slow start due to a sore arm as well as the 1-7 record sported by Joey Jay.

Frank Robinson singled in the first inning and hit a sacrifice fly in the third to drive in both Cincinnati runs. Bob Hendley suffered his third defeat compared to four wins.

The San Francisco Giants retained first place with a 3-2 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies, the Los Angeles Dodgers downed the New York Mets, 4-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Houston Colts, 6-5, and the St. Louis Cardinals shaded the Chicago Cubs, 5-4, in other N.L. action.

Johnny Podres pitched a five-hitter to record his third win behind a seven-hit Dodger attack that included two key doubles by Ron Fairly. The game was enlivened in the eighth when outfielder Tommy Davis and coach Leo Durocher of the Dodgers were ejected from the game for arguing over a play at the plate.

Jim Pagliaroni drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer for the Pirates as Al McBean, who pitched four strong innings of middle-inning relief, increased his record to 4-1. The decisive Pagliaroni homer came off relief pitcher Jim Umbricht, who suffered his first loss.

Bill White knocked in three runs with a homer and a single to help the Cardinals' Curt Simmons chalk up victory No. 6. Curt Flood had three hits and Dick Groat and Julian Javier two each in the Cardinals' 10-hit attack.

Prep Golf Tournament Tomorrow In Novato

Something new will be added to the Marin Athletic League golf campaign tomorrow.

The seven high schools in the loop will send their top four golfers to Indian Valley Golf Course in Novato to compete in the first MCAL golf tournament.

Action will start at 4 p.m.

The tourney will be 18 holes of medal play. Winning team will be the one which scores the lowest total strokes between the school's four entrants.

George Lester, San Rafael High School golf coach who is in charge of the tournament, said the winning school will receive a trophy and the members of the team will each receive certificates.

The seven foursomes will be arranged in a way which will allow the loop's top golfers to compete against each other, Lester said.

Drake S. R., Tam Triumph

Drake High's champion Pirates closed out their regular Marin County Athletic League schedule on a triumphant note yesterday with a 5-2 victory over runner-up Redwood at Drake's diamond.

It was the 11th victory against a single setback for Coach Bob Fitzhenry's Pirates who clinched the league title last week.

Elsewhere yesterday, San Rafael clinched fourth place with a 3-1 victory over Marin Catholic and Tamalpais held on to edge Novato 5-4.

The Pirates exploded for four of their runs in the first inning as Bob Faulkner singled home a pair of tallies, Mike Crabtree tripled home another and Lon Gallagher also had a RBI with a single.

Drake's other run came in the sixth when Hamish Tyler tripled and scored on Gallagher's second single of the game. Crabtree also had two hits.

Steve Minutoli had two of Redwood's four hits. Steve White drove in a run with a single and Tom Gootherts drove in the other with a sacrifice fly.

Ted Westerhold, with sixth-inning relief help from Charles Simontacchi, was the winning pitcher.

At San Rafael the Bulldogs rallied for all their runs in the sixth inning as Danny Bell drove home a pair with a single and Tom Zunino drove in the other tally on a sacrifice fly. The inning also featured singles by Tom Massip and Dan Ahern.

Dan Abballo had a double for Marin Catholic.

At Novato the Tam Indians scored all their runs in the first three innings and then held off a late Hornet rally.

Fred Mack tripled home Tam's first run in the first inning and then pitcher John Walker made it 3-0 with a two-run homer.

After Novato scored once in the bottom of the first, Tam came back with a pair in the third on Mack's single, giving him three runs batted in on the day.

Novato scored a solo in the fifth and then threatened to pull the game out of the fire in the seventh as Jerry Howarth's double and Ron Rowell's single each drove in a run. However, Walker escaped further damage by getting the final two outs on a pop up and grounder.

The line scores:

Officials Back Berlin Bid For 1968 Olympics

BERLIN, Germany (AP) — Avery Brundage and other leading Olympic officials have thrown support behind the surprise bid of Berlin to play host to the 1968 Olympic Games.

"It would be a victory of sport over politics," Otto Mayer, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee said in Lausanne, Switzerland, yesterday.

He said the IOC welcomed the surprise bid by Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

"This would be a great triumph for amateur sports and the Olympic movement and it would put political wrangling to shame," Brundage, president of the IOC, said in Chicago.

"It would be a triumph at least equal to the triumph we had when we had East and West Germany marching together behind the Olympic flag in the past two summer and winter Olympics," Brundage said.

Success of the project hinged on the cooperation of the Communist East Germans. Their cooperation would mean, in effect, lowering the Communist wall.

There has been no official comment from East Germany, but West Berlin sources said East Berlin officials have reacted favorably to the plan.

Warriors Sign Their No. 1 Draft Pick

The San Francisco Warriors have landed their number one draft choice, Nate Thurmond of Bowling Green.

The 6-foot-11 Thurmond is expected to give the Warriors needed rebound strength at forward as well as finally providing a back-up man for center Wilt Chamberlain.

Although Thurmond hit 17.9 points per contest in three years of college play, Warrior officials say that is not primarily why they signed him.

They compare him to Boston's Bill Russell in that he stands out as a rebounder and defensive ace while still scoring his share of points.

'Pop' Still Coaching Champions; Marinites Going To Shrine Game

G. T. "Pop" Wendering hasn't coached baseball for several years now, but his influence still is felt around Marin County sandlots.

Wendering for many years was coach at Tamalpais High and considered somewhat of a genius among fellow mentors. It was rare indeed when Tam didn't win a championship. "Pop" had the knack of getting the most out of his players and he developed quite a few professional stars, including major leaguers Sam Chapman, Art Shallock, Karl Olson and Joe DeMaestri.

One of Wendering's pupils was Bob Fitzhenry back in 1938-39. Bob didn't go into pro ball, selecting instead a teaching career in physical education and coaching.

Fitz settled down at Drake High where for the past 13 years he's had more than moderate success in coaching, particularly in swimming and basketball.

This season Fitz, for the first time, took over as head coach of the Drake varsity ball club and—presto!—the Pirates win the championship.

Where does Wendering come in? Gladja asked.

"Every time I was confronted with a problem or a touchy situation in a game," Fitzhenry explained, "I said to myself, 'What would Pop Wendering do in a case like this?' Then I'd do what I thought he would do, by golly, it seemed to work. 'Pop' was always my idol. I really respected him as a man and a coach."

We just thought "Pop" Wendering, now in the real estate business in Mill Valley, would like to know he's still "coaching" championship teams.

WITH REDWOOD HIGH's father-son team of Bob and Jim Troppmann handling coaching and quarterbacking jobs for the North, several Marin fans are planning to take in the North-South Shrine football game in Los Angeles Aug. 1.

Tickets for the game can be obtained by writing to the North-South Football Office, 655 West Jefferson Boulevard, Los Angeles 7, Calif. They are priced at $5, $3, and $1.50.

Coach Troppmann will assemble his 25-man All-Star squad of graduating seniors at UCLA for opening practice on July 20.

MARIN COUNTY Athletic League Coaches Assn. will meet tonight to select the All-League team, elect officers and conduct other business.

REDWOOD HIGH's champion golf team defeated the school's faculty in a fun match at the Meadow Club Monday—but best score of the day was turned in by a teach, yet. And a girl, at that! Girls physical ed instructor Melinda Magly fired low score of 38—off the men's tees.

Cadet Star Admitted To Stanford

David Blaine, president of the senior class at San Rafael Military Academy and a top athlete, has been admitted to Stanford University, it was announced today by academy officials.

Blaine, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Blaine of San Rafael, will enter Stanford next September.

He was chosen All-Conference tackle two years while playing on the academy grid team and was co-captain of the team last season. He also won the school's outstanding lineman award and was nominated to play in the Shrine North-South game.

Blaine also competes in swimming, diving and track. He hopes to continue his athletic career at Stanford where he will major in medicine.

A member of the Scholastic Honor Roll at the academy for several years, Blaine is president of the local chapter of the National Honor Society. He is also the second highest ranking officer in the Cadet Battalion, holding the rank of major and serving as executive officer of the Cadet Corps.

Country Club Bowl Has Softball Team

Newly-formed Country Club Bowl softball team of San Rafael will play its first practice game of the season Friday night against the Fairchild Corp. team at Albert Park, San Rafael, 8 o'clock.

Manager Dan Olsen of the Country Club said his team will enter a San Rafael recreation league this summer.

LAGOON GETS MORE TROUT

Rodeo Lagoon at Fort Chronkhite is the only Marin County body of water scheduled to be restocked with catchable-sized trout this week, the Department of Fish and Game announced today.

Last week the department planted fish in lakes Phoenix, Lagunitas and Bon Tempe as well as Rodeo Lagoon.

Sohner's, Stan's Split Twin Bill

Sohner's Tree Service and Stan's Sport Shop, formerly Rancho Nicasio, split a softball double-haeder Monday night in San Rafael—Sohner taking a 12-2 victory in the opener and Stan's 5-4 squeaker in the nightcap.

Jay Leatherwood's two-hit pitching and Milt Hain's bases loaded triple led the Treemen in the opener. One of the losers' hits was a home run by Nolan Wilson.

In the nightcap, Wilson's second homer of the night and Scott Irving's two-run single were key blows for Stan's which rallied for four runs in the fifth inning to overcome a 1-4 deficit.

N. L. Cracks Down On 'Undesirables'

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — President Warren Giles of the National League, stepping up baseball's campaign to have players avoid "undesirable elements," has singled out a night club in Milwaukee as a place for them to stay away from.

"Gamblers and hustlers frequent the place," Giles told the clubs in a memo, according to a Braves spokesman. He said it was the only place pinpointed by Giles out of all 10 cities in the league. The league president's communique was issued about a month ago when the professional football scandal broke, but wasn't made known until now.

However, the Braves spokesman said it was known that managers of all the teams know certain places in each league city they have told players to stay out of.

"There probably is a tie-in here with the National Football league's gambling scandal," said the Braves spokesman. The same night club had been frequented by members of the Green Bay Packers and visiting NFL teams when they played in Milwaukee.

Circuit Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, legal counsel for the major league baseball players, was quoted as saying, "There aren't enough lawyers in the world to defend me," if he identified the establishment to the public.

Giles' memo was described as "informal" and spelled out no penalties for any player who would go to the night club despite the warning.

"That's all it was—a warning," said the Braves spokesman. "The league apparently wanted players to know about the place so they could stay away from it."

Cannon has completed visits to every major league team since the start of spring training to warn players about associating with so-called undesirable characters and frequenting places where they hang out.

Former College Star To Be In 10-Rounder

Roger Rouse of San Francisco has been matched to meet Sonny Miles of Oakland in a 10-rounder on May 27 in San Francisco, according to promoter Lou Thomas.

Rouse, former intercollegiate champion, has a 19-1 mark and Miles is 18-1.

Only four National League players took part in all their team's games last season. They were Maury Wills of the Dodgers, Dick Groat of the Pirates, Frank Robinson of the Reds and Ron Santo of the Cubs.

Approval On Tap For NBA Switch

NEW YORK (AP) — A special meeting of the National Basketball Assn. is expected to approve the shift of the Syracuse Nats to Philadelphia today. The move will restore the NBA to Philadelphia after a one-year absence.

The meeting was called last week by outgoing NBA president Maurice Podoloff to discuss the sale of the Nats to a Philadelphia group.

Sweet And Crunchy Cookie First Prize Contest Winner

When we heard that a food company was conducting a recipe contest for its employees—a purely "family affair"—we asked to be let in on the results. Now we can tell you about the top winner—a sweet and crunchy cookie that won first prize.

How is such a contest judged? "On the basis of originality, excellence of product and palatability," the contest announcement states. And there is an added note: "We think a recipe that needs very special equipment to prepare or ingredients that are not readily available is not practical."

THE WINNING cookie recipe more than meets these requirements. It's made with a refrigerator dough that's simple to prepare and uses a time-honored product, corn flakes, in an unexpected way. These cookies have great keeping qualities—the corn flakes stay crisp down to the last bite. Tried in our own kitchen, we had to fend off tasters in order to have any cookies left to keep.

One hint from our testing: When you pack the dough into rolls for refrigerator storage before slicing and baking, pack tightly. Then when you slice the dough, don't worry if a few edges break off—just pat them back with your fingers. Although this recipe does not state exactly to what degree to chop the nuts with which the rolls of dough are coated, we veered to the coarse side. This way, after baking, there's a wonderful flavor of toasted nuts to savor.

THE ORIGINATOR of this cookie has eight grandchildren. No wonder she knows how good cookies should taste! She grew up in the midwest and has lived there ever since. Her hobby? She's an African violet fancier.

$100 PECAN ROLL COOKIES

1 cup soft shortening
1 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup confectioner's sugar (sifted)
1 tbsp vanilla
3 cups sifted flour
3 cups corn flakes
2 cups chopped pecans

Beat together shortening, butter, sugar and vanilla until the consistency of thick whipped cream; add flour and mix well. Stir in corn flakes. Divide dough into four equal portions; shape into rolls about 1½ inches in diameter. Coat rolls with pecans; wrap each roll in waxed paper, sealing ends, and refrigerate at least 12 hours. Cut in ½-inch slices, place a little apart on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 6 dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Note: If dough is too soft to be shaped into rolls, chill before shaping as well as after.

Almonds Are Embellishers For Cakes

Almonds, a favorite of all good cooks, are great embellishers. Here are some reminders of the ways they may be used when you want to keep your family happy by varying everyday dishes.

Next time you make a frosted cake, add this garnish. Dip one end of blanched whole almonds in melted semi-sweet chocolate, then insert the nuts—chocolate tip up—in the frosting. Delightful to look at and delicious to eat.

YOUNGSTERS usually adore "porcupines." Soften cream cheese and beat with a little milk or cream. Arrange a pear halve (fresh or canned) with the rounded side up on a lettuce leaf. Frost the pear halves with the cream cheese and insert almond "quills."

Plain sugar cookies taste extra good when they are given this treatment before they are baked. Brush the rolled-out and cut dough with slightly beaten egg white; sprinkle with a mixture of sugar, grated lemon or orange rind and finely chopped almonds.

ALMONDS give steamed rice great texture and flavor contrast. Just stir toasted slivered almonds into the cooked rice at the same time you add butter.

So many green vegetables—peas, snap beans, broccoli and asparagus—benefit from almonds. Add the blanched slivered toasted nuts to melted butter and pour over the cooked vegetable.

CUSTARD-type puddings—vanilla, chocolate and butterscotch—with their bland flavor and smooth texture take to a crisp almond topping.

Sunday brunch coming up? You can make almond-cinnamon buns in a hurry and they'll be freshly baked. Serve them with eggs and bacon; men usually like these because they're not too sweet.

ALMOND CINNAMON BUNS

¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup butter or margarine, softened
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
12 brown-and-serve butterflake rolls

In a small bowl, stir together the sugar and cinnamon; blend in the butter. Stir in almonds lightly. Partially separate sections of rolls; spread each with about 1 tablespoon of the butter mixture. Place in ungreased muffin pans and bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 8 to 10 minutes. Serve at once. (AP)

Parmesan Beans Fine-Flavored

If you want this green-bean dish to taste its best, choose a fine-flavored Parmesan cheese for it.

Spice Cookies Beverage

PARMESAN BEANS

1 pound snap beans
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan cheese

Cut tips off snap beans; scrub in cold water; drain. Cook rapidly, covered, in the boiling water and salt just until tender-crisp—about 10 minutes; lift cover a few times to help keep beans green. Drain. Add butter and Parmesan and toss with beans to distribute evenly. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Chicken This Way Has Crisp Coating

Chicken fried this way has a crisp coating.

Crisp Fried Chicken
Chive Potatoes
Curried Tomatoes
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Strawberry Shortcake

CRISP FRIED CHICKEN

2 broiler-fryers (about 2 lbs. each, ready-to-cook weight)
1⅓ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon baking soda

Have chickens cut so drumsticks, 2nd joints, wings, breasts and backs are separate; then have each breast cut into 4 pieces and each back into 2 pieces. Mix together the flour, salt and pepper. Stir baking soda into buttermilk. Roll chicken, a piece at a time, in seasoned flour; dip into buttermilk; roll again in flour. Fry in deep fat (350 degrees), without frying basket, until lightly browned—10 to 15 minutes—and cooked through. Makes 8 servings.

Taste Pleaser

For sophisticatetd tastes: add slivers of syrup-preserved ginger to chocolate sauce and serve over vanilla ice cream. If the syrup-preserved ginger isn't available, use the kind that comes in packages and wash off its coating of granulated sugar under hot water. The water will soften the ginger and make it easy for you to cut into thin strands. But remember that a little ginger goes a long way, so add with a light hand.

DEVILED SHRIMP by any other name is party-right fare when served bubbling hot in individual shells or from a casserole. The zesty flavored cream sauce and shrimp are given further flavor and texture enhancement with fresh mushrooms.

Succulent Deviled Shrimp Year-Round Flavor Treat

Flavor and top nutrition go hand in hand in this Deviled Shrimp as protein-vitamin-and-mineral-rich cream sauce and shrimp combine for a party dish worthy of your most distinguished luncheon or supper guests. By the same token, it is so easily prepared that it is a favorite of busy homemakers for "family fare."

Serve in individual shells or ramekins or from a casserole. Recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 cups milk
Tabasco sauce
*2 cups cooked shrimp, deveined
1 cup sliced mushrooms
3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Buttered dry bread crumbs

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; blend in flour, salt and mustard. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Season with Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco to taste. Add shrimp, mushrooms and eggs. Cook 5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Pour into individual baking dishes or a casserole; sprinkle with buttered dry bread crumbs. Garnish each with whole cooked shrimp or mushroom caps, if desired. Shells may be re-heated in a moderate, 375 degree, oven for 15 to 20 minutes; a casserole 25 to 30 minutes or until sauce is bubbly and lightly browned.

*Note: 2 pounds fresh or frozen shrimp as purchased in shells yields 3 generous cups cooked, shelled shrimp. The extras may be used as garnish.

Fork-And-Knife Lunch Sandwiches

5 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely chopped
1 cup finely diced celery
¼ cup finely diced sweet pickle
⅓ cup mayonnaise

Seasoning salt and pepper
4 frankfurter rolls

Paprika

Mix together the eggs, celery, pickle, mayonnaise, mustard, seasoning salt and pepper to taste. Separate halves of rolls; butter and heat. Pile egg salad on rolls; sprinkle with paprika. Makes four servings.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Chester Bowles Honor Guest At Reception In Ross Home

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Chester Bowles was honored at a reception Monday night at the Ross home of Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Skewes-Cox. Bowles, named by President Kennedy as United States Ambassador to India, was here only briefly and so had little time to visit his son, Chester Bowles Jr. of Tiburon, his wife and their four sons. However the junior Mr. and Mrs. Bowles attended the reception as did the host's mother, Mrs. Vernon Skewes-Cox, and other family members and about a hundred friends. The reception preceded the ambassador's address at the Foreign Policy Institute at Stanford University.

The speaker, who was ambassador to India from 1951 to 1953, said he expects the problems will be greater when he goes to India this time because of its conflict with Red China. He said India is the only nation that shares the United States' views on Communist China.

After the Stanford meeting Bowles boarded a plane for the flight to Wasnington, D.C., to join his wife. They probably will stay in the Bay Area briefly before they take off for India.

MRS. ROBERT D. FORD (Barbara Johnson) and her husband arrived unexpectedly from their home in Caracas, Venezuela when their daughter Ellen Ford telephoned them she and Gerald Peter O'Connell were to be married last Saturday in Reno. The Fords flew north and joined the wedding party for the flight to Reno. Also on the plane were Ellen's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ford of Ross, Gerald's brother, Thomas O'Connell, and three young friends, Diane Delanoy, Richard Julien Jr. and Patrick Cahill. The bride's sister, Victoria (Vicki) Ford, was her sister's attendant and another sister, Janet, was also at the wedding. So were the bride's brothers, Richard and Philip Ford. However, the youngest, Robert, had to remain at Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach. Also unable to attend because of previous plans were Mrs. Ford's sister, Mrs. Rowland Chapman, and her husband, who live in Kent Woodlands.

Tom was best man for his brother at the late afternoon ceremony which was followed by a dinner at the Mapes Hotel given by Mr. and Mrs. Ford. Monday the bridal couple and Ellen's parents had a luncheon at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco. The bride's father left for Caracas yesterday but his wife will remain at their home in Ross for a three months' stay. In August Mr. Ford will rejoin his family at Lake Tahoe where they have rented a house.

Ellen, who studied at Dominican Convent and Sweet Briar, made her debut in 1957. Vicki made her debut also at the San Francisco Cotillion in December of 1961.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Joseph O'Connell of San Francisco. He attended San Francisco State College.

Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Chapman were reared in Ross where their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston, lived for many years. Ellen and her husband will reside in San Francisco.

A complete surprise was the party for Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Young of San Rafael at their home Saturday. The open house was given by Mrs. Young's sisters, Mrs. Paul Neville of Stockton and Mrs. Robert Gardiner of Larkspur, and their husbands. The large wedding cake was topped by the same bridal figures which had been on the wedding cakes of all three sisters. The lace of the bride doll had been on the wedding gown of the mother of the sisters.

At the party was the Youngs' daughter, Susan Young, a student at Linfield College in Oregon and their son and daughter-in-law, Bill and Mary Ann Young. Bill is a pre-medical student at the University of California.

Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Hansel, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hahn and Messrs. and Mesdames C. I. Erb, David Minch, Harold Fleming, Mel Quyle, Donald K. Stuart, Z. P. Melcon, E. R. McWilliams, Harold Ellis, Merwin Head, Warren L. Clark, Fred Haughton, Walter Wilson, Elias Day, Elliot Ginochino, Walter Wilson and Mrs. Warren Strode.

BAMBOO BLAST wast the name of the dance given Saturday night at the Tiburon Peninsula Club honoring the Reed Union School District eighth grade graduates.

The dance was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. John H. Flint, Messrs. and Mesdames William R. Myers, Everett A. Girtler, Frank G. King, Donald C. Mitchell, Robert B. Bagnall, George V. Banning, William R. Davis, Edgar B. Reed and Mrs. Marjorie F. Wardwell.

Board To Fete Novato Teachers

The Novato Unified School District Board of Trustees will be guests of honor at a tea sponsored by the Novato Teachers Assn. from 4 to 5:30 p.m., Friday, at the Rancho School in Novato.

Trustees to be honored are Mrs. Leonora Dougherty, Dr. Joseph Sereda, William Kirk, M. Boissevain, Earl Marshall, and the two incoming trustees, Gordon Leathers and William Schneeflock. Mrs. Irene St. John is chairman of the tea and will be assisted by members of the association.

Leona Clem Exchanges Vows With Gregory S. Patchett

St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding May 11 of Leona Clem and Gregory Sherman Patchett of West Covina. The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Clem of Kentfield, wore a light beige linen suit with matching accessories for the double ring ceremony.

Her only attendant, Patricia Burke of Lompoc, wore a two-piece pink sheath dress and patent accessories. John Murphy of Pasadena was best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Patchett of West Covina.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Las Vegas and are residing in Isla Vista while they attend the University of California at Santa Barbara. The bride was graduated from Redmond High School and is in her sophomore year at the university, while her husband is a senior student. He was graduated from high school in Grand Valley, Ohio.

Leona is the sister of Mrs. Richard Galbreath of San Anselmo and Harold Clem of Fairfax. Mrs. C. T. Sanders of LeRoy, Kan., is her grandmother.

The bridegroom is the brother of Mrs. William Goonan of Monrovia, Mrs. Rayburn Knickerbocker of San Clemente, Michael Patchett of West Covina and Anthony Patchett of Fort Campbell, Ky.

Dessert Planned

Members of Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley, will have a family night dessert potluck Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at the church. Afterward there will be a vesper service, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Weil, featuring two cantatas.

FLOWERS FOR THE PRESIDENT

Presenting a corsage to Mrs. C. R. Leininger, seated, new president of the Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society at yesterday's installation luncheon at Rubini's in Fairfax is outgoing president Mrs. John McGee. Other officers installed were Mesdames Elmer Weden, president-elect; Robert Chase, first vice president; Joseph Alderson, second vice president; A. Bernadine Magill Bride In Ceremony At Palo Alto Chapel

Married Sunday at St. Ann's Chapel in Palo Alto were Bernardine Mona Magill, former administrative assistant at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club, and Robert T. Cosgrove of Los Angeles.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edgar Magill of Palo Alto.

Wearing a street-length white Adele Simpson Alencon lace gown, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Magill. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Magill, was her attendant wearing an orchid silk organza dress and white picture hat.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cosgrove of St. Louis, Mo. His best man was his brother, F. J. Cosgrove, and ushers were Gordon Fields and Jack Willoughby of Los Angeles.

A champagne brunch at the University Club in Palo Alto followed the 11 o'clock nuptial mass with the Rev. John J. Tierney officiating.

The new Mrs. Cosgrove was a member of Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club besides being its administrative assistant and also a member of the California Tennis Club and the Bay Area Publicity Club. She attended the University of Washington and the University of Hawaii.

The bridegroom graduated from the University of Missouri and is vice president of an investment banking company in Los Angeles where the young couple will live.

For 'Stay At Homes'

Marin County Square Dance Assn. will hold a dance party Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Henry Hall School in Larkspur for Marin "stay at home" dancers not attending the annual Roundup weekend events in Oakland. The regional dance will feature Milt Adams as master of ceremonies and Merle Basom as caller.

Auxiliary Sets Poppy Days

Marin units of the American Legion Auxiliary are preparing for the observance of Poppy Days Friday and Saturday when memorial poppies will be worn in tribute to the nation's war dead.

The combined membership of the Bolinas Bay, San Anselmo, Mill Valley, Wilkins and Twin Cities Units in Marin will have a corps of volunteers in all parts of the county offering the red crepe paper poppies. Contributions received during poppy days aid the auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and children of veterans.

St. Francis Churchwomen Plan Bridge

Episcopal churchwomen of St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato will sponsor a progressive bridge party at Bishop Block Hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

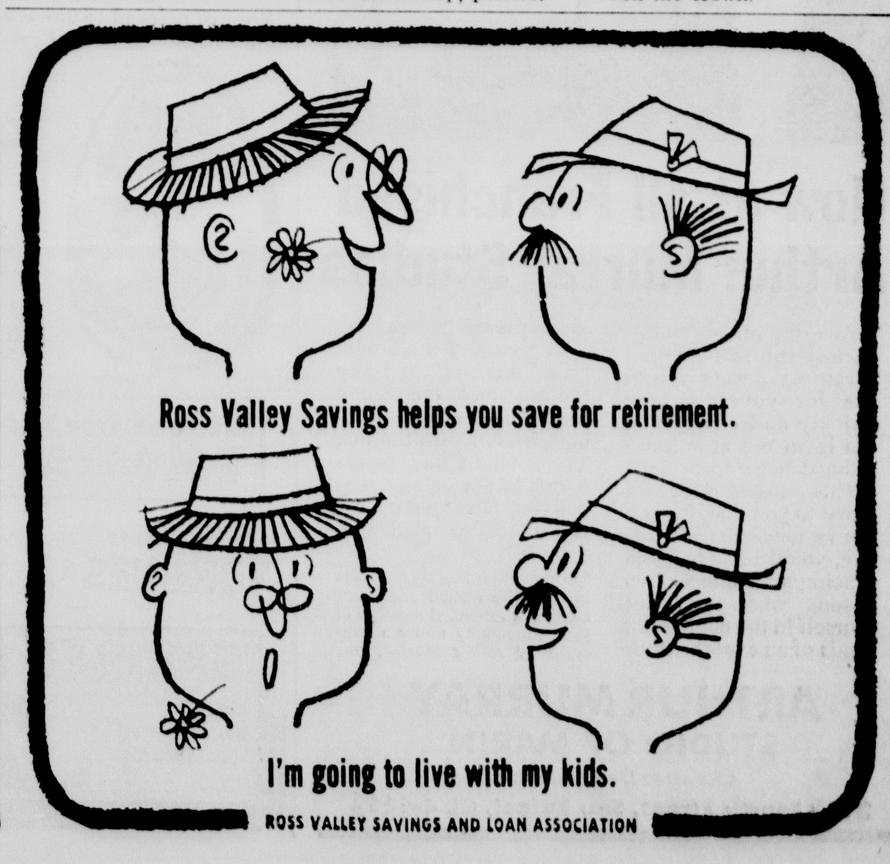
Inspired By Nuns

A new bonnet was inspired by the white butterfly silhouette headgear worn by some nuns. Simone Mirman, a London milliner, made the winged hat of stiff white organza and nestled sprays of flowers on the crown.



TAMALPAIS IS FIRST

The program of the American High School Red Cross to give high school students an opportunity to help schools in disaster areas of the world has been joined in Marin now by Tamalpais High School, which prepared this chest filled with school, recreational and health supplies. Working, from left are Tinsley Stetson, Victor Rowe, Robert Prather, principal; Mrs. Richard DeLew and Jackie McCarthy. Funds for the project were raised by such activities as noon dances. The chest is being sent to the volcano-devastated area of Bali in Indonesia.

Julie Harder Wed In Mill Valley Rite

Peace Lutheran Church in Mill Valley was the setting for the wedding on May 11 of Julie Harder of Mill Valley and Paul Toby Sandegren of Tacoma, Wash.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 8:30 p.m. by the Rev. Harold G. Johnson.

When the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Arthur Bleuss of San Mateo, she wore a street length dress of ivory brocade. Her maid of honor, Mary Bigus of Mill Valley, wore a pink dress.

Best man for the bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sandegren, was David Anderson of San Jose. Ushering was the bride's uncle, Michale Morrison of Mill Valley and Don Garrett of San Jose.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Clubhouse and the couple left afterward for a honeymoon at Boulder Creek. They are residing in Mountain View, where the bridegroom is employed at an electronics plant.

The new Mrs. Sandegren attended Tamalpais High School and was employed by a San Jose department store before her marriage. She has one brother, James Harder, of San Jose.

Paul attended school in Tacoma and served four years in the U.S. Navy. He has one brother, James Sandegren of Tacoma.

Control Yourself When A Headache Makes You Tense, Irritable

Take This Famous Product That Contains the Pain-Reliever Doctors Recommend the Most. In Minutes —Pain Goes, Also Its Tension, Irritability.

It's a medical fact that pain from a tension headache can make people so irritable and highstrung they lose control of their tempers and take it out on those around them.

That's why tense, nervous headaches call for the strong yet safe medication in Anacin®. Be sure it's Anacin you take because Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever most recommended by doctors, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins.

Anacin not only relieves pain fast, but also its emotional tension and irritability. In minutes you feel 'great' — in control of yourself again all without tranquilizers or narcotics of any kind. And Anacin does not leave you depressed — or 'let down.'

It's this big difference in Anacin that makes the big difference in the way you feel. See if strong yet safe Anacin doesn't work better for you!

Don't Try To Get Newsman To Keep News From Paper

Several times in recent days friends or acquaintences have come to us saying, "Please help us keep something out of the newspaper . . . "

"Wait a minute," we interrupt, "one of the surest ways of getting something in the paper is to tell a newspaperman about it. By telling him a newsworthy item and then asking him not to print it, you are giving him the choice of betraying the integrity he must retain with his readers or betraying whatever friendship there is between you and him. Believe us, he won't often betray his integrity."

"But it's such a little thing," they continue. "It's not really for me that I want the story killed, but it's the way it will affect the children."

"Why didn't you think about that earlier?" we're tempted to say, but seldom do.

Instead, we often tell the story that happened one day when a friend of our editor's wife came in to see us. She was going to be married, she said, but her fiance didn't want the notice of the marriage license to be published. That's not very much, she concluded, and the editor's wife would be so appreciative.

Sorry, we told her, all vital statistics in the county are published.

We published the license. The next day the fiance's first wife appeared and objected strongly to the wedding. He hadn't been divorced.

A newsman can't tell what effect an item will have. The only protection he has is to be as absolutely truthful and complete in his report as possible.

There's another major reason. People rely upon what they see in print. They rely on it in direct proportion to their experience on the reliability of the publication in which they read it.

Thus if a newspaper gets the reputation of suppressing the news or of holding back items on request or of failing to report about some "sacred cows," it loses the faith of its readers.

This is of prime importance to the advertisers. If a newspaper is believed, the readers also are more apt to believe the advertisements. If the paper has a bad reputation, the ads aren't as effective.

This is why that old complaint that "just because he's a big advertiser you don't print anything bad about his son," has no foundation. Advertisers have learned they do themselves harm if they attempt to influence a paper's news content.

What to do then if something happens which you are fearful might reflect badly on you if published? First decide whether it is "really news" from the public's, not your point of view.

If it is, then call the paper and give your side of the story so that the paper can easily get a balanced, fair report.

If you think it might not be newsworthy, don't try to stop its publication; that's a challenge to print it. Instead, keep your lips sealed, fingers crossed and hope for some big news break that day so there won't be room for your little item.

Our Four-Wheeled Pets

Marinites tend to regard their cars as pets. Some people we know would about as soon lose an arm as trade in Old Bessie. When a machine does well by us, we are partial to it.

Automobiles are a necessity for most Marinites, who live some distance from jobs and stores. Perhaps it is only natural that we lavish so much time and attention on the care, grooming and feeding of our four wheeled pets.

Despite our rainy, muddy winters, Marin's cars usually show the results of washing and polishing.

If cars were dogs, ours would be pampered poodles. Only a few wear jeweled collars or have an expensive pedigree, but most are well-trimmed and manicured.

What Can We Do With Obsolete Missiles When They're Obsolete?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Every now and then something pops up that seems to fit in with my pet economic theory, which is called "Disposalism."

Although it gets rather complicated around the edges, the basic concept of Disposalism is quite simple.

It rests on the postulate that we are nearing the point where itwill beh arder to get rid of things than it is to acquire them.

Already we can see signs of creeping Disposalism. It is, for example, easier to grow more grain than we can use than it is to dispose of the excess production.

Atomic power can now be readily produced, but getting rid of the radioactive waste materials has become a major problem. And so on.

A new manifestation of Disposalism came to my attention in a volume of testimony published by the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee.

As might be expected, it was Rep. Daniel J. (Silent Dan) Flood, (D-Pa.) who laid his finger on the problem. In fact, he laid his thumb on it, too.

Flood posed the question of what the Armed Forces intend to do with their old ballistic missiles when the models now in use are made obsolete by more advanced designs.

"Will they be just scrapped or what?" Flood inquired. "Can those birds be put in inventory and used as support sometime like old ammunition? Can they be reworked? What happens to those birds? We have not done this yet but what do you think we might do?"

As you can see, when "Silent Dan" poses a question he touched all the bases and takes the scenic route home.

The Air Force officer who was in the witness chair replied that "we just do not have a specific disposition plan now."

ALTHOUGH FLOOD and other subcommittee members did not appear particularly disturbed, this negative response fairly made my hair stand on end.

In my opinion, nothing less than a crash program is needed. This is not the sort of problem that can be solved overnight.

After all, there is a limit to the number of things you can do with old missiles. They are a bit large to convert into salt and pepper shakers and I doubt there would be much demand for them as flower vases.

IN TIMES PAST, they would have made a dandy item for Fourth of July picnics, but in many areas now, the use of fireworks is prohibited.

And, the game laws being what they are, you would need a special permit to use them for duck hunting.

I'm just thinking off the top of my head, btu as a stopgap plan I would recommend turning them over to the Navy. It could use them to hold the mothballs for the Mothball Fleet.

Bagley Hits Plateau In Charging Governor With 'Political Glossolalia'

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) may have hit something of a plateau recently when he issued a press release charging Gov. Edmund G. Brown with practicing "political glossolalia" in blaming lobbyists, then obstructionists and finally political contributors for the current difficulties with the administration's legislative program.

The term glossolalia, which means speaking with tongues, has been used somewhat recently in connection with church service. While it might send some readers scurrying for a dictionary, it is somewhat of a welcome relief from the greatly overworked terms of "responsible" and "irresponsible" which seldom are missing from political news releases these days.

ASSEMBLYMAN Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks), Republican floor leader, had issued a statement accusing the administration of setting up a general services department, even though the Legislature has refused to approve such an agency as yet.

"This is just another example of the complete irresponsibility of the present Democrtic administration," Conrad wrote.

While Conrad's offering was marked for release on a Sunday, Hale Champion, Brown's director of finances, was out with an answer on Friday.

CHAMPION DENIED there had been any major change in the internal organization of the sprawling department of finance and the only reason "general services" had been lettered on one office door was to direct the public to the proper offices. Conrad and Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi (R-Redwood City), minority whip, had posed for a picture by the sign.

"What appalls me about this apparently serious allegation is its utter irresponsibility and lack of even minor interest in the facts," Champion said in his answering news release.

Frankly, this writer found more interest in the Conrad-Champion exchanges when the latter was offering to bet the rose-colored glasses with which he was charged as wearing against the fright wig he accused Conrad of wearing.

Amid this type of mimeograph exchange, a rather restrained type of statement comes from Caspar W. Weinberger, Republican state chairman and former member of the legislature. Entitled "The Republican Alternative," the statement sets forth the GOP program for California, in quite general terms.

WEINBERGER SAID the first obligation of the opposition party is to point out the errors and deficiencies of the party in power.

Secondly, Weinberger said, the opposition party should develop and present to the voters its plans, basic beliefs that would be brought into government if the opposition party were returned to power.

Governor Brown often has accused the Republicans of failing to come up with alternatives for his programs. Weinberger's statement, while not going into specifics, makes some attempt in that direction:

"THE REPUBLICAN Party recognizes that it is no help to any individual and can do great harm to the state as a whole, if the Brown administration plan is followed under which money that we do not have, is spent for governmental projects that we do not need.

"The Republican philosophy is, and always has been, that the rights of the individual—all individuals—must be paramount, and that all governmental activity must be directed toward creating freedom for the individual as opposed to the Democratic philosophy which turns first to government and seeks more governmental power to solve everything which appears to be a problem."

The Weinberger statement may not offer anything specific enough to hang a vote on, but he doesn't use the word "irresponsible" once.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Schools Question Is Rhetorical

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the several letters published by you regarding the county schools office, the frequently reiterated question "what is going on there?" is surely a rhetorical one. For it must be patent to the letter writers what is indeed obvious to any of us giving it a second thought: that the office of county superintendent, certainly one of the most important of the county elective offices, is being used today as a political stepping stone.

It is odd indeed that a man whose educational philosophy (if it can be so dignified) revolved around the notion of "getting along" should have such difficulty getting along with the more capable members of his staff.

My own question is not so much "what is going on there"—but, how can we do something about it?

County Agricultural Commissioner Thomas W. Peryam said Marin income from agriculture in 1952 was 14.5 million dollars as compared with 13.5 million dollars in 1951. Main reason for the boost was a 1.5-million-dollar increase in the dairy industry.

Elmer E. Shafer, chairman of the scholarship committee of the Marin Central Labor Council, announced a $500 annual scholarship award for a Marin graduating high school student able to prove to proficiency on labor topics.

Before she hit the jackpot as a novelist, a now-famous writer applied for the job of school teacher in a sparsely settled county adjoining the one where she had been reared. The school board president was relaxing on his front porch. "I know your family, miss," said the president. "Is it true that one of your cousins killed a man and your father bribed enough witnesses to save him from the chair?" "Yes, sir," admitted the applicant. "I'm not denying it."

"Is it also true," he continued, "that another of your cousins killed her husband and is now serving a term in the penitentiary?" "No, sir," blurted our heroine. "She's out! They sent her up for five years, but she got out in three for good behavior. But," she added, "with all those facts, I don't suppose you'll want me to teach in your system."

"Lady," he assured her, rising to his feet, "you're the very one we do want. You can't hold your head above nobody!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A Swamp Can Be A Duck Pond, Swimming Hole Or A Supermarket

This is about a swamp. It is in wild, unincorporated Tiburon territory, but it may be annexed by the gentle City of Belvedere.

It has been called The Lagoon, The Swamp, The Duck Pond and, since 1955, Zelinsky's Lake.

People have been making a fuss over the pond area lately because it may become urbanized and bear a "Safeway store named "The Belvedere." So, being a curious reporter type, I took a trip to Tiburon the other day to look at the lake.

THE ROAD TO Tiburon is very exciting. Apartments are popping up. Red Hill is falling down and roads are being shifted about.

Fireman Bob Wallermann gave me directions and I headed down the railroad tracks. There it was just like a picture. The water was calm. Tules stood straight all around, a red-winged blackbird shrieked "tching, tching."

In the swamp was an old tree, a white kitchen stove and a lumber yard full of boards, fine for rafts. No frogs.

Across the swamp was a yellow bulldozer filling in the water. Off in the distance was Red Hill with a tractor working feverishly on the slipping side.

I WENT BACK to the firehouse where Fire Chief Frank Buscher described the lake as "The Lagoon" and said he remembered every year when baseball players used to pump it out to play ball.

"I used to catch rubber lips there," said John Pastori, a visiting retired fireman.

"What are they?" I asked, and he said "Perch." He also rowed a boat on the swamp and caught crabs, he said.

Telephoning Frank Brooks, he explained he calls the swamp "Duck Pond." Brooks said "Thirty years ago we hunted ducks down there, first with sling shots and later was shotguns."

"We also played football in the water," Brooks continued, "choosing sides with Sausalito, Tam Valley and Ross. After the game, we ran down to the dock as Sam's and jumped overboard to get washed off." Brooks also made rafts, he said.

Owner Fred G. Zelinsky, who says he will have a store on the property by December, adds that the lake was originally about 10 acres but that he does not plan to fill it entirely.

"I am ggoing to follow the proposed draining district now being formed and will leave a ponding action," he said. He thinks of Main Street, Tiburon, as his hobby and thinks of his proposed Belvedere development in more of a commercial vein.

LATER I WENT to Musso's French Pastry Shop on Main Street. John Musso was mixing some pastry with his hands in a large, round metal bowl. Everything seemed to be standing still in his shop. It was great.

I told John I was with a newspaper and he said immediately "I don't want to advertise." I told John "I don't sell. I just want a story."

Then we talked a couple minutes and he told me he had just re-opened after being closed for a year and one-half. He seemed in no hurry.

And I said this is my kind of man—a slow sail boater, an easy-going pastry chef, a man who sits by the swamp to catch rubber lips.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

'Fishing Boats' Speed Castroism To Americas

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Russia is using a fleet of several hundred high-speed "fishing boats" to export Fidel Castro's Communist revolution to other Latin American countries.

These oceon-going trawlers, which can sail rings around the World War II naval vessels of neighboring Caribbean nations, are transporting arms and Red-trained guerrillas to Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Mexico, Guatemala and Brazil.

The "fishing boats" — constructed so they can be quickly converted for military use —have a carrying capacity of 150 to 250 passengers, or 300 to 550 gross tons of fish or arms. Their speed ranges up to 30 knots.

IN THE PAST six weeks, U.S. patrol vessels and aircraft have regularly sighted these Soviet trawlers making high-speed runs from Cuba to Mexico, concentrating on areas close to Guatemala and Venezuela.

Several of these powerful Russian "fishing boats" were spotted early this month unloading arms and men in an isolated cove of Margarita Island off the coast of Venezuela. The weapons and Communist-trained guerrillas were enroute to camps near Caracas, only an hour-and-a-half by air from Margarita.

Significantly, it was on Margarita Island that Simon Bolivar, famed South American patriot, proclaimed himself leader of the rebel army that ultimately overthrew Spanish rule.

THE U. S. CONSUL in Veracruz, Mexico, has informed the State Department that 30 Russian fishing vessels are operating in the Gulf of Mexico, making regular trips to Cuba and using Veracruz as a base for supplies.

Many of these "fishing boats" have the latest electronic gear—far in excess of that normally deemed necessary for fishing operations. The ships are manned by Soviet crews, but usually carry Cuban and other Spanish-speaking passengers.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, led by outgoing Chief of Naval Operations George Anderson, are so disturbed by this growing new Russian threat that they have quietly launched a drive inside the administration and Congress to induce President Kennedy and his policy-makers to take prompt and forceful counter measures.

The military commanders stress that despite the President's public pledge to Caribbean leaders at the recent Costa Rica conference to formulate plans to build a "wall of men" around Cuba, nothing has yet been lone to make this a firm policy.

It is pointed out that the U.S. Navy, the only force powerful enough to halt this expanding arms and guerrilla traffic, has not been committed to do that. The Navy has neither directives nor orders to take such urgently needed action.

NAVY OPERATIONS in Cuban waters are now strictly limited to the surveillance of Russian shipping. Even that is far from effective because of the immense area to be covered and the small number of ships assigned to the job.

In a private meeting with members of the House Military Appropriations Subcommittee, Admiral Anderson declared frankly it would take a large-scale naval blockade to halt the Communist traffic of guerrillas and arms from Cuba to other Latin American countries. He emphasizes this was his own opinion and not the administration's.

President Kennedy and his policy-makers have ruled out a blockade as the solution. Instead, they have embarked on a series of conferences with the threatened nations to determine what they can do to combat this intensifying menace to them.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You Must Trust Your Partner Even When He Is Acting Crazy

If you saw the president of your bank walking down the street on his hands, you might think he had suddenly gone crazy. If you are of the material that good bridge partners are made of, your reaction would be different.

You would say to yourself: "There must be a good reason for this, and it's up to me to work out that reason."

that your partner really is crazy and that if you tried to find a reason for his strange play you'd go crazy too.

Good defense is impossible unless each defender trusts his partner.

For Sheinwold's 36-page booklet, "A Pocket Guide to Bridge," send 50¢ to Bridge Book, Independent-Journal, P.O. Box 330, San Rafael.

Opening lead — ♠ A

West opened the ace of spades and continued with the deuce. East won the second spade and returned the three of hearts.

SOUTH WON

South won with the jack of hearts, led a trump to dummy's ace and returned the nine of diamonds from dummy. East stepped up with the king of diamonds and led the 10 of spades.

South followed suit with this third spade, and West discarded the deuce of clubs.

WRONG REACTION

East continued with another spade, but South could not be over-ruffed. Declarer drew trumps and ran the rest of the tricks to make the contract.

West had the wrong reaction when East made his strange heart play at the second trick.

Instead of thinking that East had gone crazy, West should have said to himself:

"WEIRD PLAY"

"That's a weird play. Why is my partner leading a heart? He must have a good reason, and I must work it out so that I know what he has in mind."

West would need only about one second to work out the reason for the shift to hearts. Having seen that East was trying to ruff, West would ruff the third round of spades to return a heart.

East would get his heart ruff, and South would go down.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 22, the 142nd day of 1963 with 223 to follow.

The moon is new. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1953, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the controversial Tidelands Oil Bill, guaranteeing coastal states the rights to all minerals in submerged lands within their historic boundaries.

In 1807, former Vice President Aaron Burr went on trial for "treason" in Richmond, Va. He was acquitted the following August.

A thought for the day:—Plato said: "Human nature cannot know the mystery of an art without experience."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Medical Profession Has Respect For Corticosteroid For Most Part

We can thank Dr. Philip S. Hench for his conviction that the reason arthritics improved during pregnancy or when jaundiced was because a special substance was produced in the adrenal glands in these conditions. This adrenal hormone, originally called compound E, was renamed cortisone. In 1948, when a small supply became available, Dr. Hench tried it on a patient with rheumatoid arthritis, and the results were unbelievable.

VAN DELLEN

Since then, chemists by juggling molecules, have come up with many synthetic corticosteroids which are used extensively in treating various diseases. Among the earlier products were ACTH, hydrocortisone, prednisone, and prednisolone. Since then, we have had desoxycorticosterone, fluorometholone, triamcinolone, and others, under numerous trade names. They vary in their ability to suppress inflammation and to alter metabolism. In addition, they differ in the duration of activity and in absorption from different sites such as the eye and skin.

THESE STEROIDS are of specific value when the adrenal glands become sluggish, leading to a variety of conditions such as Addison's disease. They are life-saving when the gland is subjected to overwhelming stress because of injury, burn, shock, or infection.

The products also are useful in treating maladies unrelated to the adrenals. The list includes rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic fever, bursits, bronchial asthma, and a variety of acute allergic and inflammatory eye conditions and acute and chronic skin disorders. In general, the good results are temporary except when the body cooperates by healing the defect while undergoing treatment.

THE MEDICAL profession has considerable respect for corticosteroids. Their continued usage is associated with many side reactions such as the tendency to accumulate fat, which leads to a buffalo hump at the neck, facial puffiness, acne, and the deposition of pigment in the skin and nails. Women may grow unwanted hair or lose scalp hair. The blood pressure may rise, diabetes often develops, and muscle weakness becomes disturbing. In some, there are more serious reactions. The majority of these symptoms disappear after the steroid is stopped.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if sttamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

SORE TONGUE

R.F. writes: We have a case of pellagra so bad the tongue is sore all the time. Is this disease contagious?

REPLY

No, but a common cause may exist since "we" are involved. Pellagra is due to a vitamin deficiency that is easily corrected with niacin and a well balanced diet. I assume the diagnosis is correct and there is no contagious infection of the tongue.

WANTS HARDER WORK

G.B. writes: Is it wise to take a job involving hard physical work after age 40? I feel my present job is too soft.

REPLY

Not if you are healthy. It may take time to make the adjustment but don't change simply because you have developed an obsession about the need for more exercise.

X-RAYS OF COLON

R.N. writes: If a patient has no complaints and eats well, how does the doctor determine whether he has diverticulosis?

REPLY

Through a barium X-ray of the intestine, as part of the routine annual physical check-up.

FLUORIDE FOR CHILDREN

A.M. writes: Will tablets containing fluoride retard cavities in children's teeth?

REPLY

Yes, so long as they are taken during childhood.

Scientist Says Man To Control Population Soon

BERKELEY (UPI) — Man will soon be able to control his numbers and after that the quality of the human population as well, Nobel Prize-winning chemist Melvin Calvin has predicted.

But the problem of how to use this unprecedented power will make the discovery of atomic fission seem "as prosaic as the invention of dynamite," the University of California professor of chemistry declared in a lecture here recently.

"Thousands of years gone, it was recognized that man could not live by bread alone," Doctor Calvin said. "It is essential that man consider, now, that need beyond physical survival, and beyond factual knowledge and beyond manipulation through knowledge."

Mountain Play Repeat Sunday

A repeat performance of the annual Tamalpais Mountain Play will be presented at 2 p.m. Sunday in the outdoor amphitheater near the crest of Mount Tamalpais.

The play is "Tamalpa," fictional legend of the mountain written and directed by Dan Totheroh. The first performance, last Sunday, played to a near-capacity audience in the 5,000-seat theater.

More than 100 colorfully costumed players and dancers take part in this, the golden anniversary production, pageant. The play has been presented annually, except for emergency years, ever since 1913.

Dr. Richard S. Hahn, president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., will address the Humboldt-Del Norte Tuberculosis and Health Assn.'s annual dinner meeting Friday in Eureka. Slides taken during his assignment on the ship "Hope" will illustrate his talk on "TB and Health Problems in Peru."

Drake High Will Present 3 Student-Directed Plays

The Drama Workshop and drama classes of Sir Francis Drake High School will present three student-directed one-act plays Friday at 8 p.m. in the school's Little Theater.

All drama classes are taught and supervised by Robert Johnson.

The second-period drama class will present a satire on an originally serious play, concerning a revolution in India. The name of their spoof is "I Love You Nell, and You're a Real Brick—But the Indians Are Rising, and I'm Going to Get Sick."

Another drama class will present the melodrama "Abner Crane From Hayseed Lane."

Seasoned members of the Drama Workshop will present "The Ugly Duckling" by A. A. Milne. This one-act play pokes fun at pre-arranged marriages, established traditions, and parents.

125 MARIN ARTISTS

Art Show Set At Center

More than 200 pictures including oils, watercolors and mural work by 125 Marin County artists will be on view tomorrow through Saturday in an annual Art Exhibit and Competition sponsored by merchants of the center with cooperation of the Marin Society of Artists.

Display of the creations will be throughout the mall of the center during all three days of the show.

Each art example will carry a price tag and may be had either at public sale or rental. Artists and members of the artist group will staff the outdoor display.

Many of the pictures have been moderately priced at such figures as $25, with some enamel on metal examples as low as $10 to $20, but some run beyond $200 to as high as $400.

First and second prizes will be awarded to outstanding entries, with the public casting the influencing votes. Categories in all media will be "realism" and "abstract."

Center of the show will be a feature termed both promising and exciting—a giant outdoor mural project staffed by Frank and Jane Bacher, noted by their art for children.

This mural, measuring four by eight feet, will be laid out in a sort of paint-by-numbers arrangement. Jars of various color paints and rows of brushes will be provided for the use of all interested and talented visiting children.

It is expected that the youngsters, perhaps aided by a few dabs by passing grown-ups, will have put the mural in complete form by the closing hours of the exhibit.

Frank and Jane hope to supervise to some extent the scope and distribution of the paints on the canvas. They expect to wind up displaying a huge colorful mural featuring horses, giraffes, lions and other representational animals.

After completion of the mural, the full four-by-eight surface is to be divided into various shapes for framing, each creating an unusual and colorful addition to a children's room or nursery.

More than a dozen of the finished originals will be awarded to children whose names will be drawn from a list of participants in the show.

A miniature layout of the design to be used was prepared several days ago and was given preliminary approval by some of the sponsoring retailers including Tony Munoz of the J. C. Penney Co., Bob Van Gutman of Montgomery Ward and Bob Perata of Smith's Clothiers.

Lottie McWatters, president of the Marin Society of Artists, showed the miniature with assistance from artists Jane and Frank Bacher.

All members of the society and staff have been busy in preparation. Florence Quinlan of the show staff put on a check-over review of the exhibit competition rules for the benefit of a group including Eva Kamp, who is in charge of rentals for the association; Dorothy Keyes, Winifred Koch and Shirley Murphy.

A wide variety of talented contributors will be represented in the show. Among those are Henry N. Rasmusen and Laura S. Devendorf, both Marin residents and members of the Marin Society of Artists.

Rasmusen was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, and from his school days onward was honored with scholarships and top standing in art competitions.

His later studies include private work with several well-known Utah artists, the American Academy and Art Institute of Chicago, the Design Workshop of New York, and years of successful personal development.

Rasmusen has had 12 one-man shows throughout the United States. His paintings are shown in numerous group exhibitions and are also represented in a variety of private collections. He is also an author on the subject of art and its forms.

Rasmusen's entry in the Corte Madera Center exhibit is an oil with the title "Powder Blue Landscape" which will be numbered 42.

Miss Devendorf was born in Savannah, Ga., and received her early art education at Telefair Academy of Arts and Sciences in Savannah and at the Atlanta Art Institute.

Her awards and honors include seven prizes, with two firsts, and a one-man show in juried competitions.

Miss Devendorf's other talents include professional positions as art director, set designer and scenic designer for theater, ballet, film and television productions.

She was formerly book reviewer and free-lance writer for the Savannah Morning News, writer-producer for a weekly public service television series, copy and promotion specialist with numerous radio and television stations.

Her entries in the Corte Madera Center competitions are "Spring," No. 21, and "Beach Song II," No. 22, both watercolors.

YOUNGSTERS WILL HELP—Members of the Marin Society of Artists here display a miniature layout to be used for a giant mural project for the Corte Madera Center where a paint-by-numbers project will be carried out with help of visiting children who are to complete the four-by-eight-foot mural. 41,000 Killed In Car Accidents

CHICAGO (UPI) — More than 41,000 persons were killed in auto accidents last year, reports the Journal of American Insurance. One and a half million persons were injured.

The death rate was higher than at any time since 1941, when 39,969 persons died in traffic accidents.

"Ultimately, motorists will pay the price for 1962's shameful road record," the journal predicts. "Inflated jury awards and other auto insurance cost factors combined with high accident rates press auto insurance rates up."

Insurance payments for auto accidents climbed to a record 3.8 billion dollars last year while economic losses from such accidents totaled more more than eight billion dollars, including lost worktime and other costs not fully compensated by insurance payments.

Color Of Hair? Officer Knows

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Norfolk's police traffic department claims that the hairdresser is not the only one who knows for sure.

Inspector Roxey Curles says he can "always spot a dye job." But he contends the color of hair should remain on drivers' licenses.

"The way I feel about it is that the license should show whatever color the good Lord gave you," said Curles.

But at least two states — Maine and New York—have agreed to drop the hair color question from drivers' licenses.

Speed For Tires

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—In testing its auto racing tires, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. has "driven" them at speeds of more than 600 miles an hour in its laboratory.

Space Scientists Keep Laughs Down To Earth

SUNNYVALE (UPI)—The scene is the huge Lockheed Missiles and Space Company plant.

A research scientist in microsystems electronics telephones a hydraulics specialist in space systems and says:

"Hello, Jingles, this is Rawco. Don't forget tonight. Remind Papo, Happy and Bilbo. We've got to do more work on the unicycle.

You might think this is some abstruse space jargon. Not at all.

It's a typical conversation among a half dozen Lockheed employees whose hobby is smearing themselves with grease paint, donning wigs and sporting outlandish costumes. They're members of the Clowns Club and they take part in Lockheed's recreation program.

With them, clowning is a serious affair—even to the extent that they always call each other by their clown names. Rawco said the clowns do not want personal publicity, but there is still another reason.

The Lockheed clowns have plenty to do, performing at hospitals and similar institutions, and at company affairs. They are so much in demand for these appearances that they do not want to be badgered—as they sometimes are—by requests to appear at children's birthday parties.

The club is open to wives and children. Papo's 3-year-old son has made a number of appearances with the Lockheed troupe. He goes by the name of Papo, Junior. And Papo's 14-year-old daughter joins in the fun sometimes.

At their meetings, the clowns work on the routines and the gadgets they use in their act. Right now, they are learning how to tie balloons into animal shapes.

"And we've been practicing on the unicycle," Rawco said. "Jingles and Papo Jr., are the best prospects for this. I've tried it but I'm too old.

"We're careful not to scare anyone, and we never lay hands on anyone. To kids, a clown is something special. He's not a person."

Rawco recalls when a youngster caught him removing his makeup.

"He turned to his mother and said in shocked tones, 'Why, he's a man, Mommy.'"

But Rawco said kids can try his patience at time.

"You really have to be on your guard. They step on your feet and put firecrackers in your pockets. One little monster once sneaked up behind me and belted me as hard as he could in the back with a baseball bat."

Still, clowning is less hazardous than aerial acrobatics, which Rawco once tried when he traveled with a circus one summer as a youngster. He was tossed back and forth between two catchers and was doing fine—until the day they said they were going to practice without the net.

"I lost interest right then," he said. "That's when the men are separated from the boys."

He Got Fast Hotel Service

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Timothy O'Brien awoke early in his hotel room and saw a prowler making off with his pants.

He picked up his telephone to the hotel desk and shouted:

"There's a marauder in my room."

The Seattle man was anxious over $88 in his pants. He was not prepared for the attention his call got, immediately.

The night clerk thought O'Brien said "murder."

Greetings For Shut-In Friend

BOSTON (UPI)—An enterprising greeting card dealer found a sympathy card for a customer who wanted to sen it to a friend who had just gone to jail.

Actually a convalescent card, it read:

"TO A SHUT-IN PAL:
I cannot grin my widest grin when I am out and you are in. But on the day when you come out my smile will rival yours, Old Scout!"

She Became Old Lady At 24

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The grand old lady of the Pacific is the Fleet Marine Service Force's oiler Cimarron.

She's the Navy's oldest ship in continuous service — she was 24 in March.

The Cimarron served in every major campaign in World War II and was active throughout the Korean War. During the Korean campaign alone, the Cimarron pumped 115 million gallons of fuel to U.S. Navy vessels.

She is due for rotation from the Seventh Fleet after another tour in Far East waters.

Pershing Launches

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Pershing missiles testfired here are launched from tank-like tracked vehicles similar to those which will transport the weapon for Army troops in the field. Pershing is an artillery missile capable of hitting targets up to 300 miles away.

Bomb Proof Plan For Airliners

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Irwin W. Ehlmann of suburban Hatboro has invented a device which he believes will eliminate explosions on airplanes caused by bombs concealed in baggage.

Ehlmann has received a patent for the apparatus which he calls Signal Net for Actuating Radio-sensitive Explosives (SNARE).

The device consists of a 30-foot bomb-proof chamber with a conveyor belt running through it. As baggage is carried through SNARE it is subjected to a strong exposure of radio frequency waves in varying wave lengths, designed to set off the explosive.

"It will be found," Ehlmann said, "that in all cases of explosives aboard airliners that a blasting cap arrangement was used. Dynamite is used because it is easily obtained and it is the most stable of explosives."

Dynamite, Ehlmann explained, must be detonated by impact.

"A blasting cap is the trigger mechanism, and the explosion of the cap in turn provides the impact that detonates the dynamite," he said. "Any other type fuse is impractical to use when enclosed in a piece of luggage."

Ehlmann said the radio frequency waves used to set off the dynamite in SNARE are shielded so they will not interfere with radio communications or electronic devices at air terminals.

Ehlmann has been associated with the airline industry for a number of years, beginning before World War II with Continental Air Lines in Denver. After the war he founded the Aviation Insurance Service in Denver.

"During my years in the business," he said, "I became acquainted with most of the flight crews for United and I already knew most of the senior men with Continental.

"On Nov. 1, 1955, Lee H. Hall was captain of the United flight that crashed at Longmont, Colo., when John Graham concealed dynamite in a suitcase carried on the plane.

"Lee Hall had been one of my clients and a good friend as well, and the incident spurred me to the extent of wondering why there could not be some means found of aborting further incidents of this nature.

"I read and studied everything that could be found on the subject of explosives for almost two and a half years and finally came up with the ideas that have since been incorporated in this patent."

The study, development and patenting of SNARE has taken five years, Ehlmann said.

The SNARE patent is number 3075461, issued on Jan. 29, 1963. Installation of each SNARE device would be less than $10,000, Ehlmann said.

Ehlmann, 43, is married and the father of two small children. He has lived in Pennsylvania for about eight years after having moved here from San Francisco.

Garbage Tells How You Live

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Despite a lack of silver-plated trash bins it's possible to pick out high-class garbage.

City Mgr. Arthur Owens claims just by looking at garbage you can tell if it comes from a better neighborhood.

The first test, according to Owens, is to look at the discarded magazines. Second, see if the canned and frozen food containers are the high priced kind.

But the real secret, Owens confides, is the brand on the whisky bottles.

Expert Helps Pakistan Livestock Breeders—And Molasses Is Key

KARACHI, Pakistan (UPI) — Pakistan livestock breeders and farmers may save a lot of money because an American animal nutrition expert likes molasses.

Burch Schneider, who teaches at the West Pakistan Agricultural University in Lyallpur under contract with Washington State University and the U.S. Aid Mission to Pakistan, discovered that 50,000 tons of molasses are dumped into rivers each year in Pakistan because sugar mill operations cannot find a market for it.

He estimates the wasted amount of this proven source of highly digestible energy could replace grain raised on more than 100,000 acres of farm land.

Schneider also learned through research that Pakistani livestock breeders are using expensive and scarce grains such as barley to feed their animals. In food-short areas, this competition between man and livestock for the available supply of cereals is a serious problem.

In fact in many areas of Pakistan it is necessary to import food grains to prevent near famine conditions.

The nutrition expert also found Pakistani farmers know very little about the value of molasses as an animal feed.

Schneider decided to do something about it.

He held demonstrations for farmers in the former Junjab area so they could see the value of molasses as an animal feed and learn how its use also could save valuable cereals for human consumption.

Schneider selected ten pairs of bullocks for his demonstrations.

For a period of 20 weeks one of each pair was fed a ration of barley while the other was fed a ration containing molasses.

At the end of the experiment the weight differences between the two groups was statistically insignificant.

What was significant, however, was the difference in the feed bills. Molasses can be delivered anywhere in West Pakistan in tank car lots for eight to twelve times less than barley.

Schneider was pleased with the results of his demonstration, and farmers and sugar mill operators share his enthusiasm. Farmers are interested in a cheap, nutritious animal feed. Sugar mills see a new source of income from a by-product previously thrown away. As sugar production increases, so will be output of molasses.

Tattoos Taboo In Connecticut

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)— Tattoos are taboo in Connecticut, even for sailors.

The state legislature approved recently a bill outlawing tattooing and in effect shuttering tattoo parlors near the U.S. Submarine Base at Groton.

From now on, tattoos can be applied only by a doctor or undera doctor's supervision.

NIGHT LIGHTS OF HAIFA GLITTER LIKE FIREFLIES

HAIFA, Israel (UPI)—For the tourist, the best time to arrive in Haifa is at night when the lights of Israel's major seaport on the Mediterranean glitter like thousands of fireflies.

It is then that the streets of the Hadar, or middle city, are crowded with shoppers, strollers, visitors and sailors speaking virtually every language in the world. Lights blaze in fashionable shops and colored signs flash on theater marquees or over restaurants, cafes and clubs.

Autos, taxis, buses inch along in traffic jams that remind the American tourist of New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Parking spaces are just as difficult to find.

A modern city by any comparison, Haifa is Israel's second largest city (population about 210,000). It sprawls in three levels over the slopes of Mt. Carmel which rises from the shores of one of the most beautiful and best natural harbors in the Middle East.

Haifa is a favorite port of call for cruise ships. It also is Israel's No. 1 commercial shipping and industrial center. In the port area—or "lower" city—are a giant silo, refineries, foundries, glass, textile and fertilizer plants and a big automobile assembly works.

Haifa boasts the only subway in all Israel, the Carmelite. Actually it is a two-train underground funicular-type railway that links the lower and middle districts of the city with the fashionable residential area atop Mt. Carmel.

Near the summit is the golden-domed Baha'i Shrine, set in a beautiful Persian garden. Atop the summit is the Carmelite monastery and the cave where tradition says the Prophet Elijah found refuge from the wrath of the King of Israel in Biblical days.

Also on the summit are many of Haifa's leading hotels and clubs. Newest—and highest—is the Dan Carmel with 250 air-conditioned rooms, restaurants, lounge and bar and an outside heated swimming pool. (Rates average about $15 daily per person, two in a room, including breakfast. There are more than 20 other hotels in Haifa with rates starting as low as $3 per day per person, double occupancy.)

On a clear day, from atop Mt. Carmel, the historic Crusader stronghold of Acre is clearly visible across the sparkling blue waters of the bay. It was the major prize for many conquerors of the ancient land of Palestine.

Today, it is a peaceful sleepy-looking community where Arab and Israeli fishermen mend nets or tend to their boats on the pebbly beaches.

There are numerous other mementos of Acre's past glory and importance in history. During the Crusades, it was the headquarters of the Order of the Knights of St. John and the capital of the Latin Kingdom in the Holy Land. Its fall signalled the end of Christian control of Palestine.

The Turks left their mark on Acre, too. The old city is dotted with slender graceful minarets and onion-shaped domes and other characteristics of old Turkish architecture.

A definite must for the visitor is a tour of the noisy Bazaar in the old city where Jews and Arabs buy and sell almost everything from fresh-caught fish to old ragged Eisenhower jackets.

Acre was an Arab city until the 1948 Palestine war. The old city is still predominantly Arab—with about 5,000 Christians, Arabs and Druzes living in the old stone houses along narrow, twisting streets and alleys.

Don't miss a visit to the club known as "The Walls of Acre" near the shore. It is inside the old Crusader wall over an ancient dungeon and is one of the most unusual entertainment spots in the country.

Also interesting is the adjoining walled square. In olden days, it was a favorite haunt for the men of the camel caravans which passed through Acre. Here the camels were rested while drivers ate, drank and sang.

AEC Fund Drive Is Big Success

TONOPAH, Nev. (AP) — The Mercury Employes and Boosters Assn. composed of workers and families stationed at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site, decided there was a need for reliable ambulance service in the vast Southern Nevada desert.

The fund drive for a regular ambulance service was more successful than members had hoped.

The association got enough to make arrangements for airplane ambulance service for communities throughout the isolated area.

All Space Costs Aren't Shot Into Thin Air

NEW YORK (UPI)—Space is a funny thing. To get there, about 40 cents of every dollar spent has to pay for things that aren't going anywhere at all—ground support equipment like the four-million dollar gantry for the United State's manned moon missile.

Some of the fascinating hardware the taxpayers' dollars are buying these days has been tracked down by Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute:

Insulated steel tanks that could keep boiling coffee too hot to drink for two years but are actually used to store liquid hydrogen—major rocket fuel—at 423 degrees below zero.

A multi-million dollar space simulator for testing vehicles in an atmosphere about one-billionth that here on earth at sea level, yet this is but a billionth the vacuum that exists in actual space!

Miniaturized steel ball bearings for instrumentation that are so small it takes 32,400 of them to make a pound and that pound would cost more than $162,000 though the special steel the bearings are made of costs about $2 a pound.

Little wonder that satellite launching costs are currently estimated to run $1,000 to $2,000 for each pound of payload in a 300-mile orbit.

Steelways says one of the most incredible aspects of the entire space effort is the demand made on human perfection: each of the rocket's component parts can have a reliability rating of 99.9995 yet when the thousands of components are joined resultant total reliability can be brought down as low as 50 per cent.

'Space Smog' Could Be Fatal To Astronauts, Scientist Claims

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—America's astronauts could die of "space smog," according to one of the nation's leading bio-astronautic scientists.

This chilling possibility was advanced by Dr. Thomas B. Weber, who said:

"A hightly-sealed capsule in outer space might be turned into a death chamber by a smog of contaminants emitted from the astronaut's own body."

He said these contaminants might become lethal during an extended period of time in the closed "trap-like" atmosphere of manned interplanetary probes and long-duration space stations. The more men in the spaceship, the more deadly it could become.

"This looms as possibly the most pressing problem we face in preparing for future deep space travel," Weber said.

"Space smog would be 100 times worse than the smog plaguing Los Angeles."

Weber said that whereas smog in the earth's atmosphere is continually circulated, a confined spaceship would surround man with "a hostile environment of a vacuum" that would breed a lethal concentration of "space smog."

On a long space trip, Weber said, a number of chemicals from the body such as methane, acetone and ammonia, "could tear up the liver or debabilitate the lungs." A lethal dosage of "space smog" could come from the astronaut's breath, saliva, sweat and other functions.

"As man enters space his bacteria will accompany him," the scientist said.

"For example, the skin bacteria could decompose many of the materials exuded through the skin and produce sizable amounts of such contaminants as organic acids.

"New unsuspected toxicants of high concentration probably would enter the spacecraft's atmosphere."

Weber said that, as of now, there are almost no original investigations to be found on toxic hazards in manned space environmental systems. What is needed first, he said, is identification of the contaminants and then a means of removing those that would cause trouble.

"I have been studying this crucial problem for six years and have so far found at least 400 different materials the human body gives off," he said. He added that 80 per cent of these possess a potention of being or becoming deadly.

"In the spacecraft's atmosphere they might not only accumulate, but could react with one another into a contaminant 100 times more toxic than either in its original state," Weber said.

Weber, a former U.S. Air Force scientist at the Aerospace Medical Center at Brooke Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., is one of the nation's few authorities on space toxicants. He recently became manager of bioastronautics for Beckman Instruments, Inc.

"Russia is way ahead of us in simulated space studies involving toxicants and our lack of experience in this field could be a major roadblock when we try to embark on manned flights to the planets," Weber said.

He said the seriousness of "space smog" has not yet arisen with astronauts because flights to date, such as those in Mercury capsules, have not been long enough for ill effects.

Two Witnesses For Fish Story

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Here's a fish story you may find a little hard to believe:

David Lindsey, 16, was rowing around man-made Silver Lake when a 5-pound, 19½-inch bass jumped into his lap.

"I nearly jumped out of the boat when the fish flopped in my lap," David said. "I didn't know what it was."

Though surprised, David was not half so shaken as an angler who was standing waist deep in the lake nearby. He had spent three luckless hours casting in the water.

When he saw the big bass jump into the boat he dropped his fly rod into the water.

Using Ben's Brooms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Broom Research Council estimates that more than 50 million corn brooms are sold each year or about one a household. Benjamin Franklin is credited with being the father of the corn broom industry.

Bread Baking Cost Is Most

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Most of the cost of a loaf of bread comes from the baking process, Kansas State University reports.

Mildred Walker, extension specialist, reported these figures based on U.S. Department of Agriculture information:

The distribution of costs on a one-pound loaf of bread selling for 20.9 cents was 2.9 cents to the wheat producer, 1 cent to the miller, 11.7 cents to baking, 3.8 cents to retailer and 1.5 cents for other costs such as transportation, taxes, insurance and storing.

After 32 Years, He Is Elected

CASTLE, Okla. (AP)—"After 32 years of unsuccessful campaigning for public office," says Everett Wyrick, "it gives a man a contented feeling to close out a winner.

Wyrick defeated Jimmy Dyer 27-18 for a city council seat in this year's city election.

It was his first victory after a series of political efforts, beginning in 1931, in which he lost four times in attempts for the sheriff's office, placed third in a three-man race for county commissioner and, in Castle's last city election race in 1948, lost a try for mayor by two votes.

Received Aid; Shows Thanks

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Public aid supervisor G. W. Killinger received an envelope containing $52 in small bills and a note signed "A.B.C."

The sender said he was returning public aid funds given to him by Killinger's predecessor, "a Mr. Hedden."

"He (Hedden) was good to me," the letter said. "Now, I can pay it back. Please put it back in the poor fund and acknowledge it in the Collinsville Herald. Thank you."

City editor Karl Monroe of the Herald acknowledged receipt of the $52 with a story.

Here Are Timely Tips For Traffic

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pedestrians should be seen and not hurt.

That's one of half a dozen "Tips for New Drivers" that local employes of the firm that makes the Swedish Volvo car came up with in a recent contest.

The others are:

1. Drive so that the only time you lose control of your car is when you forget to make payments.

2. Remember that people who live near railroad crossings seldom have to buy automobile parts.

3. An ounce of prevention should be added to every 10 gallons of gas.

4. When driving for recreation, don't change it to wreck-creation.

Bear in mind that a reckless driver is an accident going somewhere to happen.

FINGERS, WATCH THE FINGERS

An empty stomach and a long neck combined to make this camel strike the snake-like pose as it reached for straw offered by Charles Heichel, 9, one of nine wheel-chair patients who visited the Chicago Zoo recently. They were guests of kind-hearted cabbie Robert W. Tarr, who uses his cab on weekends to bring the handicapped youngsters to the zoo from west end schools. (UPI photo)

U. S., Russian Medics Are Praised

SEATTLE (UPI)—In the world race for scientific superiority, at least one branch of technology seems to have escaped the web of military security on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Dr. Robert L. Van Citters, a heart and blood vessel researcher at the University of Washington, said in an interview that no restrictions hinder the exchange of medical information between the United States and Russia.

After a three-month visit in Russia where he met and talked with many prominent physicians and scientists, Van Citters said he regards the Russian doctor as no less than his "medical colleague."

Likewise, he indicated the quality of American medicine is highly regarded by the Russians and they keep up with its progress.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "many Soviet physicians can read English very well, and their knowledge of American medical developments is generally better than our knowledge of Soviet advances in this field."

Van Citters said Russian medical libraries carry up-to-date issues of all major medical journals published in the United States.

In this country, Russian medical publications are available only in the larger libraries and are usually at least six months old or older, he said.

He also was permitted to visit and study the activities at several heart research institutes and observe a number of Russian heart-lung teams in action.

Van Citters said the Russians openly profess their admiration for American achievements in the field of heart disease. Most of the Soviet open-heart surgery teams were trained in the techniques of heart-lung surgery in U.S. hospitals, he said.

Soviet scientists, on the other hand, have developed a method for splicing blood vessels during surgery by means of a stapling device which has gained the respectful attention of American physicians, Van Citters said.

In the older techniques, the severend ends of blood vessels were tediously stitched together, a process sometimes requiring as much as two hours. Time often spells the difference between success and failure in open-heart surgery, he said.

American surgeons are following up on the procedure, Van Citters said, and at least one American firm has begun to produce the stapling device.

Head Of Park Builds Mountain

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Frederic Heutte is proud of his "mountain."

It's only 65-feet high, but he built it himself.

Heutte, superintendent of Norfolk's parks, built his mountain in the Botanical Gardens.

A 20-foot tower surmounts the mountain for a good view of the gardens.

ROME IS SLOWLY BEING MUTILATED

ROME (UPI)—This great and beautiful city, with treasures of art and history that are unique in the world, is slowly being mutilated.

Some of its palaces and parks are being sold to foreign interests. Some of its ancient ruins are being encroached upon by modern buildings. Much of its landscape is being defaced by commercial projects.

To some people, this is a sad and shocking thing. To the majority of Romans, it seems to be a matter of no concern whatever.

The process has been going on, of course, since the barbarians sacked Rome as long as 16 centuries ago, carrying away many of its treasures and destroying others.

Medieval Popes and princes continued it, stripping the Colosseum of its marble and stone and tearing down great pagan buildings to erect churches and palaces in their place.

In the 20th century, dictator Benito Mussolini ruthlessly tore down old buildings and sealed over ancient ruins to build broad avenues from Piaza Venezia to the Colosseum and from the Tiber River to St. Peter's Basilica.

The park of the Villa Strohlfern, said to be one of the city's most beautiful, is closed off to Romans behind high walls because it belongs to the French academy.

The Doria-Pamphili Palace, one of the great architectural masterpieces that ring Piazza Navona, has been sold to Brazil and is used as its embassy.

The park of the Villa Abamelek cannot be visited because it is part of the Russian Embassy grounds.

Mote Mario, a long, green hill that encloses the city to the northwest, isn't going to present a green and uncluttered face much longer. An American-built hotel and apartment buildings are taking it over.

New buildings are gradually defacing two of the most famous roads in the world, the ancient Appian and Aurelian Ways.

One of the city's best museums has been moved out of the historic old center of Rome, and transplanted to a tasteless modern building in a remote section built by Mussolini.

On top of all this, three recent developments have brought indignation and protest from the Italian press.

First was the news that a modern religious institute was being built on the Caelian Hill, almost within the shadow of the Colosseum and other ancient monuments.

Then came word that another Doria-Pamphili palace, this one on the Janiculum Hill, was about to be sold to Belgium.

And finally a real estate firm advertised the Poli Palace, against which the famed Trevi Fountain is built, for sale as an embassy, hotel or other commercial building, leading one Rome newspaper to ask: "When are they going to sell the Colosseum?"

But the Roman people, who characteristically get excited about almost nothing, have not rushed forward to man the barricades.

MEMPHIS (AP)—Mrs. Elsie Jones assigned her second grade class to a creative writing project.

"Oh, you know. Like once oponta time."

Living Standards Due 100% Jump In Next 40 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Current and past economic trends indicate the average U.S. consumer's standard of living should rise by about 100 per cent the next 40 years.

By the year 2000, the average breadwinner will be bringing home a pay check ranging from $10,000 to $12,000 per year, nearly double the present figure, according to a study.

Mr. Average Consumer also is expected to be spending more of it on the so-called luxuries—or at least what we classify as luxuries today.

These forecasts all are part of a voluminous report by Resources for the Future Inc. (RFF) — a foundation which spent five years studying past economic history to get a clue of what life would be like in the year 2000.

The report said the present $5,000-a-year average salary would shoot up to $7,500 in 20 years, and then hit at least $10,000 by the year 2000.

Generally, forecasters base this on the belief that the U.S. economy will discover more efficient ways of doing things at less cost in the years ahead.

They expect the value of goods and services produced to rise faster than the population, in effect giving each worker a larger share of this total national income.

"This means," the report said, "that the typical household will be able to afford a standard of living by 1980 enjoyed now by only the highest 20 per cent and, by the end of the century, will be at levels now considered quite well-to-do."

RFF researchers pointed out that in recent years the consumer is spending less of his income for day-to-day necessities such as food, shelter and clothing. This is a natural result of fast-rising incomes.

The reason is that each person can just eat so much and wear only a certain amount of clothing. As his income rises, he begins using a larger portion for items normally not considered necessities.

As one economist put it: "When a man makes more money, he can't use it to eat five times as much food but he can buy himself five television sets."

Economists do not expect this rising tide of consumer expenditures in the next 40 years to result in an era where there is a television in every room.

More likely it will take some more conventional channel such as a big increase in two- and three-car families and more families with two homes.

The report said personal consumption expenditures have been rising at a 1 per cent annual clip for each person for the past 30 years.

It said this figure should be stepped up to about 2 per cent by the end of the century.

"What this 2 per cent growth rate means for the average consumer is an increase in standard of living of almost 50 per cent in the next 50 years, and more than doubling by the end of the century," the report stated.

The RFF study said food, clothing and shelter will still hold top priority in the family budget but will be taking a progressively smaller bite during the years ahead.

It said that of these three, clothing costs probably will shrink the fastest because revolutionary changes in apparel fiber use and durability has been making it cheaper for consumers to maintain an adequate wardrobe.

Writing More Now

NEW YORK (AP) — Paper consumption is on the rise: Consumption has climbed to 435 pounds a year for every man, woman and child in the country. Back in 1899 the average was 58 pounds a person.
